MARJORIE K. UNTERBERG SCHOOL OF NURSING AND HEALTH STUDIES

Notes on Nursing

"I not only use all the brains that I have, but all that I can borrow".

Marilyn M. Lauria, R.N., Ed.D.

We hear a lot about the nursing shortage these days. It's a topic that receives a great deal of media attention. Recently I was pleased to read that the public awareness of the professional nurse goes beyond staffing shortages. In a survey conducted by the Gallup Organization, respondents were asked to rate the honesty and ethics of 21 professions. The results were reported in The Orlando Business Journal in December and nurses were ranked number one by 79% of the respondents! It is nice to know that occasionally we are appreciated for what we do!!

Once again I am happy to report that the enrollment in the School of Nursing and Health Studies continues to grow. We welcome 33 additional graduate students this spring semester. Health Studies continues to be very popular, with each class offered this semester filled to capacity! While the influx of students is positive, planning for increased enrollment is a (growing) challenge. We make an effort to plan classes that meet the professional and academic needs of our students and we ask current students to assist us in the process. What can you do? Speak with your advisor before Spring break and register as soon as your schedule permits. You can register yourself on the web. At this time you will be able to register for the summer, fall and spring semester. This will allow us to plan for additional classes if needed.

We have started the on-line Forensic Nursing Certificate program; the first course was completed this past fall. This semester an on-line section of Inter-personal Violence is in progress. The SANE course, which is part of the Forensic requirements, was held as a Continuing Education class during January. We have scheduled another SANE class in June. Please see the insert of our Continuing Education programs for more details about this and the other classes that we will offer.

As I mentioned in the last newsletter, we are preparing for a site visit from the CCNE for re-accreditation of the BSN & MSN programs. The faculty and staff are working on the self-study report. We want to thank all who took the time to respond to our recent alumni survey. The information that you provided will be helpful in our analysis. We may call upon some students and alumni for your additional input into this process.

Please check The Monmouth University website www.Monmouth.edu for news, upcoming programs, job postings and re-accreditation news.

Weather Information - Questions about University Closing? The number for the Emergency Weather Hotline: (732) 263-5900. We are aware that many of our students travel a distance; if your class is cancelled we will make every attempt to email all students - please check your Monmouth University email account.

Welcome to Professor Marianne Darden

The School of Nursing and Health Studies welcomes Professor Marianne Darden. Marianne received her BSN from Catholic University in 1970. She went on to complete a MSN in Nursing Administration at Syracuse University in 1982 and a second Masters degree in Management from Salve Regina University, Newport, RI.

Ms. Darden holds several distinctions. She attended Catholic University along with Monmouth University's President Paul Gaffney and she has 30 years clinical experience in Army Nursing where she obtained the rank of Colonel. She is a War College graduate and is very proud of this achievement. Marianne made the observation that her military experience broadened her knowledge in many areas and through this experience she obtained an unparalleled education. Her forte is in leadership and one of the aspects that she enjoys in the academic setting is guiding others to take on the roles and responsibilities that are an integral part of nursing. Her extensive Nursing experience includes both surgical and ambulatory services. She is a Legal Nurse Consultant associated with the ANCS of University of Pennsylvania.

Although she has traveled extensively, one of Marianne's favorite pastimes is walking along the Jersey Shore. When time allows she enjoys baking. In fact, the faculty of the School of Nursing and Health Studies recently enjoyed the fruits of this hobby. Marianne prepared a delicious amaretto chocolate cheesecake for the first faculty meeting of the New Year. Ms. Darden claims that this cake was a Weight Watchers confection, but this writer found that hard to believe.
