MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY

ADJUNCT FACULTY HANDBOOK

2014 EDITION

WEST LONG BRANCH, NEW JERSEY
07764-1898
PROVOST’S WELCOME

Welcome to new and returning adjunct faculty. Your hard work and valuable contributions on behalf of Monmouth University are much appreciated.

All Monmouth faculty take teaching and student learning seriously and are committed to helping students achieve their full potential. They work together to challenge and encourage students to learn and participate actively and responsibly in classroom environments as well as in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. Monmouth graduates leave the University ready to exercise socially responsible leadership in their professional and personal communities.

This Handbook familiarizes you with our university and helps you meet your responsibilities. It addresses issues ranging from creating a syllabus to advising students. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact your department chair or school dean.

Welcome again to Monmouth University. Best wishes for a good semester.

Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs

August 2014
Adjunct faculty members are an important part of the Monmouth University community. They should be aware of the University’s mission and adhere to its policies, procedures, and regulations, and complete the University’s online course on sexual harassment at the start of their appointment.

This Handbook is designed specifically for adjunct faculty members. The instructions and statements contained herein represent current University policies, procedures, and regulations. They apply equally to all adjunct faculty members who teach undergraduate or graduate courses, day or evening. All adjunct faculty are urged to read this Handbook thoroughly and to become familiar with the material, since they will be responsible for having knowledge of the contents. Further clarification of any of these areas and additional information may be received from the department chair or other University officials.

This Handbook is for informational purposes only. It is not intended as a contract of employment. Any policies and procedures contained herein are subject to change and interpretation at the discretion of the University, without prior notice or consideration to any employee.

In addition to this Handbook, it is recommended that adjunct faculty members familiarize themselves with the current University Catalogs (Undergraduate and Graduate) and the Student Handbook.

Monmouth University was founded in 1933 with federal assistance as Monmouth Junior College, largely to provide opportunity for higher education to area high school graduates who --in those Depression days--could not afford to go away to college. It was a two-year institution, holding classes only in the evening. For a time it appeared uncertain whether the College would have adequate funds to continue. With support from students and the community, however, the fledgling College survived the economic crisis and quickly assumed its present private status. In 1956, it was renamed Monmouth College and accredited by the state to offer four-year programs leading to the baccalaureate degree. Less than a decade later, it was authorized to offer master’s degree programs. In March 1995, the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education designated Monmouth a teaching university pursuant to N.J.A.C. 9:1-3.1 et seq.

Today, Monmouth offers more than 50 undergraduate and graduate degree programs and concentrations. Within its student body, 31 states and 29 countries and one territory are represented. More than 1900 undergraduate students live in University owned or sponsored housing.

1.2 MISSION STATEMENTS

Monmouth gradually transformed from a college to a university during the early 1990s, and was officially designated as a “teaching university” in 1995. These changes caused the University to re-examine and modify its Mission Statement in its current form:

Monmouth University Mission Statement

Monmouth University is an independent, comprehensive institution of higher education committed to excellence and integrity in teaching, scholarship, and service. Through its offerings in liberal arts, science, and professional programs, Monmouth University educates and prepares students to realize their potential as leaders and to become engaged citizens in a diverse and increasingly interdependent world.

Mission Statement for the Academic Affairs Division at Monmouth University

As an integral part of Monmouth University’s mission, the Academic Affairs Division provides the vision, leadership and resources to meet the educational needs of students, faculty, and academic support professionals. In advancing and sustaining an environment that is open, collaborative, inclusive, and professional, the Academic Affairs Division recruits, retains, fosters, and supports faculty, administrators and staff who are knowledgeable and current in their area of expertise. The Academic Affairs Division is dedicated to the continuous assessment and improvement of curricula and programs, the creative, current and interactive delivery of instruction, and the academic, personal, and career success of Monmouth University graduates.

1.3 LIBERAL EDUCATION AND THE MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY EXPERIENCE

At its heart, Monmouth University is a teaching university, and consistent with our mission, we base our students’ educational experience on the time-honored philosophy of liberal education. Liberal education is “an approach to learning that empowers individuals and prepares them to deal with complexity, diversity, and change. It provides students with broad knowledge of the wider world (e.g. science, culture, and society) as well as in-depth study in a specific area of interest. A liberal education helps students develop a sense of social responsibility, as well as strong and transferable intellectual and practical skills such as communication, analytical and problem-solving skills, and a demonstrated ability to apply knowledge and skills in real-world settings” (The Association of American Colleges and Universities).

Monmouth University’s undergraduate general education curriculum is intentionally designed to provide opportunities for developing this balance of broad knowledge and transferable skills. It emphasizes exposure to multiple disciplines, engaged learning, and clear learning goals. Three key components are academic first year seminars, courses specifically addressing topics of global understanding and cultural diversity, and a senior capstone course that encourages students to consider interdisciplinary perspectives on the human experience. We believe that these experiences, coupled with pursuit of greater depth of understanding within the major, should prepare students for the challenges of the 21st century. For more information about Monmouth University’s general education curriculum, contact the office of Academic Foundations - General Education (732-571-3637) or visit their website. http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/general_education/default.asp

1.4 ACCREDITATION

Monmouth University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104. (Telephone: 267-284-5000). The Middle States Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.

1.5 STUDENT PROFILE

Monmouth University’s teaching and learning environment is, naturally, created by the nexus of faculty and students. Monmouth is an evolving institution and the nature of students that populate our classes has evolved as well. For more information about Monmouth’s students, visit http://members.ucan-network.org/monmouth and www.monmouth.edu/OUTCOMES/default.asp

1.6 HUMAN RELATIONS PHILOSOPHY AND POLICY STATEMENT

Monmouth University affirms the inestimable worth and dignity of every individual, regardless of his or her condition of life. We affirm, further, the right of each person to develop to his or her full potential and to be judged on the basis of personal accomplishments. Finally, we believe that the achievement of full humanity is enhanced by experience of the human family.

We are committed to achieve and sustain a pluralistic environment recognized for its racial, cultural, and ethnic diversity, and which is characterized by genuine mutuality, acceptance, and affirmation of the strengths and contributions of differing individuals and groups, and a willingness to resolve disputes in a spirit of good will.

Monmouth University through this philosophy and policy statement seeks to create a pluralistic community in which people:

- Are accepted and judged as individuals, independent of ancestry, social and economic background, sexual orientation, age, gender, physical characteristics, or personal beliefs;
- May freely engage in constructive academic dialogue and debate in our classrooms and public halls, and pursue their social and private lives uninhibited by discrimination, disruption, or harassment in any form;
- Value respect and draw their intellectual strength from the rich diversity of other peoples of different races, cultures, religions, nationalities, and beliefs.

This affirmation and commitment will guide us in the challenging times ahead as we strive to achieve excellence in service, teaching, and scholarship.

1.7 CAMPUS FACILITIES

The University’s 158.59-acre campus, considered to be one of the most beautiful in New Jersey, includes among its 65 buildings a harmonious blending of historic and contemporary architectural styles. The centerpiece building – and the University’s identifying landmark – is Woodrow Wilson Hall, the administrative center. Completed in 1931 on the precise site of President Woodrow Wilson’s summer White House, and originally known as Shadow Lawn, the 130 room mansion began as the private residence of Hubert T. Parson, a former president of F.W. Woolworth Company. The mansion has been described in newspapers throughout the world, is featured in many books on architecture and art, and has been used as the backdrop for innumerable print ads and television commercials. In 1981, it served as the setting for the film version of “Annie” and in 1985, Wilson Hall was designated a National Historic Landmark by the U.S. Department of the Interior. The University’s Guggenheim Memorial Library (now the Monmouth University Library), was originally the summer home of Murry and Leonie Guggenheim and is an architectural treasure that in 1978 was entered in the National Register of Historic Places. The Lauren K. Woods Theatre, a former carriage house that retains many of its original architectural features, is among other gracious older buildings that lend distinctive balance to the modern additions to the campus.

Prominent among the buildings on campus are the Rebecca Stafford Student Center (RSSC). The lower level houses the Center for Student Success, which includes the Tutoring and Writing Services, Career Services, First Year Advising, Undeclared Services, Experiential Education, the CSS Dean’s Office, Academic Foundations – General Education, First Year Seminar, the Graduate Student Lounge, and the ID Center. The first floor includes Disabilities Services, Student Employment, Study Abroad, Office of International Student Services, Cafeteria, Santander Bank Branch, Information Desk, a lounge, and The Hawks Nest (convenience store). The second floor houses Student and Community Services, the office of Judicial Affairs and Special Projects, Off-Campus and Commuter Services, Student Activities and Student Center Operations, Anacon Hall, and an open computer lab and lounge. The third floor is home to Central Scheduling, Counseling and Psychological Services, Conference and Event Services, and the Student Government Association.

The Multipurpose Activity Center (MAC) is the home of the University Store, a Fitness Center, Boylan Gymnasium, basketball arena, which seats approximately 4,000 people, 200-meter indoor track, and locker rooms for all 19 Division 1 sports teams and visitors. The University’s Blue White Booster Club, the Central Box Office, and ten multipurpose suite-style rooms that can be used for academic or administrative groups are also located in the MAC.

Other buildings include: Rechnitz Hall art gallery, which includes classrooms and faculty offices. The Magill Commons, a resident student dining hall and conference center. Edison Science Hall, home of the School of Science and offices supporting campus technology. Howard Hall, housing many academic departments and many academic computing laboratories (including a 24-hour open lab). Pollak Theatre, the focus of most large campus cultural events and home to the Pollak Gallery. Bey Hall, home of the Leon Hess Business School, and equipped with case study classrooms, seminar rooms, computer laboratories, and H.R. Young Auditorium. New construction of Pozyci Hall, a two-story 20,000 square foot academic building connected to Bey Hall by a pedestrian bridge on the second floor. On target for completion during the fall of 2015, Pozyci Hall will include four classrooms, a 175-seat lecture hall, eight faculty offices, a student lounge and an exterior terrace. The two structures will surround a re-landscaped, welcoming green space near the center of campus, known as Torcivia Common. McAllan Hall, which houses the School of Education, the Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies, and the School of Social Work. Jules L. Plangere Center for Communication homes of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences along with the Department of Communication, the Media Center, the student-run newspaper The Outlook and WMCX-student radio station.
Monmouth’s on-campus residence halls include these traditional and suite style buildings: Beechwood (home of the Honors School), Birch, Cedar, Elmwood, Laurel, Oakwood, Pinewood, Redwood, Spruce, Willow, and Mullaney Hall. There are also three apartment-style residential facilities: The Great Lawn Apartments, the Garden Apartments, and Maplewood. Some upper class students live in University-sponsored, off-campus housing, including University Bluffs and Pier Village.
For more information and a campus map, see Appendix I or http://www.monmouth.edu/university/maps-and-directions.aspx
2.1 THE UNIVERSITY STRUCTURE

The University follows a traditional structure.

The President is the chief executive officer of the University and reports to the Board of Trustees. He is assisted by nine vice presidents, a Director of Public Affairs, a Special Assistant to the Board of Trustees, and an Executive Assistant to the President.

For more information, see Appendix II

The Vice President of Academic Affairs/Provost is the chief academic officer, and presides over six academic schools that are headed by deans. He also oversees the Graduate School, the Honors School, Library, and Center for Student Success.

For more information, see Appendix III.

2.2. THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees is entrusted with the welfare of the University, the fostering of conditions that will contribute to the education and development of students and the effectiveness of the faculty and administration. Board members are chosen on the basis of their awareness of current educational practices, understanding of broad issues, reputation for social responsibility, and keen interest in the mission of Monmouth University. The Board is responsible for overseeing the general educational and financial administration of the University as stipulated in the Boards By-Laws and recommended by the administration and faculty.

The Educational and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees is of special interest to the faculty as it is this committee that makes recommendations to the Board concerning matters of importance to the faculty – the collective bargaining agreement, tenure, promotion, and curriculum. Recommendations of the Educational and Faculty Affairs Committee are subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees.

2.3 THE ADMINISTRATION

The chief administrative officer of the University is the President, who is responsible to the Board of Trustees for the operation of the University. Selected by the Board of Trustees, the President is accountable to the Board and is the medium of formal communication between the Board and all others at the University. The President is responsible for administering all policies of the Board. Major responsibilities of the President pertinent to the faculty include the following: approve and recommend to the Board of Trustees all appointments of faculty members, including promotion, tenure, and salary; place before the Faculty such matters as deemed necessary for its attention; be responsible for reviewing the actions of the Faculty and react to those actions as described in Article II of the Faculty Bylaws; preside at all public exercises of the University and confer degrees as authorized by the Board of Trustees and as approved by the Faculty; be the official representative of the University at all public occasions.

For Cabinet Information see:
http://www.monmouth.edu/about_monmouth/who/admin.asp

Brief descriptions of each of the administrators who comprise the President's Cabinet, follow:

1. Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs: As the chief academic officer of the University, the Vice President for Academic Affairs/Provost is directly responsible to the President for developing the academic curriculum, stimulating intellectual activity of faculty and students, and recommending to the President prospective faculty members, recommending to the president currently employed faculty members for renewal, promotion and/or tenure. The Vice President for Academic Affairs is also instrumental in the University’s negotiations relative to the collective bargaining agreement with the Faculty Association.

2. Vice President for Information Management: As the chief information officer, this administrator oversees the operations, support, and logistics and security for the University’s information systems. This includes instructional support, wired and wireless network, telecommunications, administrative and academic systems, help desk, media services, and application training.

3. Vice President for Finance: As the chief fiscal officer of the University, the Vice President for Finance is directly responsible to the President for the development and preparation of the University’s budget and fiscal management. The Vice President for Finance is responsible for the management of the University’s fiscal operation including student and accounts receivables, payroll, student loans, purchasing, the University Bookstore, the Central Box Office and the Digital Print Center.

4. Vice President and General Counsel: This officer provides legal advice and guidance to the University for work related activities, coordinates legal services provided by outside attorneys, oversees the University’s affirmative action activities and assists in monitoring the University’s compliance programs. It also houses the University’s internal auditing function.

5. Vice President of External Affairs: As the chief development officer, this individual is directly responsible to the President for all University development activities, alumni activities, prospect research, special events and other University fundraising activities. This individual is also responsible for University communications, public relations, government relations, and community relations activities.
6. Vice President for Enrollment Management: As chief enrollment officer, the Vice President for Enrollment Management is responsible for the recruitment and retention of new, transfer, international, and graduate students. This officer oversees undergraduate and graduate admission, enrollment research, financial aid, retention, branding and marketing, and the University website.

7. Vice President and Director of Athletics: This administrator is responsible for managing and directing the athletic programs in compliance with University, Metro Atlantic and Big South Conferences, and NCAA Division I policies, rules, and regulations and athletics ticketing. This administrator is also responsible for all intramurals, recreation, and sport clubs, as well as the fitness center.

8. Vice President for Student Life and Leadership Engagement: As the chief student life officer, the Vice President for Student Life is responsible for non-academic student life and development, including the residence halls and food service, student activities, student conduct, orientation, health services, psychological counseling, substance awareness activities, and central scheduling of facilities.

9. Vice President for Administrative Services: This officer is accountable for all human resources activities, police and safety, mail, shipping and receiving, facilities management, environmental compliance, risk management, and campus planning and construction.
CHAPTER 3: RESOURCES FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

3.1 ACADEMIC ADVISING

All first-year students and undeclared sophomores receive academic advising in the Center for Student Success. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have declared a major receive academic advising in the departments housing their majors. Academic advising at the department level includes chairs, faculty, and Department Advising Coordinators (DAC’s). Chairs and DAC’s coordinate advising of the faculty advisors in the department. The availability of trained faculty advisors during academic planning and priority registration are important department advising functions supervised by chairs and DAC’s. They maintain recent past and current curriculum charts and sequence charts for all majors and minors offered in the department. They facilitate the entrance of sophomores and new transfer students into the department. They designate Advisor assignments and inform majors and minors of advising and department news. Chairs and DAC’s recommend substitution of requirements and process changes of curriculum.

3.2 ACADEMIC FOUNDATIONS - GENERAL EDUCATION (732-571-3637)

Consistent with Monmouth University’s mission, the Academic Foundations - General Education office works with the academic departments and schools to promote learning and discovery in our students. The office oversees the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning (CETL), provides administrative support for undergraduate General Education curriculum including First Year Seminar, and coordinates General Education assessment endeavors. The office also collaborates with other constituencies on campus to develop new programming that facilitates and strengthens the academic experiences of our students, both in and out of the classroom.

CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AND LEARNING (732-263-5699)

Monmouth University’s Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning (CETL) is a resource for all faculty members, tenured, tenure-track, non-tenure-track, and adjunct. It is a place where experienced teachers can hone their techniques and mentor their colleagues, where new faculty members can develop their skills and bounce ideas off veteran teachers, and where experienced colleagues can learn new methods and stay abreast of the latest pedagogical techniques and technologies. The Mission of the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning at Monmouth University is to support faculty in the exploration and promotion of creativity, intellectual inquiry, research, and scholarship as integral components of the teaching and learning process. The Center works collaboratively with faculty, students, and the university community to promote dynamic, interactive, interdisciplinary learning utilizing a range of classroom-based and technologically enhanced delivery modes.
The Center also works collaboratively with other organizations on and off campus to enhance teaching and learning at Monmouth University. For more information http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CETL/default.asp

_____________________  FIRST YEAR SEMINAR (732-571-3584) _______________________

First Year Seminar (FY101) is a three-credit General Education course designed to help new students make a successful transition into the intellectual life of Monmouth University. The course is taught on a variety of topics by full-time professors who engage students in scholarly inquiry within their areas of interest and expertise. Within the course students sharpen their academic skills, study ethical issues related to both the course topic and to University life, and learn about Monmouth resources and opportunities. Students also gain experience in critical analysis of information and hone their research and collaborative problem-solving skills. The course emphasizes the various levels of learning that new students encounter: learning about themselves and their adjustment to campus life, how college is different from high school, and learning as it applies to their academic coursework. The course is supported inside and outside the classroom by Peer Learning Assistants (PLAs). PLA’s act as mentors/role models and help first-year students with typical first semester issues while assisting the professors with the course.

3.3 ACADEMIC SKILLS SERVICES

Academic Skills Services, consisting of Tutoring and Writing Services, Computer Science (CS) Tutoring, the Mathematics Learning Center, provide personalized academic assistance. Students may be referred by professors or may come voluntarily. The goal of each Center is to ensure the academic success of all students at Monmouth University.

Tutoring and Writing Services are part of the Center for Student Success, located in the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Detailed information is included in the next section. For more information contact: 732-263-5721

CS Tutoring is part of the Computer Science and Software Engineering Department. Tutoring is open to any student, but students needing help in CSSE programming courses are given priority. The tutors are usually graduate assistants in the CSSE program. All appointments are made through Tutoring and Writing Services 732-263-5721.

The Mathematics Learning Center is part of the Mathematics Department, located in Howard Hall room 203. The center provides students with assistance in all levels of mathematics. Peer tutors help students solve problems and review concepts. In addition, students may do homework assignments or study for tests while having a student tutor available. 732-263-5305.
The Center for Student Success (CSS) provides academic, personal, and career services for all Monmouth University Students.

The CSS includes a wealth of support services structured to assist students throughout their entire university experience, helping them to make vital connections between education, career and life choices. The CSS also helps to administer the Monmouth University Early Warning System (MEWS) and offers a series of workshops focusing on academic, personal and career areas of interest.

The programs and departments associated with the CSS include First Year Advising, Advising for Undeclared Sophomores, Career Services, Disability Services for Students, Educational Opportunity Fund, Service Learning and Community Programs, Transfer and Articulation Services, and Tutoring and Writing Services.

CSS offices are located primarily in the lower level of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center and are open from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

FIRST YEAR ADVISING (732-263-5868)

All first-year students receive extensive academic advising from specially trained faculty. While most students tend to think of advising as simply registering for courses, our program strives to build an advising relationship that works holistically to help students develop their academic, career, personal, and social interests. Extensive major and career choices programming is available and all first-year students are strongly encouraged to begin this exploration as early as possible. After their first year, students receive academic advising in their academic departments or the Undeclared Sophomore Advising area of the Center for Student Success.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/first_year_advising/default.asp

ADVISING FOR UNDECLARED SOPHOMORES (732-571-3588)

Students who have not yet declared their majors at the end of their freshman year have the option of remaining “Undeclared” until the end of their sophomore year. Undeclared sophomores are assigned experienced Student Development Counselors to assist them in major and career exploration.

CSS Counselors provide career counseling, career resources, and workshops for all students, especially for those who are selecting and changing majors. Interest inventories and a computerized guidance system are available to help students assess their interests and their values.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/undeclared/default.asp
ADVISING FOR TRANSFERS (732-571-3588)

Academic advising for all students transferring to Monmouth is coordinated by Transfer and Articulation Services, which provides transfer students the connection to academic departments for individualized advising and registration.

CAREER SERVICES (732-571-3471)

The Career Services Office provides a host of programs and services focused toward helping students and alumni find professional employment opportunities. Four career fairs are presented each year (two general career fairs, one geared toward Education majors and one toward Humanities majors) where students and alumni can meet with local, regional, and national employers. A special Accounting Honors Employment Program is also offered. Career related workshops and seminars are presented regularly. Private appointments may also be requested with Career Services staff for personal career advice, including resume preparation, interview coaching and job search strategies. The Career Services Office also emails two employment opportunities newsletters for students and alumni on a weekly basis. One newsletter focuses on part-time and seasonal positions, while the other contains full-time, professional career opportunities.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/career_services/default.asp

DISABILITY SERVICES (732-571-3460)

The Department of Disability Services (DDS) is part of the Center for Student Success and is located on the first floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center.

Colleges and universities must not discriminate in recruitment, admission, or treatment of students with disabilities. Students with documented disabilities may request accommodations and auxiliary aids that will enable them to participate in and benefit from all postsecondary educational programs and activities. Postsecondary institutions must make every effort to ensure that the academic programs are accessible to the greatest extent possible to all students with disabilities.

The aim of the various support services for students with disabilities at Monmouth University is to provide the best possible environment in which students will be successful in their quest for academic and personal success. Accommodations and services are available to students with learning, psychological/psychiatric, physical, and medical disabilities. Students seeking services and accommodations should contact the Department of Disability Services (DDS). Faculty members who have questions regarding students are encouraged to contact this department and seek assistance from a disability specialist.
The Department of Disability Services for Students at Monmouth University assists students who have documented disabilities with self-advocacy on campus, and addresses issues and questions regarding ADA/504 requirements and reasonable academic accommodations.

The DDS Faculty Guide is available by request from the DDS and may be viewed online.

For more information:  http://www.monmouth.edu/university/faculty-members.aspx

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY FUND (732-571-3462)

The Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) is a state-funded program that offers financial support and extensive personal, academic, and career counseling for highly motivated, economically disadvantaged students to attend college. The director, professional counselors, and tutors work closely with our EOF students and with the CSS staff. Offices are located in the 600 building.

For more information:  http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/EOF/default.asp

EXPERIENTIAL EDUCATION (CSS)

All undergraduate students entering Monmouth University must complete the Experiential Education requirement in order to graduate. Recognizing that students can learn more by combining the theories and ideas taught in the classroom with real-life experiences in the “real world,” Monmouth provides opportunities such as internships, service learning, class projects, Study Abroad, and Experiential Education courses (designated as “EX” in the course schedules) to help students achieve these objectives in a variety of ways.

For more information:  http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/EXED/default.asp

MONMOUTH’S EARLY WARNING SYSTEM (MEWS)

Goal of the Program:  Monmouth’s Early Warning System (MEWS) is used to monitor academic progress of specific student groups. MEWS has been operating since fall 1989. This computerized program provides a timely approach to monitoring and identifying students who are experiencing academic difficulty and connecting them to their academic advisors for intervention.

Student Populations Being Monitored
Currently, the populations being monitored include:

- All first-year students
- All transfer students in their first semester
- All athletes
- All undeclared sophomores
- All students registered with the Department of Disability Services (DDS)
• All students participating in the Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF)
• All students identified by the Academic Standards and Review Committee (ASRC)
• International students
• Military veterans

How MEWS Works
• MEWS is an electronic checklist located on WebAdvisor that faculty members can use to notify academic advisors that their advisees in the MEWS population are experiencing academic difficulty.
• When a faculty member electronically submits the MEWS checklist, both the advisor and student are notified by email.
• In the student email they receive specific information about possible classroom issues and are advised to contact their advisor to discuss difficulties they might be having in a specific course and to work on strategies to overcome those difficulties. Targeted academic resource information is also included in the email.
• Advisors receive the email checklist of concerns and are encouraged to reach out to the student to discuss the MEWS report.
• After discussing the MEWS report with the student, the advisor is encouraged to complete the MEWS Advisor Follow-Up form in WebAdvisor. The form outlines the specific strategy agreed upon by the student and advisor in order to improve the student’s academic performance.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/mews.asp

Note that you do not need to limit yourself to students within the MEWS population if one of your students begins to show performance issues in your class. You may contact his or her faculty advisor directly about your concerns. Advisor and major information for each of your students can be found on your class roster, available on WebAdvisor.

SERVICE LEARNING AND COMMUNITY PROGRAMS (732-571-4411)

Service Learning offers student’s unpaid career-related field experiences in non-profit agencies, schools, civic, and governmental organizations. Students may work on service projects under the supervision of a faculty member or register for courses with a service component. Placements are varied and address such issues as housing, health care, education, and youth development. Note that undergraduate students are able to complete their experiential education general education requirement through placements out of this office.
For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/service_learning/default.asp
Located in the Center for Student Success in the lower level of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center, Tutoring and Writing Services provides free, personalized academic assistance to all students at the University. Students may be referred by faculty members or advisors, or they may come voluntarily.

Tutoring Services offers content-specific tutoring sessions in one hundred or more academic courses. In one-on-one and group tutoring sessions, students are able to review course material, develop skills, and ask questions in a friendly, informal environment. These collaborative sessions are intended to guide and motivate students to achieve their academic goals. In addition, faculty master tutors offer workshops covering strategies for college success, such as organization, time management, note-taking, listening skills, textbook reading strategies, and test-taking preparation. Appointments may be scheduled online through Accudemia at http://accudemia.monmouth.edu, by phone (732-571-7542), or as a “walk-in” if sessions are available.

For more information: www.monmouth.edu/tutoring

Writing Services provides writing assistance for all undergraduate and graduate students. Students may seek assistance during any stage of their writing process, from the initial drafting of the assignment through the final stages of editing and proofreading. Additionally, specific Writing Assistants are able to assist with personal statements, the discipline of literature, and the specific challenges faced by English Language Learners.

Writing Assistants, peer, professional, and faculty are available in the Center for Student Success location from 9:15 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, and from 9:15 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Wednesdays. We also offer evening tutoring in our Write at Night location at the Monmouth University Library. Please check our Web site each semester for the specific days and hours. Appointments may be scheduled online through Accudemia at http://accudemia.monmouth.edu, by phone (732-571-7542), or as a “walk-in” if sessions are available. The Writing Services Web site offers online resources for students as well.

Visit http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/css/writing/ResourcesForWriters.aspx to view our skills pages on grammar and punctuation skills, research strategies, documentation styles, and discipline-specific writing guidelines.

For more information: www.monmouth.edu/writing
Supplemental Instruction (SI) is a peer-facilitated academic assistance program designed to help students succeed in traditionally difficult courses. SI sessions are regularly-scheduled, informal review sessions that involve collaborative learning activities through which students can clarify course concepts and practice the types of study strategies that will help them truly master the information and skills required by the target course. For more information and a list of participating courses, visit: www.monmouth.edu/si.

3.5 HONORS SCHOOL (732-263-5308)

Students in Monmouth University’s Honors School graduate knowing that they have accomplished superior achievement in a supportive atmosphere focused on academic, social, and personal growth. Graduating from the Honors School also provides practical advantages: the honors degree is noted on diplomas and transcripts, making students more attractive to graduate/professional programs and to potential employers.

The Honors curriculum provides a unique learning experience in small seminar style classes with professors known for outstanding teaching and concern for student development. All Honors courses are limited to twenty students, helping students to get to know one another and fostering discussion and debate. In addition to free-standing Honors courses, many Honors courses are “clustered” in learning communities, with professors developing common themes and assignments, allowing students to make connections and see issues from different points of view. Appreciating the emphasis on collaborative learning and the in-depth discussion of Honors courses, most students take as many of their General Education courses in Honors as they can, many more than are required.

Students eligible for the Honors School are those who: a) are admitted to the University with a High School GPA of 3.5 and a 3-part SAT score of 1800 (with no less than 540 on any part); or b) have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5 after taking 12 credits at Monmouth University; or c) transfer to Monmouth University with at least 30 credits in an acceptable program and a cumulative GPA of at least 3.5 in all previous college-level work. Students who are otherwise distinguished but for one reason or another have not met all the above criteria can be admitted after review on a case-by-case basis.

To graduate from the Honors School and have the diploma so noted, a student must successfully complete 25 honors credits as follows: (1) 12 credits in Honors sections of General Education courses at the first year/sophomore level, including: English, History, Anthropology, Art, Music, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Mathematics and Science; (2) 9 honors credits in the major at the junior/senior level, (3) completion of the 4 credit Honors Thesis through two tutorials, Thesis Proposal (HO 498) and Thesis (HO 499). In addition, students must complete all other requirements of their majors and maintain a GPA of 3.3. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/schools/honors/default.asp
3.6 INFORMATION MANAGEMENT – CAMPUS TECHNOLOGY (732-923-4357)

Information Management has campus-wide responsibilities that include wired and wireless network operations, telecommunications, administrative and academic systems administration and programming, network and system security, help desk operations, desktop computer support, instructional support, media operations and application training and support. The IM Division supports the business of the University with the latest in communication and information technology for faculty, students, and staff. From telephones to Wi-Fi, labs to eCampus, classrooms to residence halls to administrative offices, and students to alumni, IM is involved in creating and maintaining the infrastructure, systems and applications that are relied upon to carry out the University’s business. The campus network connects more than 2,000 computers through more than 130 servers with over 1,000 applications to service the many varied technology needs of the University. Information Management is ready to facilitate your use of technology.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/campus_technology/default.asp

For immediate computer-related service needs, call the HelpDesk at 732-923-4357 (HELP) Monday through Friday from 8:15 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. Technicians are on site until 11:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Best efforts will be made to resolve critical issues that are received by voicemail or email outside normal working hours.

INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT

Instructional Support provides instructional design consultation for integrating technology into teaching and learning, online learning management (eCampus) software support and online learning management (eCampus) consultation as well as faculty computer training and support.

eCampus is Monmouth University's online learning management system, powered by Desire2Learn's Learning Environment. It is also where instructors may post material, hold discussions, collect assignments or post grades as appropriate for web-enhanced, hybrid, or fully-online courses. The system has a number of tools that may be used for courses.

For more information about Instructional Support services, call 732-263-5486 or visit https://ecampus.monmouth.edu

Instructional Support is located in the Information Management area of Edison Hall. Regular hours are 8:45 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday and extended hours until 8:30 p.m. on Tuesdays.

MEDIA OPERATIONS

Media Operations provides the following services: Audio/Video equipment for all purposes, including interactive television conference/class room training, maintenance, and use; campus academic cable TV network management including a satellite receiver system for teleconference downlinks, and computer laptop loaner program for faculty and staff. The department also provides operating instruction on all media center equipment, and advice on purchase of audio/video equipment.

Media Operations is located in room 110 of the Plangere Center, open between 8:45 a.m. and 11 p.m., Monday through Friday. Contact the University Help Desk (732-923-HELP or helpdesk@monmouth.edu) for advanced reservation and scheduling of equipment and services.

3.7 LIBRARY SERVICES (732-571-3450)

The Monmouth University Library is an integral part of Monmouth University’s established position as a respected institution of higher learning, and a major proponent of rigorous academic research across the academic curriculum. The Library works assiduously to build and maintain collections in both traditional and digital formats to support the teaching and scholarship missions of the University, and also to deliver instruction sessions that help students perform research using traditional and digital media. The Library also applies cutting-edge technology to deliver scholarly content to students enrolled in traditional classroom settings, as well as in hybrid and distance-learning courses. The Library serves as an important state and federal depository. Functioning as the research core of the University, the Library collaborates with all campus constituencies to accomplish the common goal of preparing well-rounded, intellectually prepared, and information-literate students to achieve success, leadership, and lifelong learning in the 21st century.

LIBRARY HOURS

Library hours are posted online at http://library.monmouth.edu and at the entrance to the Library. Changes in hours due to holidays, vacations, and final exams are posted at both locations.

LOCATION AND RESOURCES

The Library is located on the North Campus diagonally across Cedar and Norwood Avenues from the main campus. It is situated on a beautifully landscaped estate that was the summer home of Murry and Leonie Guggenheim.

PERIODICALS AND ELECTRONIC RESOURCES

The Library provides access to over 160 periodical databases, which include general magazines, newspapers and scholarly journals in different subject areas. Check the Library Catalog for information about the Library’s periodical holdings and indexing/abstracting tools to identify articles specific to a topic.
There are numerous electronic indexing, abstracting and full text information resources accessible on computers in the reference area and on networked computers at other campus locations. In addition, the Library provides access to 30,000 eBooks.

REFERENCE & INFORMATION SERVICES

A Librarian is available during daytime and evening hours until 10:00 p.m. when the University is in session to answer reference questions and provide bibliographic assistance. Online help via email is available through the Ask-a-Librarian service at http://library.monmouth.edu

The Librarians are especially interested in meeting the needs of the faculty and assisting students with assignments requiring library research. Faculty members are urged to discuss their interests, requirements, and suggestions with the Librarians. Faculty and students are entitled to reciprocal borrowing privileges with other libraries in the New Jersey VALE consortium (see www.valenj.org). Faculty members and graduate students who wish to visit the Princeton University libraries to conduct their own research may sign out the Princeton University Libraries Access Card which is annually secured by the Provost and maintained by the Library. The card does not permit borrowing, only access to collections. The card is available at the Reference Desk (732- 571- 3438). You must sign out the card and return it to the Guggenheim Library.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN/DOCUMENT DELIVERY

Interlibrary loan service is available to students and faculty members whose research needs include materials not available in our Library. Requests for books, journal articles, government documents, and other materials may be made by submitting requests through online forms found on the Library web page at http://library.monmouth.edu.

LIBRARY INSTRUCTION

The University recognizes the close relationship between library research and the wider educational goals and objectives of the institution. So that students may become self-directed learners who have mastered the skills of acquiring, evaluating and synthesizing information, the librarians are committed to the development of coherent, incremental programs of instruction. Faculty members are, therefore, strongly encouraged to integrate thoughtful, well-designed library research projects into their course syllabi.

Library instructional sessions designed to support specific research assignments or projects are available for all classes. To discuss an assignment and arrange a time, please call the Coordinator at 732-571-4404 or fill out the instructional request form on the Library web site. At least two weeks advance notice should be given to allow sufficient preparation time; professors are required to accompany their classes. For more information: http://library.monmouth.edu
CIRCULATION PROCEDURES

Extended borrowing privileges are granted to faculty members upon presentation of a Monmouth University ID card. Circulating books may be borrowed for the school year. However, materials borrowed are subject to recall if requested by others. All materials borrowed by faculty members must be returned to the library by the end of the spring semester. Faculty are responsible for replacement cost of lost or damaged material. Reference books, reserve books and periodicals are needed in the Library for general use and are not available for loan.

A faculty member’s immediate family is welcome to use the facilities of the Library. To request borrowing privileges, library cards are available at the Circulation Desk. These cards must be renewed each year. The three-week loan period established for students must be observed by family members.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

All faculty are encouraged to participate in requesting library materials for purchase, especially when introducing new courses or revising syllabi. To assure broad collection coverage the library faculty also selects materials, including reference and bibliographic tools and publications of current interest. In general, the Library acquires new materials to support the curriculum and course preparation.

Faculty members should become familiar with holdings in their subject areas. The Library Catalog should be checked before purchase requests are submitted. Book requests should be forwarded regularly for expedient use of allocations. Each academic department formulates its own procedures for establishing priorities for requesting library materials. A library coordinator is chosen or appointed by each department. The library coordinator acts as a liaison between Collection Development and the department, and serves to coordinate requests from the department. Collection Development distributes review cards from CHOICE, Current Reviews for Academic Libraries to the departmental coordinators. All order requests should be submitted through the library coordinator using CHOICE review cards or library request forms with complete bibliographic information. Requests may also be submitted electronically from forms found on the Library web page at http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/materials-request. Faculty members are encouraged to use other professional journals in their fields to select and recommend books or journals for the Library Collection.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Monmouth University’s Special Collections Department collects, preserves, provides access to, and promotes the use of its rare and unique materials in order to support the academic programs of the undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and other scholars, including those outside the academic community. The department accomplishes this through collection development, book history instruction, exhibitions and community outreach. The Library is also part of a statewide network of libraries that receive selected official New Jersey state documents. The New Jersey Collection includes 3100 books, periodicals and other material relating to the state. The Monmouth University Collection consists of publications by members of the faculty and administration.

Special arrangements are necessary for use of the Lewis Mumford Collection, the personal library of the noted American man of letters which includes over 3500 books and artifacts. The Bruce Springsteen Collection comprises nearly 15,000 items that range from books and concert memorabilia to articles and promotional materials. For research access to the collection contact the department of Center for the Arts at 732-571-3554. Special arrangements are also necessary for use of the University Archives, which contain a variety of University papers and publications as well as ephemeral materials such as postal cards, playbills, and newspaper clippings. A rare book collection has recently been established as well. A few notables include a signed first edition of Virginia Woolf’s A Room of One’s Own, an early English Bible and an early printing of the Declaration of Independence. To make an appointment, contact the special collections librarian at 732-571-4403.

RESERVES

Library materials are placed on reserve at the request of faculty members. To allow sufficient time for locating and processing such materials, reserve requests should be submitted at least two weeks before the beginning of each semester. Forms for this purpose are available on line at: http://library.monmouth.edu/services/reserveform.doc. Reference works, periodicals, and other non-circulating materials are not normally placed on reserve. A limited number of photocopies of periodical articles within the copyright guidelines will be made. Reserve materials will be returned to the regular shelves at the end of the semester unless a longer reserve period is requested. Upon request, the Library will also place material belonging to an instructor on library reserve. The Reserve Collection is located behind the Circulation Desk. A listing of reserve materials by instructor is located on the Circulation counter. Due to the confidential nature of borrowing records, the Library cannot divulge the names of persons who have utilized reserve materials over a given period of time. The library reserve policy is available on-line at: http://library.monmouth.edu. The Library also offers electronic reserves at http://library.monmouth.edu.

MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The Monmouth University Library Association was founded in 1960 to foster the development of the Library. Since that time, the Association has raised more than two million dollars earmarked for the acquisition of books, materials and equipment. A life member of the Library Association, Margaret O. Bruns, left a bequest of more than $900,000 to the Library Association.
to support the Library. The Association sponsors a variety of fundraising events, including the annual Holiday Ball at Wilson Hall.

3.8 SPECIAL STUDENT PROGRAMS

Special student programs include Athletics, Counseling and Psychological Services, Disability Services, Educational Opportunity Fund, Student Employment, and Study Abroad.

ATHLETICS (732-571-3415)

Athletics constitute an integral part of a Monmouth University education, and student athletes are representatives of Monmouth University in intercollegiate competition.

The class attendance policy for student athletes, approved by the faculty, is as follows:

All student-athletes are required to attend all classes. Classes cannot be missed because of practice. The only permissible time to miss class is due to team competition or travel. If class is missed, student-athletes remain responsible for all work and/or exams covered in their absence. Should this occur, the following guidelines must be followed:

1. The first day of class, each student-athlete is required to inform each professor of team commitments and scheduling conflicts with class. If the professor at this time believes this to be a potential problem that can negatively affect the student-athlete’s grade, it may be necessary to drop the course. Prudence should be used.

2. The student-athlete must obtain the approved travel verification form from the Athletics Academic Support Staff the first week of the semester. One form should be submitted to each course in which at least one class session will be missed due to competition.

3. Head coaches must inform the Athletics Academic Support Staff of estimated travel departure and arrival times prior to distribution of the forms. The travel verification form must be handed to each professor in person, on athletics letterhead, and in blue ink.

4. Student-athletes should submit these travel verification forms within two weeks after the start of the semester... the sooner the better. In addition, a verbal reminder should be provided by the student-athlete during the week of the competition.

Note: Class cannot be missed for field maintenance, game setups, and so forth. In the event a competition is rescheduled without sufficient warning (due to weather or other unforeseen circumstances), as much notice as possible should be provided to all professors.
COUNSELING AND PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES (732-571-7517)

The Department of Counseling and Psychological Services, located on the third floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center, provides free and confidential psychological counseling to Monmouth University students on a “first come, first serve” basis. The licensed clinical counselors assist students confronting personal issues including: depression and suicide, anxiety and stress management, relationship concerns, family issues, emotional crises, general mental health, interpersonal conflicts, rape and sexual assault, poor academic performance and more. 24-hour hotlines for mental health emergency are provided through collaboration with local hospitals. Numerous psychoeducational programs are presented throughout the academic year. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/counseling

DISABILITY SERVICES (732-571-3460)

Students with Disabilities are assisted by the Office of Disability Services, which is part of the Center for Student Success, located in the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Detailed information is provided in section 3.4.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT (732-263-5706)

Assistance for students seeking part-time employment while attending Monmouth is available. The Assistant Director of Human Resources for Student Employment oversees all aspects of on-campus employment. Through the Federal Work Study program, qualified students (determined by the Financial Aid Office) are able to work part time and earn money to offset educational expenses. Most on-campus student positions are filled by those individuals with Federal Work Study awards. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/HR/student_employment/default.asp

STUDY ABOARD (732-263-5377)

Monmouth University strongly encourages students to study abroad for a semester and/or summer. Each year Monmouth sends over 100 students to study abroad and another 100 travel abroad on our ‘faculty-led’ programs. Information is available in our catalog and on the Study Abroad website as well as through numerous ‘First-Step Meetings’ that are held several times each semester.

Monmouth programs: We offer three semester programs and two summer programs. The semester programs are in London, England at Regent’s College; Sydney, Australia at Macquarie University; and Florence, Italy at Lorenzo de’ Medici (LdM). Our summer programs consist of a six-week program in Cadiz, Spain under the auspices of Centro Mundo Lengua in collaboration with the University of Andalucía-Cádiz, and a 4-week program in Italy at LdM. Students can take major, minor, and elective courses to fulfill Monmouth curriculum requirements. Students are charged the same tuition and fees as regular on-campus students pay and all financial aid, including merit awards and scholarships apply (except for athletic scholarships and tuition remission). Students can usually borrow funds, if necessary, for spending and travel while abroad.

For some majors, earning six or more credits during a study abroad program will satisfy the General Education Experiential Education requirement. Grades earned abroad will be posted to the student transcript but are not factored into the students’ cumulative GPA. To be eligible to apply for a study abroad program, students must have a minimum GPA of 2.75, sophomore status, and not be on judicial or academic probation.

Monmouth is also a long-time member of the College Consortium for International Studies (CCIS) that offers students over 80 study abroad program choices in 30 countries. For students participating in CCIS programs, only outside the major requirements or free elective credits will be accepted. In addition, students cannot be within 32 credit hours of graduation; typically, this means students cannot have completed more than 96 credit hours before studying abroad in a non-Monmouth program.

The Study Abroad Office is located in room 29 on the first floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Students are welcome to attend a ‘First-Step Meeting’ for general study abroad information or to make an appointment with the Assistant Director of Study Abroad. For academic advising, students should work with their departmental advisor, and make an appointment with the Director of Study Abroad. For more information, please visit http://www.monmouth.edu/study_abroad.

3.9 WEBFACULTY FOR FACULTY

Monmouth University provides web access to class and student records. Comprehensive training materials have been provided to faculty and are posted online at http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/faculty.asp.

Any questions concerning using WEBfaculty for grading, roster inquiry, student record retrieval, and the like should be addressed to the Registrar’s Office (732-571-3477).
CHAPTER 4: ACADEMIC POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

4.1 FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is federal legislation passed in 1974 which established guidelines governing the way educational institutions maintain and supervise student records. The law (also known as the "Buckley Amendment") requires the University to notify students and parents annually on how we comply with the law's requirements. The law is intended to assure students access to their official records; to provide a means of review should a student question the accuracy of a record; to assure that these records are used for legitimate educational purposes; and to control the release of records. The law permits the release of records without the prior consent of the student to appropriate University personnel, to parents if the student is claimed as a financial dependent on either parent's most recent federal income tax return, and for other circumstances as set forth in the law. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/procedures/ferpa_policy.asp

4.2 UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

Academic policies and regulations set by the University are reviewed periodically by the Faculty Council, the appropriate standing committee of the Faculty, or by ad hoc committees of the Faculty. This chapter contains some of the policies and regulations of interest to faculty members.

Additional policies and regulations are contained in the Monmouth University Catalogs, which may be accessed online at http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/important_information.asp

4.3 ACADEMIC CALENDAR

Academic calendars can be found in the University Catalogs and on the Monmouth University web site. Academic calendars generally consist of a 15-week fall semester (14 weeks of classes and one week of final examinations); a 15-week spring semester (split by a one-week Spring Break); and five summer sessions—Sessions A, B, and C begin in May, Session D in June, and Session E in July. Session times vary: A and D are four weeks, B and E are six weeks, and C is 12 weeks. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/calendars/default.asp

4.4 COURSE PRACTICES AND PLANNING

Faculty members, particularly in courses that are prerequisite for other courses and that have more than one section, shall endeavor to cover an agreed-upon body of material and to adhere to agreed-upon standards for the assignment of readings, written exercises, and activities. These standards can be found in the Master Course Syllabus for the course, which can be obtained from the host academic department.
Adjunct faculty are asked to schedule one office hour per week for each course taught. Arrangements for office space should be made with the Department Chair in which the adjunct is teaching.

For maximum teaching effectiveness, students should be provided with frequent and timely notifications of their progress. Unless the class has been notified otherwise, all written work should be returned in a timely manner to the students.

The instructor is required to keep all nonreturned materials that relate to the grading process for at least one year after the class has been completed. Attendance records should be kept for five years. Alternatively, these records may be turned over to the Department Chair upon filing of the final grades.

4.5 CLASS ROSTERS AND WHO MAY ATTEND YOUR CLASS

Class rosters should be obtained by each faculty member from their WEBfaculty account. The class roster is only attainable from the WEBfaculty account. Immediately after the conclusion of add/drop week, the Registrar’s Office will ask faculty to report on the accuracy of their electronic roster by comparing actual attendance to the electronic roster. Faculty members are required to report discrepancies to the Registrar’s Office by the deadline.

After discrepancies are reported to the Registrar’s Office, they will attempt to contact the students so they can resolve their registration problems. Students are not permitted to attend classes unless they are properly registered. Any student attempting to attend your class who does not appear on the electronic roster should be asked to leave class, go through the proper registration steps, and pay tuition if necessary at the Cashier’s Office. Once the student is registered, you may allow the student to attend your class. If you have any questions or require assistance, please contact the Office of the Registrar by phone at 732-571-3477 or by email at registrar@monmouth.edu.

In the past, there have been several instances of students previewing classes well into the semester and registering only for classes in which they have done well. It is important that faculty not allow students to attend classes for which they are not registered. Students who attempt to register for classes after the term concludes are frequently denied permission. Should you have any questions concerning student enrollment or registration, please contact the Registrar’s Office at 732-571-3477.

FACULTY ROSTER VERIFICATION

Monmouth University requires faculty to report on the accuracy of their electronic class roster(s) using WEBfaculty. The Provost and Registrar provide notice each term/session when the verification is done.
4.6 CLASS ATTENDANCE

Grades in courses are normally based on academic performance (participation, contribution, and examination). Faculty members are encouraged to adopt reasonable regulations that relate grades to class attendance. All faculty members will state their specific attendance policies in a written statement and will give it to the students as part of the syllabus during the first week of the semester (see section 4.11).

Students are not permitted to attend classes unless they are properly registered. If you have any students attending whose names did not appear on your WEBfaculty roster, the student should be asked to leave the class and go through the proper registration steps, and pay tuition, if necessary, at the Cashier’s Office. Once the student is registered, you may allow the student to attend your class.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

One of Monmouth University’s core values is Diversity, which encompasses respect for others, cultural and global understanding, and inclusion. Several faith traditions are represented on our campus, including Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, and Buddhism. Because of time constraints imposed by our academic calendar, it is necessary to schedule classes on religious holidays.

Faculty wishing to observe a religious holiday should consult with their department chairs to arrange for coverage or rescheduling of their affected classes. Students who intend to observe a holiday should inform the faculty member of the anticipated absence. Faculty should avoid conducting tests and examinations on these religious holidays and, whenever possible, provide make-up work and assignments for these students. Inform your students about these details. These simple guidelines will allow both faculty and students to observe religious holidays without having a negative effect on our academic program.

The list of religious holidays adopted by the New Jersey State Board of Education is available at http://www.state.nj.us/education/genfo/holidays.htm

ABSENCE OF THE INSTRUCTOR

Monmouth University expects all classes to be held as officially scheduled (time and place). In the event of illness or an emergency situation which makes it impossible for a faculty member to meet with a class, the department chair should be notified – in advance whenever possible. If the chair cannot be reached, the school dean must be advised. Classes should not be cancelled or dismissed early.
4.7 AUDITING COURSES

An auditor is a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading, and participate in class discussion, but is not required to take examinations. The auditor’s name will appear on the course roster.

Students who wish to audit a class must complete a “Permission to Audit a Class” e-FORM, which is available from the student’s WEBstudent account. This application must be received prior to the third class meeting. Auditor registration is subject to course section availability. Auditors may be removed from classes after registering if seats are needed for matriculating students.

No more than two (2) courses may be audited per semester. Students may not change the status of their registration in a course to “audit” or to “for credit” during the term. If, in the opinion of the faculty member, an auditor has not participated or attended sufficiently to warrant inclusion of the course on the student’s transcript, the faculty member may so advise the Office of the Registrar at the time final grades are submitted.

4.8 CLASSROOM CHANGES

If an assigned classroom is not suitable, faculty members should speak to their department chair to express their concerns. The department chair should then contact the Assistant Registrar for Scheduling and Course Management in the Office of the Registrar 732-263-5823 for assistance. Every attempt to accommodate faculty, student and classroom needs will be made. Please remember that classroom assignments may not be changed without the proper authorization.

4.9 WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

Students are expected to complete the courses for which they register. On occasion, however, withdrawals are warranted. Students who do not intend to complete any course for which they are officially registered should execute an official withdrawal prior to the “W” deadline. Students withdrawing from some courses while remaining registered for one or more courses are required to complete a “Withdraw from Course” e-FORM on WEBstudent. The official date of a withdrawal is the date the completed form is received in the Office of the Registrar. The withdrawal form must be received prior to the Withdrawal (“W”) deadline date, as published in the Academic Calendar. Withdrawn students are noted on the course roster, available through the WEBfaculty menu.

Students, who wish to completely withdraw from the University, intending not to return to Monmouth, must complete a total withdrawal form, available as an e-FORM on WEBstudent.
4.10 FINAL EXAMINATIONS

Final examinations, where required, shall be held during the times officially scheduled. Class time in undergraduate and graduate courses shall not be devoted to a final examination. The schedule of examinations should be announced in class. The faculty member is responsible for proctoring the examination. In classes for which take-home final examinations are given, faculty are still expected to meet with their classes during the final examination period.

A student who has three or more final examinations scheduled on one day may request that one of the examinations be rescheduled; it is normally the middle one of the three that is rescheduled. Rescheduled examinations are to be given by agreement between the student and the faculty member on or before the last day of the examination period.

For undergraduate courses, final examination grades may represent no more than one third of the term grade. There is no comparable requirement for graduate courses.

Students' final examinations must be kept on file by the faculty member for a period of one year from the date on which they are administered. Students have the right to review the graded examination in the presence of the instructor.

4.11 CLASS SYLLABUS

A class syllabus must be given to students during the first week of classes. It should be consistent with the Master Course Syllabus, available from the Department Chair or School Dean. At a minimum, the class syllabus should include the following:

Semester:

Course Code: (e.g., BY 101)

Course Title:

Course Objectives (Theses should be stated in a manner in which student learning can be assessed):

Class Schedule (e.g., MTh 10:00-11:15 am; Frame D; BH 127):

Instructor:

Office Hours:

Office Location:

Office Telephone:

E-mail Address:
Required Texts:

Recommended Readings:

Course Requirements (e.g., term paper, exams, journals, lab):

Methods of Evaluation and Grading Policy:

Attendance Requirement: Consult with your department chair for language appropriate for your course.

Last date to withdraw with automatic assignment of “W” grade:

Statement on Academic Honesty: Consult with your department chair for language appropriate for your course.

Statement on Special Accommodations: Consider using the following statement: Students with disabilities who need special accommodations for this course are encouraged to meet with the appropriate disability service provider on campus as soon as possible. In order to receive accommodations, students must be registered with the appropriate disability service provider on campus as set forth in the Student Handbook and must follow the University procedure for self-disclosure, which is stated in the University Guide to Services and Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Students will not be afforded any special accommodations for academic work completed prior to the completion of the documentation process with the appropriate disability service office.

Outline of Course Content and Schedule (weekly or daily schedule of course topics, including approximate date of quizzes, tests, and term papers):

Notes to Students (e.g., general comments about the instructor’s expectations and hints for achieving academic success).

Reference to Student Handbook and Undergraduate Catalog for other University regulations.

Turnitin: If you plan to use the Turnitin plagiarism detection software for your teaching, include a statement about it in your syllabus. You may adapt the following statement to suit your course:

Turnitin: Assignments in this course may be checked for plagiarism using Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. I will inform you in advance about which assignments will be checked for originality using Turnitin.

Students agree that, by taking this course, all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such
In any higher education community, respectful conduct and discourse are critically important to maintaining a productive classroom environment. The professor plays a key role in determining the classroom environment, and experienced teachers know that these matters cannot be left to chance. Faculty rights and responsibilities with regard to civility in the classroom are broadly defined in Monmouth University’s “Community Statement on Civility” (available in the current Student Handbook):

Members of the faculty are ultimately responsible for what occurs inside the classroom environment. If, after suitable dialogue, a consensus on behavioral parameters cannot be reached, the faculty member’s decision on these is final.

How this definition translates into the individual classroom is up to the individual professor. Faculty are encouraged to reflect on their sensibilities regarding appropriate classroom behavior, consulting with their department chairs and other trusted colleagues, to determine the most appropriate behavioral standards for their individual courses. Further, guidelines for appropriate classroom behavior should be addressed in the course syllabus, during the first class meeting of the semester, and at relevant points throughout the semester.

When determining standards for individual courses, consider encouraging behaviors that facilitate students’ pursuit of the academic mission of Monmouth University; such behaviors may include treating fellow students and professors with respect and civility, regular class participation, regular attendance, coming prepared, and completing assigned readings. In addition, it may be appropriate to address behaviors that distract from teaching and learning. Some common issues that your colleagues have addressed in the past include potentially distracting behaviors such as tardiness or leaving the classroom after class has begun, sleeping during class, eating during class, use of electronic devices (cellular telephones, personal stereos, etc.), attention to extraneous reading material, personal conversations, and use of laptops or tablet computers. In some cases faculty may feel the need to proactively address behaviors such as obscene gestures and foul, abusive, or demeaning language.

Note that faculty have been more effective in creating and maintaining an environment of professional civility when they engage in the appropriate behaviors themselves. For example, students are far more likely to prepare for class and arrive on time when they observe that their professor engages in these behaviors. In addition, students occasionally have special circumstances that prevent them from living up to the standards outlined in the syllabus. Faculty are encouraged to be receptive to students who have legitimate reasons for requesting reasonable allowances.
4.13 GRADING UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

In undergraduate courses, mid-term grades are required to be electronically submitted to the Office of the Registrar by the date specified in the academic calendar.

The Office of the Registrar will issue a schedule for the reporting of final grades. Final course grades shall be reported to the Office of the Registrar on or before the prescribed deadlines (72 hours after the final examination has been completed except for examinations scheduled for the last day of the examination period, for which the deadline is 48 hours after the final examination has been completed).

Faculty members are expected to report midterm and final grades for all students on the official electronic grade roster using WEBfaculty at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu. No items are to be left blank. The date of last attendance should be recorded for each student receiving a final grade of “F.” Failure to return final grades by the official deadline without the express permission of the Registrar constitutes serious neglect of professional duty.

The undergraduate grading system is as follows:

- A, A- Exceptional Performance
- B+, B, B- Strong Performance
- C+, C, C- Adequate Performance
- D+, D, D- Poor Performance
- F Failing. This grade is given for failure in a course; for unofficial withdrawal from a course after the deadline (see “W” grade); or, in some instances, when an Incomplete grade is not changed by the end of the next regular semester (see “I” grade).
- P Pass. This grade is given for satisfactory completion of the Math Proficiency requirement, and other requirements without institutional credit. This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).
- R Re-Registration Required. This grade is given when a student has made significant, but not sufficient, progress in a developmental course. (See the section entitled “DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES” in the Monmouth University undergraduate catalog). This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).
- AU Audit. This grade is given to a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge, but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading and participate in class discussions, but is not required to take examinations.
- T Transfer. This grade is given to incoming students for courses accepted for transfer by Monmouth University. This grade is not computed in the grade point average (GPA).
W Withdrawal. This grade is given for withdrawal from a course or courses up to five weeks before the last day of classes in a regular semester or its equivalent in a shorter term. See the academic calendar for the last date to withdraw in a given semester or term.

X Incomplete. This grade is given in cases where permission has been granted by the instructor to postpone completion of specific required work, such as a laboratory project or report or a missed final examination. This grade is not intended for situations where in the judgment of the instructor, the student must retake the course for an entire semester in order to earn a passing grade. The Incomplete grade, therefore, should not be used in cases where a grade of "F" would be appropriate. The student must complete the work within the time granted by the professor, and no later than the end of the next regular semester. If the unfinished work is not completed within the specified time, an "F" grade will be recorded, unless the instructor indicates otherwise at the time the incomplete was originally approved.

S Satisfactory Progress. This grade is given at the end of the first semester when satisfactory progress has been made in an undergraduate course, which is part of a sequence of courses that take more than one semester to complete.

NR No Report. This temporary grade is given by the Registrar at mid-term when no grade has been received from the instructor at the time that the official grades are issued.

X Credit by Exam. Portfolio Credit.

4.14 GRADING GRADUATE COURSES

In graduate courses, midterm grades are not submitted. The Office of the Registrar will issue a schedule for the reporting of final grades. Final course grades shall be reported to the Registrar on or before the prescribed deadlines (72 hours after the final examination has been completed except for examinations scheduled for the last day of the examination period for which the deadline is 48 hours after the final examination has been completed).

Faculty members are expected to report final grades for all students on the official electronic grade roster using WEBfaculty. No items are to be left blank. The date of last attendance should be recorded for each student receiving a final grade of “F.” Failure to return final grades by the official deadline without the express permission of the Registrar constitutes serious neglect of professional duty.

The graduate grading system is as follows:

A, A- Exceptional Performance
B+, B, B- Average
C+, C, C- Poor
F  Failing. This grade is given for failure in a course; for withdrawal from a course after the deadline (see "W" grade); or for failure to remove an Incomplete by the end of the next regular semester.

AU Audit. This grade is given to a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge, but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading and participate in class discussions, but is not required to take examinations.

W Withdrawal. This grade is given for withdrawal from a course or courses up to five weeks before the last day of classes in a regular semester or its equivalent in a shorter term. See the academic calendar for the last date to withdraw in a given semester or term.

X Incomplete. This grade is given in cases where permission has been granted by the instructor to postpone completion of specific required work, such as a laboratory project or report or a missed final examination. This grade is not intended for situations where in the judgment of the instructor, the student must retake the course for an entire semester in order to earn a passing grade. The Incomplete grade, therefore, should not be used in cases where a grade of "F" would be appropriate. The student should request permission by completing the appropriate form and submitting it to the faculty member. The student must complete the work within the time granted by the professor, and no later than the end of the next regular semester. If the unfinished work is not completed within the specified time, an "F" grade will be recorded, unless the instructor indicates otherwise at the time the incomplete was originally approved.

S Satisfactory Progress. This grade is given at the end of a semester when work in a graduate course is satisfactory but requires more than one semester for completion. Students who receive an “S” grade must register for one credit, Continuation of Thesis/Project (REG 500) in subsequent semesters until the work is complete. A continuance allows the student to use University facilities while continuing to work within the designated graduate program.

NR No Report. This temporary grade is given by the Registrar when no grade has been received from the instructor at the time that the grade reports are printed.

P Pass. This grade is given for satisfactory completion of a course that is graded on a Pass/Fail basis. This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).

Credit by Exam. Portfolio Credit.

4.15 GRADE REPORTS

MID-TERM GRADES

In undergraduate courses, midterm grades are required to be submitted electronically to the Office of the Registrar by the date specified in the academic calendar.
FINAL GRADES

Final grades are required to be submitted electronically to the Office of the Registrar by the reporting deadline. The Registrar will issue a schedule for the reporting of the final grades.

4.16 GRADE CHANGES

To initiate a Change of Grade, faculty should submit an e-FORM, which will be routed through the necessary approval process. E-FORMS are accessible from the faculty WEBadvisor menu at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu. The University's position is that the grade assigned by faculty at the end of a term represents accurate evaluation of the student's work for the term; consequently, when a grade change is requested, and, particularly, if the grade change is of more than one semester's standing, the faculty member must provide information and documentation concerning what was erroneous in the original grade and why the new grade should be assigned. The Undergraduate Academic Standards and Review Committee or the Academic Standards and Review Subcommittee of the Graduate Studies Committee reviews all grade changes that concern courses taken more than one year earlier than the date of the submission of the grade change for undergraduate or graduate students respectively. Changes to a grade after a student has graduated will not be considered.

4.17 ENHANCING ACADEMIC HONESTY

ESTABLISHING AN ENVIRONMENT OF ACADEMIC HONESTY

One major cause of cheating is the perception that it is not strongly discouraged by the faculty. An especially important way to overcome this belief is for each faculty member to make it plain to each class at the beginning of a semester exactly what his or her expectations will be in regard to cheating on exams, plagiarism, independent work on outside assignments and so forth. Clear and definite statements of policy in the course syllabus as well as an introductory talk covering these points are recommended. The serious consequences of detected cases of cheating should be emphasized.

Faculty members should enlist the participation of students in maintaining an environment of academic honesty in the classroom. For the purpose of signaling any problems in this regard, this should include encouraging students to come forward voluntarily to report instances of academic dishonesty. It must be emphasized that the reporting student will not be required to provide specific detail, such as identifying the students involved, and that he or she will be assured of complete confidentiality.

When a student volunteers a report of academic dishonesty, the faculty member should assure the student that the report will be taken seriously. Similarly, faculty members should be willing to pursue serious violations of academic honesty with the University Disciplinary Committee in order to demonstrate that such violations will not be tolerated by the University community. However, as much as possible, emphasis on academic honesty should be positive rather than negative. Considerable tact will be required to avoid the impression that all students are considered to be dishonest, and this is especially important for the non-traditional students attending Monmouth University, many of whom are mature adults holding down responsible professional positions during the daytime. One possible approach is to make it clear—as is actually the case—that precautions against academic dishonesty are for the purpose of protecting the honest majority from being unfairly placed at a disadvantage by a few miscreants.

REDUCING THE TEMPTATION TO CHEAT

Students may be tempted into academic dishonesty out of desperation when a course grade depends on only one or two major examinations and/or term papers. Frequent quizzes, hour exams, and homework assignments are recommended to spread the evaluation of the student's work more evenly over the semester and to give frequent feedback on the student's progress. In addition, the students should be made aware of at least some of the steps being taken to detect cheating.

TESTS

Giving the same examination year after year is the most frequently cited example of faculty carelessness with respect to academic honesty. It is well known that some groups have collections of old exams. It is most important that tests be varied from semester to semester. In addition, care should be taken to safeguard tests before they are given. (For example, there have been reports that students have gone through faculty wastepaper baskets or entered faculty offices for the purpose of obtaining copies of exams.) If tests are prepared by using a word processor, copies of the test should not be left on the disk of any computer that is accessible to students.

As reinforcement, before administering each test the instructor might well repeat the policy regarding cheating. While the examination is in progress, the instructor should actively proctor the class rather than sit at the front reading. Students should be seated in alternate rows where possible or different tests (differing perhaps only by altering the order of the questions) might be assigned to different rows. Students should be required to store all books, papers, and other personal belongings under their seats or—preferably—at the front of the room. They should not be allowed to tear pages out of the blue books, and care should be taken to see that all blue books are returned by students who have used more than one. If scratch paper is required, it should be supplied by the instructor, who should require that it all be returned at the conclusion of the test, or preferably the students should be instructed to use pages at the rear of blue book, which can later be crossed out. The provision of standard-model hand calculators for use during a test should be considered in courses where the memorization of formulas is required. Instructors should be alert to some current electronic methods used to cheat which can include signals from silent beepers, text messaging by students who have already taken the exam, and prerecorded notes on hidden audio recorders. In larger classes, the instructor should make every effort to know his or her students to prevent someone from taking the test for another student.

When grading tests, instructors should strike through wrong answers with indelible pen or pencil to prevent subsequent alteration. When a student is suspected of altering tests in order to claim later that they were misgraded, some of the tests should be photocopied by the instructor before being given back, and the class should be informed that this is being done. Also, a check mark should be left on all blank pages at the end of the blue book to prevent a later claim that an answer was overlooked.

TURNITIN PLAGIARISM DETECTION RESOURCE

Note that Monmouth University faculty members have access to Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based plagiarism detection resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. This database includes current and archived internet resources, periodicals, journals and other publications, and past student papers from Monmouth and other educational institutions.

Faculty can access Turnitin within the eCampus system through the Dropbox tool—which is the most popular method by far—or by connecting directly to the Turnitin.com website. Use of the Turnitin service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin site.

If you plan to use this resource in your classes, you should include statements about Turnitin in your syllabi. Here is a statement, created with the assistance of our General Counsel’s office that should suit your needs. Feel free to adapt it to suit your courses, as appropriate:

Turnitin: Assignments in this course may be checked for plagiarism using Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. I will inform you in advance about which assignments will be checked for originality using Turnitin.

Students agree that, by taking this course, all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin.com site.

In addition, be sure to talk about your use of Turnitin.com in the first class meeting of the semester, and remind students of your planned use of the software on individual assignment handouts.

Questions about Turnitin should be directed to Academic Foundations – General Education (732-571-3637) for teaching and learning matters, or Information Support (732-923-4357) for technology matters. There is also an eCampus community with resources for faculty, accessible by changing your role to Student. Note that the eCampus community provides information about the other resources provided by Turnitin.com, including GradeMark (online grading) and PeerMark (peer review and feedback).

HOMEWORK EXERCISES

Precisely what degree of collaboration between students is acceptable in doing homework should be made clear in the syllabus issued at the beginning of the semester, and, when appropriate to the subject, the instructor should motivate the students to do homework as independently as possible by emphasizing the benefit to be gained from working out the exercises. The instructor should also reinforce this by careful reading and grading of all work turned in, which should be returned to the student with written comments where appropriate. When reading homework assignments, the instructor should be alert to work duplicated on different papers. Homework assignments, like tests, should not be repeated without variation from semester to semester, since some student groups keep copies of old assignments. In some cases, the temptation to cheat on homework can be reduced by giving it relatively low weight in determining the course grade. Students should also be quizzed or tested on the contents of outside reading assignments, and if commercial abridgments of longer texts are available, the students should be questioned about materials not included in the abridgment.

RESEARCH PAPERS

When a research paper is assigned, specific objectives for the paper and the criteria to be used in grading it should be specified. Exactly what constitutes plagiarism should also be carefully defined at the time the paper is assigned. Monmouth’s office of Tutoring and Writing Services offers a resource that may be used at http://www.monmouth.edu/uploadedFiles/Resources_for_Writers/Research_and_Documentation/Plagiarism.pdf. In addition to defining plagiarism and making reference to Monmouth’s policy on plagiarism, it describes documentation techniques at length. Note that this office provides other resources for writers that may be helpful for your students as they prepare their papers; these resources can be found at http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/css/writing/ResourcesForWriters.aspx.

The most effective means of ensuring that each student actually prepares his or her own paper is to monitor the progress of the work in stages by requiring students to turn in by specified dates preliminary outlines, bibliographies, research notes, and rough drafts. In addition, the range of topics permitted should be reasonably limited, and a student should not be allowed to switch topics late in the project. The format of the paper should be specified and papers not in conformance should not be accepted, nor should photocopied papers instead of originals. When appropriate, a quiz might be given covering the knowledge that students should have gained in preparing their papers, or the instructor might interview students individually during the course of the project. The finished papers might be kept on file by the department for a few years to prevent the submission of a copy of previous work. Faculty members also have the option to archive their students’ assignments for future plagiarism checks when they use the Turnitin.com resource.

As a general practice, Faculty should make sufficiently detailed comments and corrections on student assignments so that students understand the basis for the assigned grade. Such a practice, as research and experience have shown, increases student commitment to the learning process and respect for faculty as course instructors.

CONFRONTING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

All acts of academic dishonesty should be promptly discussed with the student and reported to the Provost’s Office. An e-FORM is available on WEBfaculty at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu for this purpose. It can be found in the “Document Library” in the “Advisors 2” folder. The Provost’s Office will respond if the student has a previous history.

STUDENT DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

Monmouth University does not tolerate academic dishonesty or any other violations of the Student Code of Conduct. Cheating and plagiarism should be dealt with as described in the current Student Handbook under Academic Dishonesty which can be found at http://monmouth.edu/student_handbook/default.asp.

4.18 SUBMISSION OF THE SAME WORK FOR TWO COURSES

The submission of the same or essentially the same work for two separate courses without the express permission of all faculty members involved is not permitted. There is no intention to work against student research efforts that cross over departmental and/or course lines. Indeed, more complex projects with an interdisciplinary focus are highly desirable; however, faculty members involved with such a project must know in advance what is being done, and there must be mutual agreement about the project.

4.19 ORDERING TEXTBOOKS AND DIGITAL MATERIALS

The Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 requires that all institutions of Higher Learning make available for students at the time of registration a list of required and recommended course materials, including international standard book numbers and current retail prices. The University Store therefore will request that to the maximum extent practicable, faculty submit course material orders to the Store no later than the March prior to the upcoming summer, fall, and spring semesters. The University Store works with the Office of the Registrar to ensure course information is posted to the Store adoptions site and available for course material requests in a timely manner.
It is recognized by Congress that there are situations (late added sections, new faculty hires for sections) that prohibit the complete fulfillment of this requirement. Also, it is not the desire of the law that incorrect or inaccurate information be posted. If the curriculum is being restructured or new course material decisions are being made, orders should not be placed until you are certain they are accurate.

The law also gives faculty certain rights when considering textbooks. Publishers must disclose the current net price of the book (price to the institution before any markup) and all changes to the materials from the prior edition. The University Store has more information on these aspects of the law; please contact them with your questions.

Placing orders – The University store maintains a website through which course material adoptions may be placed. Faculty will be notified via email when the website is open for adoptions. Registration is required prior to using the website; each academic department has a unique initial sign-in. We also have tools which can aid and assist in title research. Faculty are encouraged to contact the University Store Textbook Department with any questions regarding the ordering process at 732-263-5404 or bookstore@monmouth.edu

Electronic Books – Under the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, institutions are encouraged to offer lower-cost alternatives to traditional textbooks. The University Store offers electronic books (“E-books“). Although not all titles are available as E-books.

E-books reside on a students’ laptop hard drive or are available on a web browser; this will require students to have access to a laptop during classes, a practice which some faculty may not encourage. Should you prefer that E-books not be offered for your classes, contact the University Store textbook department when placing your adoptions to have the E-book option deleted from your classes.

4.20 USING CUSTOMIZED COURSE MATERIALS IN THE CLASSROOM

Faculty members who wish to select their own materials and offer a customized course packet for their students need to be aware that it requires the selection of appropriate material, contacting appropriate publisher to commence copyright clearance and publication procedure, and to provide the University Store with title, publisher and pricing information (as well as ISBN, if applicable) as soon as available.

A number of publishers now provide copyright clearance services. The University Store can provide you with a list of available publishers upon request.

SOURCES OF MATERIAL

The holdings of the University Library or any other library (including your own) may provide you with the inspiration for specific items you wish to include in a course packet. Course packets by their nature are not covered under the copyright provisions of “fair use” (they are neither spontaneously assembled, nor of sufficient brevity to justify the “fair use” designation). Unless the material is old enough to no longer be covered by copyright, or is in the public domain, you should expect to pay some kind of royalty payment to the author, estate, or copyright holder.

COPYRIGHT CLEARANCE CENTER

The University Store utilizes the services of an outside copyright clearance provider. The University is charged both a processing fee per citation and the royalties on copies actually printed and sold. Although the processing charge is nominal, be aware that combined with the per copy royalty fee, the cost of small orders of course packets can be prohibitive.

Please follow these procedures if you wish to assemble a course packet:

1. Assemble and make copies of all materials to be included in the packet. The inclusion of original copies will vastly expedite the clearance process.

2. At least 8 weeks prior to the start of class, bring all materials to the Store, or call the Store at 732-571-3453 to arrange for the materials to be picked up. Provide the Store with course number, date of use, and estimated number of copies required.

3. Upon clearance of all articles, the course pack will be released for publication. Originals are returned to the Store via next day air, and the pack will then be printed at the Copy Center.

See also section 5.4 “Copyright Policy – Related to Library Use.”

PRICING

Royalty payments are rarely inexpensive. Publishers are not uniform in how they calculate; some may charge a flat rate per article, others charge per page.

All costs of royalties and processing will be passed along in the retail cost of the course pack, as well as the costs of printing and a Store markup on the printing costs only to cover store expenses and the costs of any unsold packs.

FURTHER INFORMATION

The University Store has available a publication “Questions and Answers on Copyright for the Campus Community,” which answers common questions on the “fair use” doctrine and has been expanded to cover software and internet issues. Please call the Store if you would like a copy, or have any questions on the course pack process.
A three credit lecture course equates to 9 clock hours: 3 hours class time, 3 hours prep (corresponding to credit value of course), 1 office hour, 2 hours for grading/email questions

A two credit lecture course equates to 7 clock hours: 2 hours class time, 2 hours prep (corresponding to credit value of course), 1 office hour, 2 hours grading/email questions

Generalization for an n-credit lecture courses: CH (Clock Hours) = n (class time) + n (prep time) +1 (office hour) +2 (grading/email questions) = 2n + 3.

A three credit art studio courses that necessarily has 6 contact hours equates to 12 clock hours: 6 hours class time, 3 hours prep (corresponding to credit value of course), 1 office hour, 2 hours for grading/email questions

A two credit lab science course that meets for 6 contact hours per week equates to 11 clock hours: 6 hours class time, 2 hours prep (corresponding to credit value of course), 1 office hour, 2 hours for grading/email questions

Generalization for an n-credit laboratory course that meets for m-contact hours per week: CH = m (contact hours) + +n (prep time corresponding to credit value of course) + 1 (office hour) + 2 (grading/email questions) =  m + n + 3.

An n-credit social work course having a field seminar with m students enrolled equates to  n + .5m + 4 clock hours: .5n (lecture portion) + .5n (prep time) +1 (office hour) +3 (grading/email questions) +.5m. For example, in a 6-credit lecture/field course in which 14 students are enrolled, CH = 3 (half of course’s credit value) + 3 (prep time equated to lecture portion) + 1 (office hour) +3 (grading/email questions) + 7 (half of the number of students enrolled) = 17.

For independent study courses, thesis courses, and service learning courses (regardless of the credit value of the course), calculate the clock hour equivalent as one hour per week per student, one office hour, and 2 hours grading/email questions. For example, in a 4-credit independent in which three students are enrolled, CH = 3 (# of students) +1 (office hour) +2 hours grading/email questions) = 6.
5.2 AFFIRMATIVE ACTION/EQUAL OPPORTUNITY POLICY

The Director of the Office of Equity and Diversity is designated as the Equal Employment Opportunity Coordinator of the Affirmative Action Program for Monmouth University and is responsible for its implementation, as well as the designated Title IX Coordinator and ADA/504 Coordinator. The Director’s telephone number is 732-571-7577. If any employee has a suggestion, problem, or complaint, he or she should feel free to contact the Director. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/university/equity-and-diversity.aspx

5.3 ETHICAL PRINCIPLES

Monmouth University, as an educational institution and learning community, is based upon certain core values, including responsible citizenship, integrity, honor, accountability, mutual respect, leadership, and service. These and other core values are fundamental to the University community and the ethical standards of the University and its members. These values, as well as those set forth in the Monmouth University Human Relations Philosophy and Policy Statement, form the basis of our Code of Ethics.

Ethics and integrity are the responsibility of each individual. Every member of the faculty, staff, student body, and any other person acting on behalf of the University is responsible for ethical conduct consistent with our Code and Monmouth University’s policies. University administration, deans, department chairs, and others in supervisory positions must assume responsibility for ensuring that their conduct, and the operations for areas which they supervise, complies with this Code. The Monmouth University Code of Ethics is a statement of our belief in ethical, legal, and professional behavior in all dealings within and outside of the University.

Faculty should familiarize themselves with our Code of Ethics. This information is available online and in the second section below.
For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/general_counsel/ethics.asp

ETHICAL PRINCIPLES FOR TEACHING

Monmouth University faculty members play a unique role in the education process, and therefore must address additional ethical considerations in their day-to-day work. For guidance on these points, we recommend that faculty consult the American Association for Higher Education and Accreditation (AAHEA) statement on Ethical Principles for College and University Teaching.
Individual Accountability and Responsibility

Members of the University community are expected to exercise responsibility appropriate to their position and delegated authority. They are responsible to the University community for their actions and their decision not to act. Each individual member is expected to conduct the business of the University in accordance with this Code of Ethics in order to best serve the interests of the University.

Employees are responsible for prompt reporting of any violations of this Code, or any other instances of reasonably suspected fraud or malfeasance through the individual’s chain of command at the University. Students should report violations of this Code to the Vice President for Student Services. Violations of the Code of Ethics may result in termination from the University or student disciplinary action. If the employee is not comfortable reporting an incident through their supervisor, the employee should report the matter directly to the Internal Auditor or the Office of the General Counsel.

No employee or student shall retaliate, in any manner, against an individual who reports a perceived conflict of interest matter pursuant to this policy. Any employee or student who makes such a report in bad faith shall be subject to disciplinary action.

Conflicts of Interest

All employees (faculty, administration, and staff) and students of Monmouth University have an obligation to avoid activities or situations that may result in a conflict of interest. Full-time employees are expected to place their primary professional loyalty with the University. All employees are expected to arrange their outside obligations, financial interests, and activities as not to conflict with their commitment to the University. Employees must not use their official positions to secure unwarranted privileges or advantages for themselves or others. Please refer the Monmouth University Student Code of Conduct for guidance on student conflicts of interest.

All employees and students have an obligation to examine any situation in which they may have a conflict of interest and take steps to resolve the conflict. Any employee who is concerned that a conflict may exist or how to resolve it should consult with his/her department head. Students should consult with the Vice President for Student Services. Upon determination that a conflict of interest exists, appropriate action will be taken, through recusal, reassignment, or other means to resolve the conflict of interest. No action will be taken without the opportunity for the involved employee or student to be heard with regard to whether a conflict of interest exists and what action, if any, should be taken.
The potential for a conflict of interest extends across a wide range of activities in the University. Conflicts of interest that must be avoided by employees and students include, but are not limited to:

Personal Relationships in the Workplace and Classroom

Members of the same family working in a direct supervisory relationship within the same department of the University or in a faculty/student relationship.

Consensual, amorous, or sexual relationships (including relationships with students) in connection with the supervision or evaluation of others, which involve activities or communications that exceed the recognized boundaries of faculty/student, coach/athlete, or supervisor/employee relationships.

Employees and students serving upon any committee or group responsible for the supervision or evaluation of others with whom they have a familial, amorous, or sexual relationship.

Outside Activities

Volunteer activities (except for professional organizations, conferences, seminars, etc.) that interfere with commitments to the University or activity that is not authorized by the University, which explicitly holds the employee or student out as being an official representative of the University or that the University endorses an organization or activity. This provision shall not be interpreted to restrict an individual employee’s right, consistent with the University’s mission, to foster the expression of ideas and debate with regard to issues of concern to the University community.

Partisan political activity prohibited by federal and state law, regulations, or by University policy, when on University property, during working hours, or using University resources or the University name.

Outside business conducted during working hours, using the University resources (including but not limited to, equipment, computers, supplies, or other similar property) or name (except for professional activities that increase job skills and are of direct benefit to the University). (Refer to the Monmouth University Faculty Association Agreement for policy on consulting and the Non-Academic Employee Handbook for policy on consulting/outside employment).

Outside businesses owned by an employee that directly compete with the University, sell goods or services to the University, or receive funding from the University. (Refer to the conflict of interest statement in the University Purchasing Manual and the Policy on Conflict of Interest in Sponsored Research).
For the purposes of this section, the term “working hours” shall be interpreted to mean the hours an employee is required or expected to be performing his/her University duties and responsibilities in accordance with their status as a member of the faculty, administration, or staff.

Purchasing and Contracts

Negotiation, authorization, or execution of purchasing agreements or other types of contracts with the University in situations where the individual has a direct or indirect financial or other interest or the acceptance of gifts, favors, or other things of value from vendors or contractors. (Refer to the conflict of interest statement in the University Purchasing Manual).

Fundraising

Acceptance of gifts from donors under circumstances in which an employee or others on their behalf will personally benefit from the gift. (Refer to the Office of University Advancement Policies and Procedures Manual for Development Activities). This policy shall not prohibit employees from applying for and receiving grant funds that are connected with academic scholarship or official University activities.

Attendance at Vendor Sponsored Events

Employees of the University shall not attend any event, function, conference, or other activity for which their expenses or costs (including items such as transportation, lodging, and food) are paid for or provided, in whole or in part, by a vendor doing business with the University, or actively seeking business with the University, under circumstances whereby it would be a conflict of interest, or create an appearance of impropriety, for the employee to attend the event, function, conference, or other activity. In determining the propriety of attending any event, function, conference, or other activity under this policy, the following factors shall be considered:

- The identity of the employee and the nature of the employee’s responsibility for dealing with the vendor including whether the employee has primary responsibility for the selection of the vendor and supervision of the vendor’s activities on behalf of the University.
- The nature and value of the benefits that are to be provided by the vendor.
- Whether the vendor is currently seeking, or will in the near future be seeking, an initial contractual relationship or a renewal of its contractual relationship with the University.
- Whether an issue currently exists with regard to a vendor’s services to the University where it might be perceived that the vendor’s actions are an attempt to influence a determination on that issue.
The prohibitions set forth in this policy shall also apply to members of the employee’s family or other individuals receiving such benefit from a vendor due to their relationship with the employee.

Individual employees receiving an invitation from a University vendor or from a vendor actively seeking to do business with the University for any benefit described in this policy shall review the circumstances of the invitation with the University’s Vice President and General Counsel prior to acceptance of any invitation.

It is not the intent of this policy to prohibit the receipt of occasional gifts of nominal value or occasional meals paid for by a vendor. It is also not the intent of this policy to prohibit the receipt of benefits from a vendor when the acceptance of such benefits would not create a conflict of interest or an appearance of impropriety. Employees are encouraged to seek advice from the Office of the General Counsel over whether the value of a gift received qualifies as nominal.

Compliance with Applicable Laws and Regulations

Institutions of higher education are subject to many of the same laws and regulations as other businesses. There are also additional requirements unique to higher education. Members of the University community are expected to become familiar with the laws and regulations that affect their areas of responsibility. Many but not all legal requirements are detailed in University policies. Failure to comply may have serious adverse consequences both for individuals and for the University in terms of reputation, finances, and the health and safety of the University community. University business is to be conducted in conformance with legal requirements. Members of the University community who have a question regarding the interpretation of legal requirements should contact the Office of the General Counsel.

Compliance with University Policies and Procedures

Monmouth University policies and procedures are designed to inform employees about responsibilities, to set minimum standards, and to give the University community notice of expectations. Members of the University community are expected to transact all University business in compliance with policies and procedures and have an obligation to become familiar with those that affect their areas of responsibilities. Members of the University community are expected to seek clarification from the Office of the General Counsel or other appropriate office on a policy or procedure that he/she finds to be unclear, outdated, or in conflict with the mission of the University.

Financial Reporting

All University accounting and financial records, tax reports, expense reports, time sheets, and other documents including those submitted to government agencies must be accurate, clear, and complete. All published financial reports must make full, fair, accurate, and timely disclosures as required under generally accepted accounting principles. Additionally, employees are responsible for reporting to management any known instances of fraudulent or misleading reporting information.

Internal Control

Internal controls are the processes used to help ensure that the University’s business is carried out in accordance with this Code of Ethics, University policies and procedures, applicable laws and regulations, and best business practices. They help to promote efficient operations, accurate financial reporting, protection of assets, and responsible fiscal management. All members of the University community are responsible for internal controls. Each business unit or department head is specifically responsible for ensuring that internal controls are established, properly documented, and maintained for activities within their jurisdiction. Any individual entrusted with funds is responsible for ensuring that adequate internal controls exist over the use and accountability of such funds.

5.4 COPYRIGHT POLICY – RELATED TO LIBRARY USE

The Monmouth University community adheres to the requirements of the United States Copyright Law of 1976, as amended, (Title 17, United States Code, hereinafter, the “Copyright Act”). In addition, Monmouth University adheres to the restrictions governing the reproduction of software. The University also ensures that the copying of materials under fair use provisions of the Copyright Act is not exceeded. The main guidelines for compliance with the Copyright Act are as follows:

- Uncopyrighted materials may be copied freely and without restriction. Prior to March 1, 1989, a copyright notice was generally required on any work to be copyright protected. Because a copyright notice is not required for copyright protection of works published on or after March 1, 1989, most works (except those authored by the US Government) should be presumed to be copyright protected. Occasionally, but not often, the copyright holder of a work will indicate that he/she intends the work to be in the public domain.

- Copying of copyrighted software may occur without the copyright owner’s permission only in accordance with the Copyright Act. The copyright Act (Section 117) permits the making of a single archival back-up copy. Some software licenses may grant “permission” to make copies of the software in excess of the single archival copy permitted by the Copyright Act. Before you copy, check to find out what is permitted in the license.

  Faculty, staff, and students may also not use unauthorized copies of software on computers owned by or housed at Monmouth University.

- Copyrighted materials may be copied without the copyright owner’s permission where such copying constitutes “fair use” under the Copyright Act. The specific fair use criteria supported by the United States Congress have been set out in a brochure published by the National Association of College Stores, Inc. and the Association of American Publishers. They are included at the end of this policy.

- In cases where copying of copyrighted materials extends beyond what is either permitted by license (in the case of software) or fair use, permission to copy should be obtained from the copyright holder.
- Faculty or staff members shall be held personally responsible for their defense of an action for copyright infringement which contradicts Monmouth University’s compliance policy.
- Notice concerning Monmouth University’s adherence to copyright shall be posted and distributed widely, and posted at all photocopying stations which may be used for reproducing copyrighted materials, e.g., departmental and library photocopy machines, and near computers used for reproducing copyrighted software.

AGREEMENT ON GUIDELINES FOR CLASSROOM COPYING IN NOT-FOR-PROFIT EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS WITH RESPECT TO BOOKS AND PERIODICALS

MULTIPLE COPIES FOR CLASSROOM USE:

Multiple copies (not to exceed in any event more than one copy per pupil in a course) may be made by or for the teacher giving the course for classroom use or discussion provided that:

A. The copying meets the test of brevity and spontaneity as defined below; and,

B. Meets the cumulative effect test as defined below; and,

C. Each copy includes a notice of copyright.

DEFINITIONS:

Brevity:

i. Poetry: (a) A complete poem if less than 250 words and if printed on not more than two pages or (b) from a longer poem, an excerpt of not more than 250 words.

ii. Prose: (a) Either a complete article, story or essay of less than 2,500 words, or (b) an excerpt from any prose work of not more than 1,000 words or 10% of the work, whichever is less, but in any event a minimum of 500 words.

(Each of numerical limits stated in “i” and “ii” above may be expanded to permit the completion of an unfinished line of a poem or of an unfinished prose paragraph.)

iii. Illustration: One chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon or picture per book or per periodical issue.
iv. “Special” works: Certain works in poetry, prose or in “poetic prose” which often combine language with illustrations and which are intended sometimes for children and at other times for a more general audience fall short of 2,500 words in their entirety. Paragraph “I” above notwithstanding such “special works” may not be reproduced in their entirety; however, an excerpt comprising not more than two of the published pages of such special work and containing not more than 10% of the words found in the text thereof may be reproduced.

Spontaneity:

i. The copying is at the instance and inspiration of the individual teacher, and

ii. The inspiration and decision to use the work and the moment of its use for maximum teaching effectiveness are so close in time that it would be unreasonable to expect a timely reply to a request for permission.

Cumulative Effect:

i. The copying of the material is for only one course in the school in which the copies are made.

ii. Not more than one short poem, article, story, essay or two excerpts may be copied from neither the same author, nor more than three from the same collective work or periodical volume during one class term.

(The limitations stated in “ii” and “iii” above shall not apply to current news periodicals and newspapers and current news sections of other periodicals.)

PROHIBITIONS:

Notwithstanding any of the above, the following shall be prohibited:

A. Copying shall not be used to create or to replace or substitute for anthologies, compilations, or collective works. Such replacement or substitution may occur whether copies of various works or excerpts there from are accumulated or are reproduced and used separately.

B. There shall be no copying of or from works intended to be “consumable” in the course of study or teaching. These include workbooks, exercises, standardized tests and test booklets and answer sheets and like consumable material.

C. Copying shall not:

a. Substitute for the purchase of books, publisher’s reprints or periodicals;

b. Be directed by higher authority;

c. Be repeated with respect to the same item by the same teacher from term to term.
D. No charge shall be made to the student beyond the actual cost of the photocopying.

5.5 DRUG FREE WORKPLACE ACT OF 1988

Monmouth University desires a healthy, drug-free environment for all of its employees. As such, the University takes a firm stand of non-tolerance for the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol for all employees. Employees are expected to adhere to the University's rules and regulations. Those employees who disregard University policies and/or Federal Laws and/or New Jersey State laws will be subject to sanctions and penalties.

 Applies to: All Monmouth University employees including employees working under Federal Grants and Programs

 Distribution: In compliance with Federal law, each employee will receive a copy of this policy annually. New employees will be given a copy of the policy during orientation.

 For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/general_counsel/drug_free_workplace.asp

5.6 EMERGENCY PROCEDURES AND CLOSING

Monmouth University operates under a five-level emergency management system, where Level 1 is the standard operating level and Level 5 requires that the University be closed with possible shelter-in-place or evacuation. Employees are notified of any change in security via the Blackboard-Connect Emergency Notification System. All University employees are automatically enrolled in Blackboard-Connect. If you do not wish to be enrolled, you must go to the web site and opt out.

 For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/campus_safety/default.asp

Monmouth University has also established an Emergency Information Telephone Line, 732-263-5900. During emergencies, including weather related situations when the University may need to close or delay the start of the class or work-day, this line will have a recorded message with necessary information for students and employees.

If the University must close or cancel classes, a broadcast message will be sent to all employees, resident students, and classroom telephones via the campus voice mail system; information will be posted on the main page of the Monmouth University website, and you will be notified via Blackboard-Connect.
If you are not sure if you must report to work or class, please check your own voice mail, or call the Emergency Information Telephone Line at 732-263-5900 for the latest closing information. Please do not call the University Police, Human Resources or any other office on campus for closing information. The Provost’s Office will work closely with the appropriate officials to keep the most current information on the Emergency Information Telephone Line. To check your voice mail from off-campus, dial 732-263-6000 and enter your 4-digit voice mailbox number and password.

5.7 FIRE EVACUATION

An alert and educated staff is the University’s most valuable resource for fire protection. As faculty, you play a significant role in reducing campus fire risks and protecting yourself and our students from harm.

Whenever the fire alarm sounds in an office or classroom building, act immediately to ensure your safety. The campus’ fire alarm systems have been designed and engineered to provide you with an early warning to safely exit the building during an emergency situation. When teaching, faculty are expected to supervise the evacuation of their classes.

All faculty should become familiar with the University’s fire evacuation procedures for the room(s) in the building(s) in which they are assigned to conduct classes and in which they have offices. This includes learning where exits are located and knowing the location of the assembly points. It is a good idea to inform your classes of the fire evacuation procedures and routes at the start of each semester.

University employees are not required to fight fires and must evacuate the building immediately in the event of a fire. The University Police have primary responsibility for managing fire emergencies (until relieved by appropriate fire department personnel). Should a fire alarm sound in a building, please evacuate immediately and follow any directions given to you by the University Police.

The New Jersey Uniform Fire Code and local regulations require that the University conduct inspections and fire drills each semester. These inspections and drills must conform to the regulatory requirements and be documented. Whenever discrepancies or violations do occur, they must be identified and corrected. Violations include:

- Failure of building occupants to evacuate the building
- Disregard of fire alarms
Disregard of legitimate directives of police officers and other emergency personnel

Evacuation Procedures

Whenever the fire alarm sounds in a campus building:

A. Evacuate immediately via the nearest stairwell or street level exit. Close all doors when leaving as long as conditions permit.

B. Do not use elevators.

C. Each University building has a pre-designated assembly point. Lead/escort your class to the assembly point.

D. Plaques listing the Emergency Coordinator for each area of the building have been posted in each department.

E. After you have left the building, go to the pre-designated assembly point and remain there.
   1. At the assembly point, faculty and supervisors will account for all students and personnel and report any that are unaccounted for to the University Police or Emergency Coordinator.

F. During an emergency, students and visitors who may not be familiar with this plan must be informed by faculty or department personnel of the requirement to evacuate.

G. Special attention should also be given to any person requiring assistance because of a disability, especially those who are visitors or unfamiliar with the building.
   1. People requiring evacuation assistance should proceed to the nearest stairwell and position themselves to the side of the stairwell.
   2. Emergency personnel will attend to their evacuation.
   3. In the unlikely event that a person needing evacuation assistance must be evacuated before emergency personnel arrive, the person shall be asked to instruct as to the safest method of evacuation for him or her.

H. No one is permitted to reenter any building until the ranking police officer or commander on the scene has given the "all clear" message.

If you discover a fire, activate the nearest fire alarm and call the University Police at x4444:

1. Give the location of the emergency; and the nature of the emergency and your name.
2. If the fire alarm does not work, dial x4444 and notify occupants verbally of the emergency and the need to evacuate.

3. You should only attempt to put out the fire if you have been trained and are comfortable with using a fire extinguisher; otherwise, immediately evacuate the building.

4. Hazardous equipment or processes should be shut down before leaving unless doing so presents a greater hazard.

For more information: contact the Monmouth University Police Department 732-571-4444, or Facilities Management 732-571-3425.

5.8 SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Monmouth University, consistent with its Human Relations Philosophy and Policy Statement, sets forth the policy regarding sexual harassment. The University, in accordance with federal and state regulations, will attempt to protect the rights of its faculty, non-faculty employees, and students to work and study in an environment free from all forms of sexual harassment. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/HR/AAction/harass.asp

5.9 SMOKING POLICY

Smoking is permitted on the grounds of the campus. However, smoking inside campus buildings is not permitted. The University urges due consideration for others and compliance with safety measures while smoking. Individuals exiting a University building to smoke are required to stand at least 25 feet from the entrance and are required to utilize appropriate receptacles to discard cigarettes. Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against individuals who do not comply with this policy. Outside groups who utilize University facilities are required to comply with this policy.
CHAPTER 6: HUMAN RESOURCES INFORMATION

6.1 SALARY AND PAYCHECKS

Adjunct faculty are normally paid every other Thursday beginning the payday following the submission of the payroll form by the Provost’s Office to the Payroll Department.

An adjunct faculty compensation scale was updated in Fall 2008. Starting salaries and maximum salaries are determined by degree (master’s, doctorate) and by the discipline(s) taught. Increases of $100 will be automatically added to the salary upon completion of teaching 24 credits. Once the maximum salary is reached, pay will remain constant at that level.

6.2 FACULTY IDENTIFICATION CARDS

Temporary identification cards will be provided by the Provost’s office to adjunct faculty. Photo identification cards can be obtained at the ID Center in the Rebecca Stafford Student Center, lower level and the Monmouth University Police Department. ID Center Hours are posted on the University Police webpage. http://www.monmouth.edu/university/photo-id-center.aspx. All adjunct faculty members should acquire photo identification cards as soon as you have received your first paycheck. The identification card is needed to check materials out of the Library and to access recreational facilities.

Keep your ID card with you when you are on campus. Should a level 4 security at the University ever be issued, an identification card will be required to enter campus and whenever requested while on campus.

6.3 PERSONAL INFORMATION CHANGES (732-571-3470)

It is the responsibility of faculty to immediately inform the Office of Human Resources in writing of any changes that affect personal status or that of your benefits, i.e., change of name, address, marital status, number of dependents, withholding exemptions, and home telephone numbers.

6.4 PARKING

ASSIGNED PARKING

Adjunct faculty members are assigned parking by the University Police. In the interest of maintaining good community relations with our neighbors, students and employees are not permitted to park on local streets when attending class or University functions.
REGISTRATION AND DECALS

All vehicles must be registered with the University Police Department. Vehicles may be registered during the Traffic Bureau hours, specifically Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. After-hours registration is available at the beginning of the semester. A valid decal must be permanently affixed to the vehicle and displayed on the inside driver’s side rear window. The decal must be displayed so that it is visible at all times. On motorcycles, the decal must be mounted on the left front fork. Any vehicle that is not properly registered is subject to ticketing and towing.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Adjunct faculty whose vehicles are registered agree to observe all University, State, and municipal traffic and parking regulations. All employees are required to familiarize themselves with the Parking and Driving at Monmouth University brochure for additional information, including ticketing and towing information.

For more information and hours see http://www.monmouth.edu/university/monmouth-university-police-department.aspx or call 732-571-4444

6.5 FRINGE BENEFITS

EMPLOYEE REFERRAL PROGRAM

Monmouth University recognizes that candidates are frequently referred for employment by current employees. Therefore, Monmouth University will provide a financial incentive to full and part time employees who recommend candidates (below the level of Vice Presidents) who are selected for non-faculty positions and who complete their probationary period. Further information, including Employee Referral Forms, is available in the Office of Human Resources.

TUITION REMISSION BENEFIT

Adjunct faculty teaching at least 3 credits per semester are allowed to take one course (i.e., 3 credits) from another academic department during the semester on a tuition-remission, space-available basis. This benefit applies only to adjunct faculty, and not to their dependents.
