

How Do You Rate On A Date?

- Q. Do you keep him waiting?
A. Primp as long as you like, but not on his time, please. Of course you realize that tardiness is a form of discourtesy. So be gay—be lovely—be prompt!
- Q. How do you behave at the party?
A. You can have a whirl with all the boys—without, however, ignoring your own date. He wants you to be popular yet still remember to pay special attention to the guy who brought you!
- Q. Know the secret of feeding after-party guests in a hurry?
A. When everyone's hungry like a wolf, try these fast and filling Chili Dogs: Combine 1 can meaty-rich Heinz Chili Soup with Beef with  $\frac{1}{2}$  can water. Heat. Spoon over frankfurters in buns. Enough for 6 servings . . . Follow instructions on the label of rich, velvety Heinz Cheese Soup for a smooth, easy Welsh Rarebit. Or make a fast, delicious cheeseburger by spooning hot, undiluted Heinz Cheese Soup on open-faced hamburgers.
- P.S.—All Heinz Condensed Soups are great!

How Do You Rate On Manners?

- Q. Have you chronic telephonitis?
A. Unless you are blessed with your own personal phone, bear in mind that Mr. A. G. Bell's gadget is a family affair. You won't want to monopolize it, because good manners, like charity, begin at home.
- Q. Are you careless about your table manners?
A. Watch your manners, gals (somebody always is!). People largely judge your background and training by your table etiquette. And naturally you'll remember to avoid expressing dislike for certain foods, as well as praising your hostess too effusively.
- Q. Do you know how to feed last-minute guests?
A. Greatest little grocery-stretchers ever are Heinz Condensed Soups! When there are "extras" for Saturday lunch or Sunday brunch, try this delicious new Pinto Scramble: Beat 6 eggs well, add undiluted contents of one can of Heinz Bean Soup, dash pepper. Melt 1 Tbs. butter in skillet, pour in egg-bean soup mixture, cook to desired consistency. (Makes 4 to 6 servings.) Or make a luscious Italian Scramble by using Heinz Minestrone Soup.
- P.S.—Good cooks use Heinz Condensed Soups as sauces and in casserole combinations, too!
