extraordinaire, liked our double-decker pizza filled with sweet Italian sausage and Swiss cheese so well he ate three. (Not surprising; pizza is his hands-down favorite food!) Mike plays in two groups, haunts the Fillmore East in New York, his hometown. Possible college major: drama. "My big role to date: Macduff in Macbeth"

enjoys a pizza after a swim meet or a dance." Last summer he doubled up: was lifeguard at one place (one rescue), coached swimming at another. His pizza: full of salami, green pepper and onions—light and low in calories. Aspiration: "Maybe teaching. I like working with kids"

MOST INTELLECTUAL

John Buchanan, 18, Princeton freshman and Presidential scholar, favors exotic flavors. He demanded—and got—more garlic in his combination of all-American cheese and hamburger. This Sewickley, Pennsylvania boy digs architecture, art, artichokes, dislikes "too-smart" girls. Best pizza: ten P.M.
