

57.D

Cooking has been his hobby since age nine

Teen-age Boy Wins Three Awards In County Fair Cooking Competition

Fourteen-year-old Donald Miller and his 92-year-old grandfather get together for a good look at Donald's cooking awards. He's been winning contests for two years now, and just last year won three top awards at the Mower County Fair.

Donald, who lives in Austin, Minnesota, does plenty of cooking for the family, and naturally knows a lot about cooking ingredients. That's why he uses Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast for his yeast-raised dishes. "It's easy to use," he says. "And sure does rise in a hurry."

These crisp fall days call for yeast-raised specialties. And you'll find them easier to serve when you have Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast on your shelf . . . it's the very best. This dry yeast keeps for months so it's always ready to use. And it's easy to dissolve. Just remember to use warm . . . not hot . . . water. When you bake at home use Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast as prize-winning cooks do. And try the new "Yeast-Riz" Main Dishes made with Fleischmann's. There's a recipe on every "Thrifty Three."

Another Fine Product of Standard Brands Inc.

Ad #150

This advertisement appears in
1-4 Page
The Farmer—October 19, 1957
P. O. 5444

Thirteen-year-old wins cooking competition for second year

Teen-age Boy From Mayetta, Kansas Wins Cooking Awards at Two Fairs

These brothers agree that fellows have lots of things they like to do—and sometimes their hobbies are surprising. As Richard Bone (left) and Ronnie (right) can tell you, brother Robert not only likes baseball and model planes, but also likes to cook and to enter cooking contests. He's holding the four ribbons he won last year—at the Jackson County and Kansas Free Fairs.

It's no surprise to Robert's family that he's a prize-winning cook . . . they often enjoy his special dishes. And whether cooking at home or for contests, Robert uses Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast for yeast-raised specialties. "It's easy to use," he says. "And I sure do like the way it rises so fast."

Crisp fall days call for yeast-raised specialties. And you'll find them easier to serve when you have Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast on your shelf. This dry yeast keeps for months—always ready. And it's easy to dissolve. Just remember to use warm . . . not hot . . . water. When you bake at home use Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast as prize-winning cooks do. And try the "Yeast-Riz" Main Dishes. There's a recipe on every "Thrifty Three."

Another Fine Product of Standard Brands Inc.

Ad #154

This advertisement appears in
1-4 Page
Kansas Farmer—October 19, 1957
P. O. 5448