

Expert cook of Brattleboro, Vermont, is active in local Grange

Vermont Secretary Takes Top Honors in State Grange Cooking Competition

The check Miss Blanche C. Carpenter holds is the first prize she won last fall in a Vermont State Grange cooking contest . . . she qualified for the state competition by winning first prizes at her local Grange in Dummerston Center, and the Windham County Grange.

Miss Carpenter, a secretary by profession, makes cooking her spare-time hobby. And she always uses Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast!

"It always rises fast," she says. "And it's so easy to use!"

5000 prize-winning cooks have been asked what yeast they like best—and 97% prefer Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. It's more convenient than old-style cake yeast—keeps for months on the pantry shelf. Now when you bake at home, it's easy to use yeast. But use the best . . . look for the Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast label.

Ad # 384R

1-4 page
New England Homestead—April 11, 1953
P. O. 4495-R