Frequently Asked Questions:

What is a Form I-20?

A Form I-20 is a government form on which Monmouth University certifies to the U.S. government that you are eligible to receive an F-1 visa. It certifies that you:

- Are going to be an enrolled full-time student, pursuing a Bachelor's or a Master's degree.
- Have satisfied all admission requirements and been accepted to Monmouth University.
- Have proven that you have sufficient financial support to study and live in the U.S. for the duration of your course of study.

Does everyone need an I-20?

No, some international students do not need an I-20. If you are maintaining another non-immigrant status in the U.S., you do not need an I-20 and may attend school full time or part time. Dependent children in E, F, H, I, J, L, M, N, O P, R or S status need to change their status after their 21st birthday, or after they marry. If you change your program of study, you will have to apply for a new I-20 during your attendance at Monmouth University. If you have no legal status or are out of status, please contact the Global Education Office at geo@monmouth.edu.

Additional Information

Important Details for Providing Financial Information

In order to receive a Form I-20 from Monmouth University, you must prove that you have enough financial support to cover all of your academic and living costs for the duration of your program. Students and their families must look closely at the costs of living in the U.S., and at Monmouth University in particular, and make careful financial plans. Please consider these key points:

Estimate that you will need four (4) years to complete a Bachelor's degree and two (2) years to complete a Master's degree. You may estimate your annual costs here:

- Undergraduate: <https://www.monmouth.edu/international-students/>
- Graduate: <https://www.monmouth.edu/international-students/graduate/cost-and-financial-support/>

Scholarships: Although part of your funding may come from a scholarship, Monmouth University scholarships will not cover all of your costs.

U.S. Employment: Do not expect that you will be able to work in the U.S. to help meet your annual costs. The U.S. government strictly controls off-campus employment, and the number of on-campus part-time jobs is limited, thus making the hiring process competitive for all students.

Financial Documents: All financial documents must be less than six (6) months old and translated by an accredited evaluation agency into English. We cannot review any document in another language. Please send scanned copies or photocopies. You will need the original copies of these financial documents to take to the Embassy or Consulate for your visa appointment. You must provide documents that will convince both Monmouth University and the U.S. government that you have:

- Cash (in the form of a bank statement) to cover academic and living expenses for your first year in the U.S.
- Sufficient and dependable financial resources to cover every additional year. Your financial support may come from any combination of sources: your own funds and/or sponsor(s) funds or pledges of support.

Information Regarding Affidavit of Financial Support and Financial Documentation

If you have one or more sponsors able to provide you with financial support, you will need to submit an Affidavit of Financial Support for each individual sponsor. It is highly recommended that some of your financial support come from your home country. Each sponsor must sign an Affidavit of Financial Support specifying the U.S. dollar amount of financial support you will receive. Affidavits of support must be notarized.

Sponsor Financial Documents: Each sponsor providing cash support must supply documentation to prove financial responsibility and soundness. Without these documents, their support will not be considered. The most common reason for rejection of financial documents is that the sponsor has pledged more support than his/her income would reasonably allow. A sponsor should promise only as much money as he or she is reasonably able to give. Each sponsor must provide one of the following:

- Proof of Income: Examples include: pay statement, employment letter or tax statement. If your sponsor is self-employed, he/she may send a statement from his/her accountant or lawyer, which estimates annual income.
- Bank Statements: Statements must be dated within six (6) months of the beginning of your degree program.

Information Regarding Free Room & Board Affidavit

If you have a sponsor that is willing to give you free room and board (locally) during your time at Monmouth, this may be counted as part of your support. A sponsor providing free room and board within commuting distance to Monmouth University is someone who does not charge you for rent or food. This type of sponsor must also prove that they can provide these services, as they have a cash value and count as financial support in the U.S. Sponsor must provide:

- Lease, Property Tax Statement, or Rent Receipts: These prove that housing is available to you.
- Proof of Income: Pay stub, employment letter or accountant/lawyer statement for self-employed sponsors.

Room and board provided by sponsors must be equal in value to the living expenses listed for tuition and fees at Monmouth University.

PART IV: Costs and Sources of Funding

Undergraduate programs require at least 4 years of study and most graduate programs are completed in 2 years. United States federal immigration regulations require the University to certify that you have enough money for your studies. Therefore, you are required to send the University evidence that the necessary funds are available for your education. Please refer to the Undergraduate or Graduate link for the current annual funding requirements:

www.monmouth.edu/international-students/graduate/cost-and-financial-support/

You are required to certify sufficient funds for at least 1 year of study and to provide a financial plan which identifies the resources that will be available to you for subsequent years of study. Be sure to indicate the full amount of funds you have available to support your education. A Monmouth University Academic Excellence Scholarship, Athletic Scholarship or Graduate fellowship can count towards your financial support if you are eligible, as can room and board provided by a sponsor in the Monmouth University area. Students sponsored by an employer must submit a formal letter of support on letterhead specifying the amount of funding and the currency used.

PART V: Your Statement of Financial Support and Financial Plan

Please check off your means of support below and indicate how much will be provided or available to you each year. Sponsors must provide documentation that their funding pledge can be honored. You are only required to submit the type of document relevant to your funding situation. If you are not receiving free room and board locally you do not have to submit information about this.

Remember that funding for at least 1 year must be demonstrated through your own or a sponsor's cash funds reflected in a bank statement. Real estate or property cannot be used as financial support.
