

THE INTERDISCIPLINARY CONFERENCE ON RACE:

Researching and Teaching on Race

NOVEMBER 12, 2021 | VIRTUAL

REGISTRATION & DETAILS: BIT.LY/MURACECONF

8:30: Panel: Equity, Standard English, and Writing Instruction

Courtney Werner, Linda Sacks, Lynn Kraemer-Siracusa, Noel Belinski

10:05: Panel: Politics and Social Change

Katherine Parkin: Black Women and WONAAC: Abortion Rights, 1971-1973

Julius Adekunle: Unforgettable African Women of Power

Justin Montana: Rebellion on the 4th of July

Rajnarind Kaur: Declaration of a Revolution

11:40: Panel: Praxis and Advocacy

Anne C. Deepak and Ralph Cuseglio: Advancing Anti-racism at the School of Social Work: The Story of Growing Together as Allies

Ryan J. Eckert and Katie M. Sorochka: COVID-19, Virtual Learning, and the Equity Gap: What Happens Next?

Melissa A. Alvaré: Clinging to Culture: The Limitations of Culture-Focused Teacher Training to Confront Racial Inequities in Schools

Syed Hassan Abidi: Understanding migrants from the lens of news media discourse

1:15: Panel: Language, Arts, and Culture

Aaron Furgason: When House Music met Hip Hop

Christopher Bogart: This Conversation

Heide Estes: Gender, Disability and Jews in Old English Poetry

Annie Humphrey: Fragmentary Annals of Ireland 330: The Norse in Mauretania

Richard Scherl: Race vs Nationality: A Look at the Semiotic Construction of Two Different but Intertwined Imagined Communities

2:50: Participant Roundtable and Reflection

Moderated by Rekha Datta

MONMOUTH
UNIVERSITY

HISTORY and ANTHROPOLOGY