

Monmouth University Department of English Fall 2020 M.A. Coffee Hours

Please join us for Coffee Hour hosted by graduate faculty members in the department of English. This Fall 2020 semester, we are featuring three graduate faculty professors. Join them to discuss their research, publications, and teaching.

September 26, 3:00-4:00 PM via Zoom

Dr. Heide Estes, Professor of English, professional interests include Old and Middle English language, literature and culture, with interest in gender theory and ecocriticism.

October 14, 3:00-4:00 PM via Zoom

Dr. Kenneth Womack, Professor of English, professional interests include the Beatles, 20th-century British literature, and creative writing.

November 18, 1:00-2:00 PM via Zoom

Mihaela Moscaliuc, Associate Professor of English, professional interests include world literature, American immigration and ethnic literature, creative writing (poetry), Romani (Gypsy) studies, narrative medicine, and translation theory & practice.

December, TBA via Zoom

Dr. Patrick Love, Assistant Professor of English, professional interests include rhetoric and composition theory, professional and technical communication, digital rhetoric, data rhetoric, online writing instruction, and writing program administration.

Please RSVP to Michele McBride to receive a Zoom link
mmcbride@monmouth.edu