

ave their heads in the sand. The is sick right now and I have to say in part of that sickness. I often id to stay in pastors' homes and eyes talk to me. Some pastors are nosed about submission and in- e to their wives' needs that they recognize the frustration—even within their own households. are going to be shocked to boat."

Anita finally asked Bob for a eparation last January, he refused. d. "If you want to leave, you can she says. "What I did not realize he had a plan to stop me."

believes Bob Green sought to ntrol over her by conspiring with o discredit her publicly. By this e Greens' marital problems were with the operation of their grow- updatons. Ambitious mail-cam- ad brought in million-dollar sur- and their fundamentalist marriage or, B. Larry Coy, was beginning to role in their business as well as e lives—completing what Anita "devil's triangle" that triggered a ally self-righteous conspiracy" to "I soon realized that he was in er's seat at the ministries, in con- wo people's lives and millions of she says. "I tried to fire him, but d good."

stent with fundamentalist teach- e marriage counselor-turned-ex- was counseling Anita to submit to and's will. But she was also faced nagging suspicion that both men ore concerned about the future of dations than her marriage. Anita eke? when she learned that "Bob ng phone calls for Coy: I said, rget ABM, forget PAC, forget ev- else. What happens if it comes e just you and me? What then? er had an answer because the was that all those other things had ore important than I was."

Climax reached natter came to a climax when a board of directors meeting was ABM's Florida offices on May 16. night before," recalls Anita. "Bob d a big fight. I phoned Larry Coy ged him to get Bob out of the ur relationship was so bad, I said, out-and-out lie. I assured him I want to go public—I'd keep it ut I would get a court order to ror a divorce if I had to, otherwise ng to wind up with a heart attack." e next morning's special directors Anita was formally confronted rges. "It was a setup," she in- nching her fists. "It was amazing they accused me of, like a bunch ghteous Pharisees. They had al-

that if I did not submit to my husband they would have me 'excommunicated.' Larry Coy even repeated my phone call saying, 'Anita told me last night she was going to get a divorce—openly. Now, Anita, do you have scriptural grounds for divorce?'" (To some fundamentalists this means desertion or adultery.)

Anita continues, a hurt but defiant tone coming into her voice, "I told them its nobody's business. I'm not going to do to Bob what he's doing to me."

The bitter meeting came to an end with exhortations for Anita to "please repent" and "renounce her wicked intents" or she would be disciplined. (Noting that doubted Anita had "ever met the Lord.") Shocked and humiliated, Anita slowly rose to her feet and gave her husband a long, hard look. "I knew then the depths of his contempt and vengeance," she recalls. "So I said to them, 'Good luck with the Bob Green Ministries' and walked out the door.

"I wanted to run," she exclaims, "just pick up my kids, take off and do you-know-what to everybody. They thought they could get me under their thumb, that I had such a responsibility to my 'righteous-leader' image, they thought that I would stay in that marriage. Well, I just couldn't hack it." (continued)

To you, it's bran. To your family, it's delicious.

It's HoneyBran cereal from Ralston for the high fiber you want for your family. A touch of honey and a remarkable crispiness make it so delicious they'll love it every morning! Every day!

 Ralston Foods Company, Inc.