

S REVOLUTION ARAB WORLD

ued from Page 12)

as where, have proved
 mo by festivals, expo-
 winsome begging.
 standards, progress in edu-
 From Arabic standards it compulsory primary educa-en from six to twelve has a law. It is not yet estab-
 for there are simply not teachers. But the demand speeded women's demand higher education and cre-port for it. It is also, now, 1924 there was not a single or girls in the Arab world.
 lary education is open to hough only about a third oys take it, their number as women illustrate their rished careers.
 of Cairo was opened to
 today one meets women profession—women law-
 nurses, journalists, ex-
 professors, and even engiul woman, Mme. Amina
 r of two children, and a of the great Mme. Char-ne with the modern title nd is on the staff of five very successful publisher
 is Mme. Doria Shafik, referred to as the Clare Middle East. She is very
 or lossy magazine,
 ou in French, and
 pear in English—most n speak one or both of s devoted to art, fash-
 d modern movements,
 nd illustrated. She also
 me magazine in Arabic,
 household advice, psy-
 and correspondence—
 and answered by the
 agazine is called Bent he Nile), and around it ement has sprung up
 rs, to bringing special
 the divorce laws, since d that this matter is concerning Arabian
 And she publishes a iled Chicks.

still stands. A man will. A woman can
 on proved charges—
 or some forms of
 s the divorced woman
 d, indeed, in Islamic many securities that
 . The husband must
 erty settlement and
 he children for two ren reach the age of
 go to the father, in
 patriarchal society.
 mp to have four
 ou many is dy-
 changing views and
 And, incidentally,
 against adultery
 deserts of Saudi
 of this world."
 ick, but again,
 on. Ben...

Don't put off till Mañana

—the treat you can enjoy tonight

NIBLETS
BRAND
Mexicorn

Say, Señora, let's have fun for dinner tonight. Serve something simple that looks like a party, tastes like a party, and is ready to serve in the click of a castanet.

It's Niblets Brand Mexicorn! The USA's favorite corn (Niblets Brand) with a south-of-the-border flavor accent (sweet red and green peppers added). Tender, gay and colorful. Let your grocer fill your sombrero with cans . . . and serve this tender treat tonight!