PREAMBLE

Monmouth University offers its students the opportunity for maximum intellectual and personal growth by providing a variety of experiences, activities, and services that are designed to complement classroom work and provide opportunities for individual maturation.

The University recognizes and respects the students' personal freedom and assures maximum individual liberty within the limits necessary for the orderly operation of the University. In response, students must observe rules and regulations necessary for the proper functioning of the institution.

Each individual has the right and responsibility to bring to the attention of an administrative or student government official any violations of personal freedom or the regulations of the University.

Disciplinary authority comes from the board of trustees, which delegates this responsibility to the president. The president has authority to accept, reject, or modify procedures and standards that are recommended by the University Discipline Committee and the Office of the Vice President for Student Life.

The Vice President for Student Life has been delegated responsibility for administering student discipline. In those cases involving academic dishonesty, the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs/Provost shall oversee a separate process described in Article IV, Section A.

3. Decisions made by a hearing panel or a hearing officer are final, pending the normal appeal process.

ARTICLE III: PROSCRIBED CONDUCT

A. Jurisdiction of the University

Generally, University jurisdiction and discipline shall be limited to conduct that occurs on University premises or which adversely affects the University community and/or the pursuit of its objectives.

In meeting its educational mission, Monmouth University recognizes the importance of establishing and enforcing acceptable community standards of behavior. In doing so, members of the University community should know that they will be held accountable for their off-campus actions and/or behaviors as they relate to established laws and regulations of federal, state, and local agencies, as well as policies of the University.

In this connection, individuals who are members of the University community have a responsibility to represent themselves in a lawful and responsible manner at all times, both on and off campus. It would be unreasonable to suggest that a person committing a wrong act, on or off campus, which violated both the Student Code of Conduct and criminal statutes, could not be punished by all injured parties, e.g., the citizens of the state or local community and the University.

The University reserves the right to exercise its discretion on taking disciplinary action against students of the University or University organizations involved in off-campus activities when the University's reputation or its orderly functioning as an academic community are clearly involved and distinct or to protect the safety and well-being of the campus community.

B. Conduct—Rules and Regulations

Some examples of misconduct for which students or campus organizations are subject to University discipline include, but are not limited to, those listed below. The range of standard sanctions for those found to be in violation of this section are also indicated.

C. Violation of Law and University Discipline

1. University disciplinary proceedings may be instituted against a student charged with a violation of law that is also a violation of this Student Code; for example, if both violations result from the same factual situation, without regard to the dependency of civil litigation in court or criminal prosecution. Proceedings under this code may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off campus.

2. When a student is charged by federal, state, or local authorities with a violation of law, the University will not request or agree to special consideration for that individual because of his or her status as a student. If the alleged offense is also the subject of a proceeding before a hearing panel under the Student Code, however, the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Student Code and how such matters will be handled internally within the University community. The University will cooperate fully with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of criminal law on campus and in the conditions imposed by criminal courts for the rehabilitation of the student violators. Individual students and faculty members acting in their personal capacities remain free to interact with governmental representatives as they deem appropriate.

ARTICLE IV: DISCIPLINE POLICIES

I. CHARGES

A. Who May File

Any member of the University community, including the University itself, may file charges against any student or organization of the University for misconduct. Rules and regulations for students to observe are located in the Student Handbook, Residential Life Contract, Residential Life Guidebook, and the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs. Persons wishing to file any charges based on the Student Code of Conduct must do so through the Dean of Students Office. Charges shall be prepared in writing and submitted to the Vice President for Student Life in a reasonable period of time, generally considered to be within 15 days of violation. The University reserves the right to extend this deadline, particularly in cases involving criminal prosecution.

B. Academic Dishonesty Charges

1. If the charge involves academic dishonesty, the following procedures apply:
 - a. The process begins when a faculty member determines that student academic misconduct has occurred. (A definition can be found in section 5.12 of the Faculty Desk Reference. Definitions of cheating and plagiarism are listed in Article I of the Student Code of Conduct, published in the Monmouth University Student handbook. Article III details proscribed academic conduct, and Article IV details the sanctions that may be imposed.)
 - b. A faculty member who discovers academic dishonesty shall have the discretion in determining the appropriate remedy and/or penalty for the academic misconduct in his/her course (i.e., failing grade for the assignment, the assignment category, or the class) consistent with the policies of the University and the department. If the faculty member plans to act on his or her finding of academic misconduct he or she will notify the student in writing with a summary of the faculty member's finding and the student's right to appeal, and make a good faith effort to meet with the student to discuss the finding and allow the student an opportunity to respond. If the student disagrees with the finding, he or she may appeal to the faculty member's department chair in writing within 10 working days of the notification.

- c. If the student does not appeal the finding to the department chair, the faculty member shall report the misconduct to the Registrar via the Academic Dishonesty e-form within 15 working days of the initial notification to the student. The Registrar will send a receipt to the reporting faculty member, upon receiving the report.
- d. If the student appeals the faculty member's finding to the faculty member's department chair, the chair will consult with the faculty member, consider the case within 10 working days of the receipt of the written appeal, and notify the student, the faculty member, and the faculty member's dean, in writing, of his or her decision to uphold or reverse the finding.
- e. After any appeal to the chair has been decided, the chair shall report a finding of misconduct to the Registrar via the Academic Dishonesty e-form. The Registrar will send a receipt to the reporting chair upon receiving the report.
- f. The Office of the Provost will maintain a record of students who have been reported for academic misconduct. This record will be separate from the students' academic records. When a case of student academic misconduct is reported to the Registrar, the Office of the Provost will open a file on that student, or if the provost's office already has such a file for a student, it will add the current report to the existing file.
- g. When the Office of the Provost receives a first academic dishonesty report on a student, it shall notify the student in writing that it has opened such a file, and that a subsequent incident of academic misconduct will result in charges against the student by the University Discipline Committee, which may result in the student's suspension or expulsion.
- h. When the Office of the Provost receives a second academic dishonesty report on the same student, it shall forward the student's file with the multiple reports to the University Discipline Committee, and notify the student in writing that that it has forwarded the file to the committee. This committee will then consider the case of repeated academic misconduct and determine the appropriate sanctions.
- i. Upon the student's graduation, the contents of the file will be sealed and kept apart from the student's academic record. Any record of student academic misconduct that appears in the student's permanent academic record will be the result of the action of the Discipline Committee.

2. Academic Dishonesty University Discipline Committee Procedures

The University Disciplinary Committee is empowered to hear academic matters.

The University Disciplinary Committee has student and faculty representation and has been established to assist in the judicial process. The University Disciplinary Committee is composed of one student, two members of the faculty, and the Vice President for Student Life or designee (ex-officio). The student member shall be appointed (with the approval of the SGA President) by the Vice President for Student Life or designee. The student shall be a full-time student in good academic standing and may not be under any disciplinary sanction during the term of his or her appointment. In the event of sickness, conflict of interest, or other circumstances requiring a substitute, the Faculty Council will select alternate faculty members and the Vice President for Student Life or designee will select alternate students.

The University Disciplinary Committee's purpose is not to determine responsibility since responsibility has already been determined by the faculty member (or the Chair, if appealed). The sole responsibility of the University Disciplinary Committee is to determine the sanctions imposed as set forth in Article IV, Section III.

The student has the opportunity to submit a written statement for the University Disciplinary Committee to consider when imposing sanctions. The student shall also be permitted to make an oral statement before deliberations of the University Disciplinary Committee to determine the appropriate sanctions. The Vice President for Student Life or designee shall not sit with the Committee during deliberations.

The University Disciplinary Committee will impose sanctions as listed in Article IV, Section III. In determining sanctions, the University Disciplinary Committee shall consider and review the student's written statement (if provided), the student's oral statement (if provided), and the Academic Dishonesty e-forms for any current and previous incidents of academic dishonesty.

C. Non-Academic Disciplinary Charges

In cases involving non-academic matters, the Dean of Students' Office or Office of Residential Life shall conduct an investigation to determine if the charges have merit. If the charges are found to have merit, the charges shall be presented to the accused student in writing.

D. Defense Statements

Students charged with an alleged violation of the Student Code of Conduct may submit on their behalf statements, records, or any other information, including the reports of witnesses bearing on the charges brought against them. All information should be submitted immediately but no later than ten days after being charged.

E. Disciplinary Hearings

If the Office of Student Life determines that the alleged misconduct requires a hearing, a notice will be sent to the student(s)/organization(s) charged and all other pertinent parties. The notice will specify the date, time, and place of a hearing. Although complainants/respondents may have input into the selection of an appropriate hearing body, the Vice President for Student Life or designee will ultimately determine the appropriate hearing forum. Students will be provided with notice seven business days prior to a hearing.

F. Extensions

The Vice President for Student Life or designee reserves the right to grant extension of stated time periods within Section I.

G. Student Conduct Process

The use of attorneys-at-law is not permitted during the student conduct process. In addition, the Office of the Vice President for Student Life has a policy not to involve parents in any discussions regarding student conduct at the University without the express written permission of the student(s) involved.

H. Presentation of Charges

The Vice President shall designate an employee of Student Life, or other University employee, to present the charges to the appropriate hearing body on behalf of the complainant in all cases where the University is the complainant and in those cases where an individual is the complainant but the Vice President determines, in their sole discretion, that the best interests of the University community necessitate that the individual complainant not be required to present the charges to the hearing body him- or herself. In all other cases, individual complainants shall be responsible for presenting the charges which they have filed to the appropriate hearing body.

II. HEARINGS

The following information on hearing procedures applies to all violations of the Student Code of Conduct with the exception of violations of the Sexual Misconduct Policy and the Title IX Sexual Harassment Policy. For information regarding the hearing procedures for those policies please review those individual policies. The University Disciplinary Committee or Judicial Hearing Panel are empowered to hear student judicial matters.

The University Disciplinary Committee has student and faculty representation and has been established to assist in the judicial process. The University Disciplinary Committee is composed of two students, five members of the faculty, and the Vice President for Student Life or designee (ex-officio). The student members shall be appointed (with the approval of the SGA President) by the Vice President for Student Life. They shall be full-time students in good academic standing and may not be under any disciplinary sanction during the term of their appointment.

A Judicial Hearing Panel or officer may be utilized in lieu of the University Disciplinary Committee. This panel is made up of one member of the administration, one faculty member from the University Disciplinary Committee, and one student designated by the Student Government Association. The Vice President for Student Life or designee reserves the right to substitute a member of the administration for the student member for interim suspension hearings and during semester breaks and holidays when students are not generally present on the campus.

The University Disciplinary Committee or Judicial Hearing Panel may recommend sanctions as listed in Article IV, Section III, to the Vice President for Student Life. Students may also waive their right to a hearing, electing to agree to the violation as charged and accepting a sanction as determined by the Vice President or designee. Students choosing this option must do so in writing.

The Vice President has sole authority and responsibility for determining the appropriate hearing panel.

A. Hearing Notifications

The notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing will be made in writing to all parties involved in the process not less than five business days before the date of the scheduled hearing.

B. Request for a Judicial Hearing Panel

A student charged with a violation of the Student Code of Conduct may request in writing, not less than two working days prior to the date of a discipline hearing, a Judicial Hearing Panel in preference to a scheduled committee hearing if the case has been sent by the Vice President for Student Life to the University Disciplinary Committee. A Judicial Hearing Panel may then be granted if hearing officers are available.

C. Statements of Witnesses

Every effort will be made to obtain names and written statements of witnesses and documentary evidence for both the complainant(s) and student(s)/organization(s) charged. If available, these documents must be submitted to the Vice President at least five days prior to a hearing. The student(s)/organization(s) charged with a violation of the Code may receive, upon request, copies of such statements from the Vice President's office. The hearing body may preclude the testimony of any witness who does not submit a statement in conformance with this requirement if, in the opinion of the hearing body, allowing such testimony would substantially impair either the complainant's or the charged individual's/organization's ability to effectively present their case. In making this determination, the hearing body shall consider such factors as the reasons why a statement was not filed, the nature of the testimony to be given by the proposed witness, and the extent to which either party may be disadvantaged by not receiving the proposed witness's statement prior to the hearing and other appropriate factors.

D. Control of Hearing Proceedings

The presiding hearing officer shall exercise control over the manner in which the hearing is conducted to avoid unnecessary lengthy hearings and to prevent harassment or intimidation of witnesses. Anyone who disrupts a hearing or who fails to adhere to hearing guidelines may be excluded from the proceedings and is subject to disciplinary action. (See Article III; Section B; No. 18)

E. Burden of Proof

The burden of proof shall be on the complainant(s), who must establish that it is more likely true than not true that the alleged violation took place. It should be noted that the issue is not dependent upon the number of witnesses who testify on either side, but rather upon the credibility and weight which is attributed to such testimony.

F. Rules of Procedure and Evidence

Hearings shall be conducted in such a manner as to do substantial justice, but shall not be unduly restricted to rules of procedure or evidence. Circumstantial and hearsay evidence, as defined in Appendix #1, are admissible in a disciplinary hearing.

G. Confidentiality

The chairperson shall honor the rules of confidentiality and privilege but shall otherwise admit all matters into evidence which reasonable persons would accept as having value in the conduct of their affairs.

H. Privacy of Hearings

The hearing shall be conducted in private. People not directly involved in the hearing are excluded from the proceedings. In hearings involving more than one student, individual hearings may be permitted at the discretion of the Vice President.

I. Right to Assistance

The complainant(s) and the accused individual(s) or organization(s) have the right to be assisted at a hearing by an advisor who is a member of the University community. A member of the University community shall include any current member of the faculty, administration, staff, or student body. Under no circumstances may the advisor be an attorney-at-law.

The complainant and/or the accused is responsible for presenting his or her own case and, therefore, advisors are not permitted to speak or to participate directly in any hearing before a hearing panel officer.

J. Questions During Hearings

The hearing body may address questions to any party during the proceedings or to any witness called by the parties or by the hearing panel. Complainant(s) and the accused individual(s) or organization(s) may also question witnesses.

K. Evidence for Consideration

Pertinent records, exhibits, and written statements may be accepted as evidence for consideration by a hearing panel officer at the discretion of the chairperson.

L. Appearance of Witnesses

The hearing panel officer may require the presence of witnesses by sending them a letter via certified mail, return receipt requested or via email with a read/received receipt. University students and employees are expected to comply with such requests unless a verified hardship would result.

M. Failure to Appear at Hearings

The failure of individuals or organizations charged with misconduct to appear at a hearing after proper notice will not prevent the hearing from taking place or invalidate the outcome.

N. Affirmation of Testimony

All parties of the hearing, including the complainant(s), accused, and witnesses called, will be asked to affirm that their testimony is truthful and may be subject to charges of perjury, pursuant to Article III, Section B, No. 1, of this code.

O. Exclusion During Testimony and Deliberations

Prospective witnesses, other than the complainant(s) and accused, may be excluded from the hearing during the testimony of other witnesses. Exceptions to this provision would include a witness who is a victim in the matter. Witnesses are not to discuss the case or the proceedings outside the hearing room. Such discussion is a violation of Article III, Section B, No. 18, and may subject the witness to disciplinary sanctions. All parties shall be excluded during board deliberations.

P. Recording of Hearings

A recording of the hearing shall be made. The recording will be under the control of the Vice President for Student Life. A request to review the recording must be made in writing and the recording must be reviewed in the Office of Student Life.

Q. Determination of the Hearing Panel

After the hearing, the hearing panel shall determine (by majority vote if the hearing panel consists of more than one person) whether the student/organization has violated each section of the Student Code which the student/organization is charged with violating.

R. Written Report of Proceedings

The chairperson, on behalf of the hearing panel, shall prepare a written report to the Vice President for Student Life consisting of:

1. A summary of the hearing to include:
 - a. a statement of charges.
 - b. evidence presented to the board.
2. The decision of the hearing panel.
3. Recommended sanctions.

S. Availability of Hearing Panel Report

The written record shall be available at the discretion of the Vice President to all parties of the hearing.

T. Notification of Hearing Panel Decision

The Vice President will notify the complainant and the accused individual/organization of the decision of the hearing panel. The President of the University will also be notified of the decision of the hearing panel in cases involving suspension or expulsion from the residence halls or University.

III. SANCTIONS

- A. The following sanctions may be imposed, or imposed but held in abeyance upon certain specified conditions, upon any individual or organization found to have violated the Student Code of Conduct:

 6. Residence Hall Probation—A defined period of time whereby a student living in residence is given an opportunity to modify his/her behavior prior to losing the privilege of living on campus.  7. Residence Hall Suspension—Separation of the student from the residence halls for a defined period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Students under a residence hall suspension are also banned from all University owned and/or sponsored housing as well as the property and parking lots contiguous to that housing including but not limited to the residential quad.
 8. Residence Hall Expulsion—Permanent expulsion of the student from the residence halls. APPENDIX #1

Circumstantial and Hearsay Evidence

Circumstantial Evidence

In certain instances the party making the complaint and the student charged will be unable to present witnesses who can testify based on their own direct knowledge that a certain event has occurred. It is not necessary that an entire case be made by direct evidence. Lacking direct evidence, circumstantial evidence may be used to prove certain facts. Here, circumstances are made known from which the hearing panel, based on their common experience, may infer that other connected facts reasonably follow.

Hearsay Evidence

Hearsay evidence is when someone reports that another person has witnessed or said something relevant to the case. Generally, hearsay evidence is inadmissible. However, in the following circumstances, hearsay may be admitted:

1. The statement subjects the witness to a liability that a reasonable person would not want to incur.
2. The statement narrates, describes, or explains an event perceived by the witness.
3. The statement is made by a prior witness at the hearing and when so made was admissible.

APPENDIX #2

What You Need to Know About a Hearing

Complaining Party

1. You will be asked to submit a complaint in writing to the Vice President for Student Life. This complaint should specify the violation as well as all the facts involved. This statement must also include the names of witnesses involved.
2. You will be expected to appear at the hearing to verbally state what you have written to the hearing panel.
3. Any witnesses to the event should be asked to write a statement and be willing to speak at a hearing. Statements should be submitted to the Vice President at least five days prior to the hearing. These statements may be given to the defendant prior to the hearing.
4. The preponderance of proof is on your shoulders since you are the person making the complaint. It is therefore imperative that you prepare your case thoroughly and be prepared to convince an impartial board that a student misconduct has more than likely occurred.
5. You will be questioned by the hearing panel either after your statement or after witnesses, pro and con, have testified. Members of the hearing panel as well as the defendant are permitted to question the complainant and witnesses. There may be times when the complainant feels as if he/she is the guilty one due to the extensive questioning. However, the complainant should remember that the outcome can affect the academic and personal life of the person involved and is therefore a very serious matter requiring extensive questioning.
6. You are permitted to question the defendant(s) and any witnesses pro and con.
7. During the hearing, you and the defendant(s) will be present for all testimony.
8. When the hearing panel feels that all testimony and questions have been exhausted, all of those involved will be dismissed from the room.
9. You will be notified of the decision by the Vice President.
10. The appeals process is as stated.
11. The hearing is tape recorded as a transcript of the hearing.
12. The hearing is closed and strictly confidential.

13. You have the right to bring in an advisor from within the University community who is not permitted to speak in the hearing but may advise you during the process.

Student Charged

1. You have been charged with a violation of academic or social conduct at the University. This is a serious situation since it can jeopardize your standing at the University.
2. If you do not appear for the hearing, the hearing may still take place without you based on the evidence that has to be presented.
3. Although you have the right to remain silent both in your meeting with the investigating officer and the hearing panel, it is probably to your benefit to express your side of the situation.
4. Prior to the hearing you may receive, upon request, statements of the complainant(s) and witness(es) who will be speaking concerning your case. You may also receive, upon request, copies of written evidence to be used against you during the hearing.
5. If you have witnesses on your behalf, you should tell them to submit written statements to the Vice President five days prior to the hearing and to be willing to speak at the hearing. Names of witness(es) should be provided immediately upon your being charged.
6. You have the right to bring in an advisor from within the University community who is not permitted to speak in the hearing but may advise you during the process.
7. During the hearing, you and the complainant(s) will be present for all testimony unless you choose not to be present for the hearing. (See #2.)
8. You are permitted to question complainant(s) and any witness(es) pro and con.
9. You will be thoroughly questioned by the hearing panel members as well as the complainant(s).
10. When the hearing panel feels all testimony and questions have been exhausted, all of those involved will be dismissed from the room.
11. You will be notified of the decision by the Vice President.
12. The appeals process is as stated above.
13. The hearing is tape recorded as a transcript of the hearing.
14. The hearing is closed and strictly confidential.
