

BOOK ENDS

E. Malone

FOOTNOTE FOR AMERICANS

The tender-tough have hearts like two-edged steel;
 Swift into wrath they swing at sight of wrong.
 The tender-tough know words whip-sharp and strong,
 To sting the sneaking hand, the laggard heel.
 They shed no tears. Their proud thighs never kneel.
 Their stride pounds out a stubborn marching song
 That draws behind a trusting weaker throng
 Who know what strength sustains each great sword's wheel.

The tender-tough match sturdy brain with hand;
 Their monuments rise high in windowed stone;
 Their trails run plain on sea and air and land;
 They claim the earth's abundance for their own;
 Not quick to sense unrighteousness, they stand
 All against evil, unafraid, alone.

Frances Hall

REGRETS

Oh, what a lovely world 'twould be,
 And, folks, I don't mean maybe,
 If Mamma Schickelgruber
 Had never had a baby.

Jennie M. Palen

RETURN

Had not thought, in such a slender space,
 That anything could change so much as home,
 When I returned the other day. Ma's face
 Was older; and her hair was like the foam
 Waters stacked against an old floodgate,
 Hoarding past rains against the summer drought.
 All these years I had not stooped to fate
 Or thought that time could keep the bygone out.

There was no romping in the fields each night
 Or wading in the branch until the cows
 Came marching down across the losing light;
 Quietly we sat—straight, tall, and—
 Making vows
 That we should all return again someday,
 Mother, Dad, and youngsters—home to stay.

John Robert Quinn

Here "Between the Book Ends" on page 28

"SAILFISH ON THE CENTER LINE!"

Captain Harold Andrews, Skipper of the Riptide, deep-sea fishing yacht, stalks the Gulf Stream off the coast of Florida coaxing the big ones to rise to the baits skipping along the water off the stern. When a coveted "sail" or blue marlin strikes, Captain Andrews springs into action . . . manoeuvring the boat . . . shouting instructions . . . directing the crew until the prize is safely aboard, and another "catch" pennant goes up on the outrigger.

He's a "Self-Starters" Keeping tackle and gear in first class condition keeps Captain Andrews busy every minute ashore. He says: "I've got to be wide-awake all the time to get charter business for our boat. For my money, there's nothing to help start you off right like Kellogg's Corn Flakes with fruit and milk. Boy!—there's a dish! Economical, too, because the price of Kellogg's Corn Flakes hasn't gone up."

The "Self-Starters Breakfast" A big bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with some fruit and lots of milk. It gives you VITAMINS, MINERALS, PROTEINS, FOOD-ENERGY, plus the famous FLAVOR of Kellogg's Corn Flakes that tastes so good it sharpens your appetite, makes you want to eat. Hits the spot for lunch, supper, bedtime, too. Also ask for it in hotels, restaurants, dining cars.

Every Kellogg cereal is made of WHOLE GRAIN or is now being restored to WHOLE GRAIN VITAMIN B, value