This Faculty Desk Reference, together with the current on-line Monmouth University Catalogs, MU-FAMCO Agreement, and Student Handbook, provides basic information that should be of interest to you as a faculty member. These policies, regulations, and procedures are reviewed periodically and are subject to change. This document is not to be construed as a contract nor as an offer to make a contract; nothing is intended to create rights of employment security. Written notification of any errors, omissions, or comments should be directed to the Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.
Welcome to new and returning full-time faculty. Your hard work and valuable contributions on behalf of Monmouth University are much appreciated. All Monmouth faculty take teaching and student learning seriously and are committed to helping students achieve their full potential. We will continue our work together to provide an intellectually challenging and rigorous academic experience, with opportunities for high impact and immersive experiences that go beyond the classroom. More importantly, we will prepare all students for life after Monmouth as they leave the University ready to exercise socially responsible leadership in their professional and personal communities.

This Faculty Desk Reference familiarizes you with our university and helps you meet your responsibilities as a member of the Faculty at Monmouth. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact your department chair or school dean.

I wish you all the best as you pursue your important teaching, scholarship, and service in support of Monmouth University.

CHAPTER 1: AN OVERVIEW OF MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY

1.1 HISTORY

Monmouth University was founded in 1933 with federal assistance as Monmouth Junior College, largely to provide opportunity for higher education to area high school graduates who—in those Depression days—could not afford to go away to college. It was a two-year institution, holding classes only in the evening. For a time it appeared uncertain whether the College would have adequate funds to continue. With support from students and the community, however, the fledgling College survived the economic crisis and quickly assumed its present private status. In 1956, it was renamed Monmouth College and accredited by the state to offer four-year programs leading to the baccalaureate degree. Less than a decade later, it was authorized to offer master’s degree programs. In March 1995, the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education designated Monmouth a teaching university pursuant to N.J.A.C. 9:1-3.1 et seq.

Today, Monmouth offers 32 baccalaureate degree programs, 23 master’s degree programs and 1 doctoral degree program. Within its student body, 31 states and 34 countries and Puerto Rico are represented. More than 2,000 undergraduate students live in University owned or sponsored housing.

1.2 MISSION STATEMENTS

Mission Statement of Monmouth University
Monmouth University is an independent, comprehensive institution of higher education committed to excellence and integrity in teaching, scholarship, and service. Through its offerings in liberal arts, science, and professional programs, Monmouth University educates and prepares students to realize their potential as leaders and to become engaged citizens in a diverse and increasingly interdependent world.

Mission Statement for the Academic Affairs Division at Monmouth University
As an integral part of Monmouth University’s mission, the Academic Affairs Division provides the vision, leadership and resources to meet the educational needs of students, faculty, and academic support professionals. In advancing and sustaining an environment that is open, collaborative, inclusive, and professional, the Academic Affairs Division recruits, retains, fosters, and supports faculty, administrators and staff who are knowledgeable and current in their area of expertise. The Academic Affairs Division is student-focused, dedicated to the creative, current, and interactive delivery of instruction and the continuous assessment and improvement of curricula and programs, culminating in the academic, personal, and career success of Monmouth University graduates.
The Monmouth University Strategic Plan: Our Commitment to Transformative Learning (adopted by the Board of Trustees in October, 2014) expresses a collective vision of a new Monmouth University, one that will distinguish itself for its intense focus on a transformative learning experience that enables students to reach their full potential and enter a world prepared to contribute the best of themselves. The document reflects the input of faculty, administrators, staff, students, alumni, and other university stakeholders, and describes a comprehensive, inclusive, and transparent strategic planning process that will establish a path for programmatic, athletic, facility, and general funding priorities as we strive to achieve new heights of excellence.

The Plan has at its core three essential elements through which we will achieve transformative learning at both the undergraduate and graduate levels:
1. Intellectually challenging and rigorous academic experience with a strong foundation in liberal arts
2. High impact/immersive learning experiences that extend beyond the classroom
3. Preparation for life after Monmouth

These elements represent what we believe are the critical components of a Monmouth education, the defining characteristics that shape our identity and distinguish the university from any other. Most of all, they are the indispensable ingredients for how we will prepare young men and women for the lives ahead of them. While it is true that the essence of these core elements already is a part of the current Monmouth experience, we seek to enhance their breadth and impact, to bring a higher level of personalization to them for each student, and to infuse them seamlessly throughout every aspect of campus life. In effect, they will be woven into the fabric of the University and become the defining ingredients of not only who we are, but also what we aspire to become.

A copy of the Plan can be found at http://theplan.monmouth.edu/, and faculty are encouraged to monitor the University’s progress by accessing the Strategic Planning page on the myMU Portal (under “For Your Information”).

MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY CORE VALUES

The Strategic Plan and the University it guides continue to uphold the following core values:
- Excellence in Teaching and Learning
- Caring Campus Characterized by Mutual Respect
- Personal and Professional Integrity
- Diversity
- Service
- Empowerment of University Community
1.4 LIBERAL EDUCATION AND THE MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY EXPERIENCE

At its heart, Monmouth University is a teaching university, and consistent with our mission, we base our students’ educational experience on the time honored philosophy of liberal education. Liberal education is “an approach to learning that empowers individuals and prepares them to deal with complexity, diversity, and change. It provides students with broad knowledge of the wider world (e.g. science, culture, and society) as well as in-depth study in a specific area of interest. A liberal education helps students develop a sense of social responsibility, as well as strong and transferable intellectual and practical skills such as communication, analytical and problem-solving skills, and a demonstrated ability to apply knowledge and skills in real-world settings” (The Association of American Colleges and Universities; http://www.aacu.org/leap/what-is-a-liberal-education).

Monmouth University’s undergraduate general education curriculum is intentionally designed to provide opportunities for developing this balance of broad knowledge and transferable skills. It emphasizes exposure to multiple disciplines, engaged learning, and clear learning goals. Three key components are academic first year seminars, courses specifically addressing topics of global understanding and cultural diversity, and a senior capstone course that encourages students to consider interdisciplinary perspectives on the human experience. We believe that these experiences, coupled with pursuit of greater depth of understanding within the major, should prepare students for the challenges of the 21st century.

For more information about Monmouth University’s general education curriculum, contact the office of Academic Foundations - General Education (732-571-3637) or visit their website http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/general_education/default.asp.

1.5 ACCREDITATION

Monmouth University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104. (Telephone: 267-284-5000).

The Middle States Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/admission/financial_aid/accreditation.asp

1.6 STUDENT PROFILE

Monmouth University’s teaching and learning environment is, naturally, created by the nexus of faculty and students. Monmouth is an evolving institution and the nature of students that populate our classes has evolved as well. For more information about Monmouth’s students, http://members.ucan-network.org/monmouth, www.monmouth.edu/OUTCOMES/default.asp
1.7 HUMAN RELATIONS PHILOSOPHY AND POLICY STATEMENT

Monmouth University affirms the inestimable worth and dignity of every individual, regardless of his or her condition of life. We affirm, further, the right of each person to develop to his or her full potential and to be judged on the basis of personal accomplishments. Finally, we believe that the achievement of full humanity is enhanced by experience of the human family.

We are committed to achieve and sustain a pluralistic environment recognized for its racial, cultural, and ethnic diversity, and which is characterized by genuine mutuality, acceptance, and affirmation of the strengths and contributions of differing individuals and groups, and a willingness to resolve disputes in a spirit of good will.

Monmouth University through this philosophy and policy statement seeks to create a pluralistic community in which people:

- Are accepted and judged as individuals, independent of ancestry, social and economic background, sexual orientation, age, gender, physical characteristics, or personal beliefs;
- May freely engage in constructive academic dialogue and debate in our classrooms and public halls, and pursue their social and private lives uninhibited by discrimination, disruption, or harassment in any form;
- Value respect and draw their intellectual strength from the rich diversity of other peoples of different races, cultures, religions, nationalities, and beliefs.

This affirmation and commitment will guide us in the challenging times ahead as we strive to achieve excellence in service, teaching, and scholarship.

1.8 CAMPUS FACILITIES

The University's 158.59-acre campus, considered to be one of the most beautiful in New Jersey, includes among its 64 buildings a harmonious blending of historic and contemporary architectural styles. The centerpiece building—and the University's identifying landmark—is Woodrow Wilson Hall, the administrative center. Completed in 1931 on the precise site of President Woodrow Wilson's summer White House, and originally known as Shadow Lawn, the 130 room mansion began as the private residence of Hubert T. Parson, a former president of F.W. Woolworth Company. The mansion has been described in newspapers throughout the world, is featured in many books on architecture and art, and has been used as backdrop for innumerable print ads and television commercials. In 1981, it served as the setting for the film version of "Annie." And in 1985, Wilson Hall was designated a National Historic Landmark by the U.S. Department of the Interior. The University's Guggenheim Memorial Library (now the Monmouth University Library), was originally the summer home of Murry and Leonie Guggenheim, and is an architectural treasure that in 1978 was entered in the National Register of Historic Places. The Lauren K. Woods Theatre, a former carriage house that retains many of its original architectural features, is among other gracious older buildings that lend distinctive balance to the modern additions to the campus.
Prominent among the buildings on campus are the Rebecca Stafford Student Center (RSSC). The lower level houses the Center for Student Success (CSS), which includes the Tutoring and Writing Services, Career Services, Service Learning and Community Service, First Year Advising, Undeclared Transfer Services, the CSS Dean’s Office, Academic Foundations-General Education, First Year Seminar, the Graduate Student Lounge, and the ID Center. The first floor includes Disabilities Services for Students, Student Employment, Study Abroad (Global Initiatives), International Student and Faculty Services, Cafeteria, Santander Bank Branch, Information Desk and a lounge. The second floor houses Student Life and Leadership Engagement, Transitions and Leadership Program, Off-Campus and Commuter Services, Veteran Services, Student Activities and Student Center Operation, Fraternity and Sorority Affairs, Multicultural and Diversity Initiatives, Anacon Hall and an open computer lab and lounge. The third floor is home to Central Scheduling, Counseling and Psychological Services, Conference Services and Special Events, and the Student Government Association.

The Multipurpose Activity Center (MAC) is home of the University Store, a Fitness Center, Boylan Gymnasium, basketball arena (which seats approximately 4,000 people), 200-meter indoor track, and locker rooms for all 21 Division 1 sports teams and visitors. The University’s Blue White Booster Club, the Central Box Office, and ten multipurpose suite-style rooms that can be used for academic or administrative groups are also located in the MAC.

Other buildings include: Rechnitz Hall art gallery, which includes classrooms and faculty offices. The Magill Commons, a resident student dining hall and conference center. Edison Science Hall, home of the School of Science and offices supporting campus technology. Howard Hall, housing many academic departments and many academic computing laboratories, (including a 24-hour open lab). Pollak Theatre, the focus of most large campus cultural events and home to the Pollak Gallery. Bey Hall, home of the Leon Hess Business School, and equipped with case study classrooms, seminar rooms, computer laboratories, and H.R. Young Auditorium. Pozycki Hall, a two-story 20,000 square foot academic building connected to Bey Hall by a pedestrian bridge on the second floor includes four classrooms, a 150-seat lecture hall, eight faculty offices, a student lounge and an exterior terrace. The two structures surround a welcoming green space near the center of campus, known as Torcivia Common. McAllan Hall, which houses the School of Education, the Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies, and the School of Social Work. Jules L. Plangere Center for Communication, homes of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences along with the Department of Communication, the Media Center, the student-run newspaper The Outlook and WMCX-student radio station. Monmouth’s on-campus residence halls include these traditional and suite style buildings: Beechwood (home of the Honors School), Birch, Cedar, Elmwood, Laurel, Mullaney Hall, Oakwood, Pinewood, Redwood, Spruce, Willow and New Hall (permanent name yet to be determined). There are also three apartment-style residential facilities: the Great Lawn Apartments, the Garden Apartments, and Maplewood Hall. Some upper class students live in University-sponsored, off-campus housing, including University Bluffs and Pier Village.

For more information and a campus map, see Appendix I
CHAPTER 2: ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

2.1 THE UNIVERSITY STRUCTURE

The University follows a traditional structure.
The President is the chief executive officer of the University and reports to the Board of Trustees. He is assisted by nine vice presidents, a Director of Public Affairs, a Special Assistant to the Board of Trustees, and an Executive Assistant to the President.

For more information, see Appendix II

The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs is the chief academic officer, and presides over six academic schools that are headed by deans. Five Vice Provosts and the University Librarian oversee other key areas of Academic Affairs, and report directly to the Provost.

For more information, see Appendix III.

2.2. THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees is entrusted with the welfare of the University and the fostering of conditions that will contribute to the education and development of students and the effectiveness of the faculty and administration. Board members are chosen on the basis of their awareness of current educational practices, understanding of broad issues, reputation for social responsibility, and a keen interest in the mission of Monmouth University. The Board is responsible for overseeing the general educational and financial administration of the University as stipulated in the Board’s By-Laws and recommended by the administration and faculty. The Educational and Faculty Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees is of special interest to the faculty as it is this committee that makes recommendations to the Board concerning matters of importance to the faculty—the collective bargaining agreement, tenure, promotion, and curriculum. Recommendations of the Educational and Faculty Affairs Committee are subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees.

2.3 THE ADMINISTRATION

The chief administrative officer of the University is the President, who is responsible to the Board of Trustees for the operation of the University. Selected by the Board of Trustees, the President is accountable to the Board and is the medium of formal communication between the Board and all others at the University. The President is responsible for administering all policies of the Board. Major responsibilities of the President pertinent to the faculty include the following: approve and recommend to the Board of Trustees all appointments of faculty members, including promotion, tenure, and salary; place before the Faculty such matters as deemed necessary for its attention; be responsible for reviewing the actions of the Faculty and react to those actions as described in Article II of the Faculty Bylaws; preside at all public exercises of the University and confer degrees as authorized by the Board of Trustees and as approved by the Faculty; be the official representative of the University at all public occasions.

For Cabinet Information see: http://www.monmouth.edu/about_monmouth/who/admin.asp

Brief descriptions of each of the administrators who comprise the President's Cabinet, all of whom report to the President, follow:

1. Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs: As the chief academic officer of the University, the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs is directly responsible to the President for developing the academic curriculum, instructional technology, stimulating intellectual activity of faculty and students, recommending to the President prospective faculty members, and recommending to the President currently employed faculty members for renewal, promotion and/or tenure. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs is also instrumental in the University’s negotiations relative to the collective bargaining agreement with the Faculty Association.

2. Vice President for Information Management: As the chief information officer, this administrator oversees the operations, support, and logistics and security for the University's information systems. This includes instructional support, wired and wireless network, telecommunications, administrative and academic systems, help desk, media services, and application training.

3. Vice President for Finance: As the chief fiscal officer of the University, the Vice President for Finance is directly responsible to the President for the development and preparation of the University’s budget and fiscal management. The Vice President for Finance is responsible for the management of the University’s fiscal operation including student and accounts receivables, payroll, student loans, purchasing, the University Bookstore, the Central Box Office and the Digital Print Center.

4. Vice President and General Counsel: This officer is the chief legal officer and provides legal advice and guidance to the University for work-related activities, coordinates legal services provided by outside attorneys, oversees the University’s affirmative action activities and assists in monitoring the University’s compliance programs. It also houses the University’s internal auditing function.

5. Vice President for External Affairs: As the university’s chief development officer, chief marketing officer and chief communications officer this individual is directly responsible to the President for all University development, branding, communications, marketing, public relations, corporate and foundation relations, government relations, alumni relations, and community relations activities.

6. Vice President for Enrollment Management: As chief enrollment officer, the Vice President for Enrollment Management is responsible for the recruitment and retention of new, transfer, international, and graduate students. This officer oversees undergraduate and graduate admission, enrollment research, financial aid, retention, and enrollment-related marketing.

7. Vice President and Director of Athletics: This administrator is the chief athletic officer and is responsible for managing and directing the athletic programs in compliance with University, Metro Atlantic Athletic and Big South Conferences, and NCAA Division I policies, rules, and regulations and athletics ticketing. This administrator is also responsible for all intramurals, recreation, and sport clubs, as well as the fitness center.

8. Vice President for Student Life and Leadership Engagement: As the chief student life officer, the Vice President for Student Life is responsible for non-academic student life and development, including the residence halls and food service, student activities, student conduct, orientation, health services, psychological counseling, substance awareness activities, central scheduling of facilities, Veteran Services, Off-Campus and Commuter Student Services and Conference Services and Special Events.

9. Vice President for Administrative Services: This administrator is chief officer accountable for all human resources activities, student employment, police and safety, mail, shipping and receiving, facilities management, environmental compliance, risk management, and campus planning and construction.
CHAPTER 3: THE FACULTY

3.1 INTRODUCTION

The duties and responsibilities of the faculty at Monmouth University are prescribed by the Faculty Bylaws that stem from the Bylaws of Monmouth University, the Agreement between Monmouth University and the Faculty Association of Monmouth University (FAMCO), and this Monmouth University Faculty Desk Reference, also known as the “Faculty Desk Reference.”

The Bylaws of Monmouth University encompass the powers, duties and responsibilities of the Board of Trustees under the laws of New Jersey. The Board of Trustees appoints the President who, in turn, appoints the vice presidents who are officers of the University. The Board of Trustees also authorizes the faculty to carry out the educational mission of Monmouth University within the limits of fiscal responsibility, statutory law, and the Bylaws of the University.

The powers, duties and responsibilities of the faculty are defined in the Faculty Bylaws. These bylaws describe the legislative and advisory roles of the faculty, meetings of the faculty and the officers for the meetings, the operation of the Faculty Council as the representative senate for the faculty, and committees of the faculty. Faculty are expected to meet the responsibilities outlined in the Faculty Bylaws, and are encouraged to be familiar with this document. Information on the Faculty Bylaws and the Faculty Council may be found at http://www.monmouth.edu/university/faculty-council.aspx.

The Agreement between Monmouth University and the Faculty Association of Monmouth University provides the framework covering conditions of employment; work rules; requirements for continuance, tenure and promotion; dismissal; grievances and arbitration; salary and other benefits. The Agreement is negotiated between the administration and the Faculty Association of Monmouth University, Inc. and it is subject to approval by the Board of Trustees. This agreement is also known as the “FAMCO Agreement.”

Many of the operating details of faculty life are addressed in this Faculty Desk Reference. It identifies a variety of policies, regulations, and procedures that govern the faculty but are not specifically covered in the other documents mentioned above. Moreover, the Faculty Desk Reference indicates where the details of the many policies, rules, and procedures can be found.

3.2 RANK, PROMOTION, AND TENURE

Information regarding rank, promotion, and tenure is provided in the “Agreement between Monmouth University and the Faculty Association of Monmouth University,” Article II and Article V.
3.3 FACULTY BYLAWS

The Faculty Bylaws may be viewed online at http://www.monmouth.edu/university/faculty-council.aspx. Due to the dynamic nature of the Faculty Bylaws, a print version is not reproduced in the Faculty Desk Reference.

3.4 FACULTY RECOGNITION

The faculty of Monmouth University is a body of accomplished men and women. More than 90 percent of non-temporary faculty currently hold the doctorate or a comparable terminal degree in their fields. Achievements and academic stature are recognized in several ways.

AUTHOR’S RECEPTION

Each spring, faculty who have published a book or monograph during the previous academic year are honored by the University community at a reception sponsored by the Provost and the University Library.

DISTINGUISHED TEACHER AWARD

The faculty at Monmouth University work together to provide classroom environments and out of class experiences that challenge students and assure that Monmouth graduates leave the University ready to exercise socially responsible leadership in their professional and personal communities. Our faculty take teaching seriously. Most have participated in faculty workshops and other professional development experiences to enhance their effectiveness.

Each year at Commencement, the University cites one member of the faculty for distinguished teaching. Honorees are chosen by a committee of faculty, administrators and students. Recipients since 1975, when the award was established, are:

- Rose Mary Miller, Mathematics 1975
- William P. Mitchell, Anthropology 1976
- Richard Benjamin, Electronic Engineering 1977
- Vernon Churchill, Biology 1978
- Charles J. Lewis, Mathematics 1979
- J. Emmett Collins, Marketing 1980
- Robert J. Sipos, English 1981
- Harris Drucker, Electronic Engineering 1982
- Alicia E. Portuondo, Foreign Languages 1983
- John A. Styslinger, English 1984
- Everett L. Rich, Communication 1985
- Doris K. Hiatt, Psychology 1986
The University supports seven endowed chairs and one endowed professorship. These distinguished posts include the Freed Foundation Chair in the Social Sciences, the Arthur and Dorothy Greenbaum and Robert Ferguson/NJAAR Endowed Chair in Real Estate Policy, the Hess Chair in Nursing Education, the Jack T. Kvernland Chair in Philosophy and Corporate Social Policy, the Helen Bennett McMurray Chair in Social Ethics, the Wayne D. McMurray Endowed Chair in Humanities, the Jules L. Plangere Chair in History and Political Studies, and the Steven J. and Elaine Pozycki Endowed Professorship in Real Estate.

The President of the University, upon the recommendation of an advisory committee composed of faculty and administrators, selects and appoints a candidate to the endowed position for an initial three-year term subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees. Upon evaluation and recommendation by the Advisory Committee, the incumbent may be reappointed to one or more subsequent terms.

FACULTY EMERITUS STATUS

Retiring faculty who have fifteen or more years of full-time service and qualify for faculty emeritus status may be granted this honor by the Board of Trustees. Emeritus status shall include the benefits of the title, a University identification card, use of the University’s mailing address, listing in the University Catalogs, library privileges, access to computer facilities (by prior arrangement), and participation with the faculty in official University functions as invited guests of the President (e.g. Commencement, Convocation).

TRAVEL FELLOWSHIP

An endowment for travel, the Judith M. Stanley Traveling Fellowship (usually totaling about $6,000), to promote excellent teaching in the humanities, is available to one or more faculty members every year.

3.5 FACULTY PERSONNEL FILES

Official faculty personnel files are maintained in the Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. Faculty may make an appointment to review their personnel files in the Provost’s Office. Included in the personnel file is the current Professional Data Form. Refer to Article XIV – Personnel Files; of the “Agreement between Monmouth University and the Faculty Association of Monmouth University” for details concerning the Professional Data Form.

3.6 FACULTY PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Information regarding faculty professional development is provided in the “Agreement between Monmouth University and the Faculty Association of Monmouth University” in Article XI.
CHAPTER 4: RESOURCES FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

4.1 ACADEMIC ADVISING

All first-year students and undeclared sophomores receive academic advising in the Center for Student Success. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have declared a major receive academic advising in the departments housing their majors. Academic advising at the department level includes chairs, faculty, and Department Advising Coordinators (DAC’s). Chairs and DAC’s coordinate advising of the faculty advisors in the department. The availability of trained faculty advisors during academic planning and priority registration are important department advising functions supervised by chairs and DAC’s. They maintain recent past and current curriculum charts and sequence charts for all majors and minors offered in the department. They facilitate the entrance of sophomores and new transfer students into the department. They designate Advisor assignments and inform majors and minors of advising and department news. Chairs and DAC’s recommend substitution of requirements and process changes of curriculum.

Graduate advising is program specific and is done by respective program directors or designated graduate faculty. See your department chairperson for details on how graduate advising is pursued in your department.

4.2 ACADEMIC FOUNDATIONS - GENERAL EDUCATION (732-571-3637)

Consistent with the University’s mission, and its strategic goal to facilitate transformative learning in all of our students, the Academic Foundations - General Education office supports teaching and promotes learning at Monmouth. The office contributes to the educational enterprise through programming and resources that facilitate faculty work. It collaborates with other campus constituencies to develop new programming that enhances the academic experiences of our students, both in and out of the classroom. Responsibility for administrative support of the General Education curriculum is also the responsibility of this office; our office assists the General Education Oversight Committee with its work—particularly in its assessment endeavors—and oversees First Year Seminar.

FIRST YEAR SEMINAR (732-571-3584)

First Year Seminar (FY101) is a three-credit General Education course designed to help new students make a successful transition into the intellectual life of Monmouth University. The course is taught on a variety of topics by full-time professors who engage students in scholarly inquiry within their areas of interest and expertise. Within the course students sharpen their academic skills, study ethical issues related to both the course topic and to University life, and learn about Monmouth resources and opportunities. Students also gain experience in critical analysis of information and hone their research and collaborative problem-solving skills. The course emphasizes the various levels of learning that new students encounter: learning about themselves and their adjustment to campus life, how college is different from high school, and learning as it applies to their academic coursework. The course is supported inside and outside the classroom by Peer Learning Assistants (PLAs). PLA’s act as mentors/role models and help first-year students with typical first semester issues while assisting the professors with the course.

4.3 ACADEMIC SKILLS SERVICES

Academic Skills Services, consisting of Tutoring and Writing Services, Computer Science (CS) Tutoring, the Mathematics Learning Center, provide personalized academic assistance. Students may be referred by professors or may come voluntarily. The goal of each Center is to ensure the academic success of all students at Monmouth University.

Tutoring and Writing Services are part of the Center for Student Success, located in the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Detailed information is included in the next section. For more information contact: 732-263-5721

CS Tutoring is part of the Computer Science and Software Engineering Department. Tutoring is open to any student, but students needing help in CSSE programming courses are given priority. The tutors are usually graduate assistants in the CSSE program. All appointments are made through Tutoring and Writing Services 732-263-5721.

The Mathematics Learning Center is part of the Mathematics Department, located in Howard Hall room 203. The center provides students with assistance in all levels of mathematics. Peer tutors help students solve problems and review concepts. In addition, students may do homework assignments or study for tests while having a student tutor available. For more information contact 732-263-5305.

4.4 CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AND LEARNING (732-263-5699)

Monmouth University’s Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning (CETL) is a resource for all faculty members. It is a place where experienced teachers can hone their techniques and mentor their colleagues, where new faculty members can develop their skills and share ideas with veteran teachers, and also where experienced colleagues can learn new methods, keeping abreast of the latest pedagogical innovations. The Mission of the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning at Monmouth University is to support faculty in the exploration and promotion of creativity, intellectual inquiry, research, and scholarship as integral components of the teaching and learning process.
The Center works collaboratively with faculty, students, and the university community to promote dynamic, interactive, interdisciplinary learning utilizing a range of classroom-based and technologically enhanced delivery modes. The Center also works collaboratively with other organizations on and off campus to enhance teaching and learning at Monmouth University. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CETL/default.asp

4.5 CENTER FOR STUDENT SUCCESS (732-571-3487)

The Center for Student Success (CSS) provides academic, personal, and career services for all Monmouth University Students.

The CSS includes a wealth of support services structured to assist students throughout their entire university experience, helping them to make vital connections between education, career and life choices. The CSS also helps to administer the Monmouth University Early Warning System (MEWS) and offers a series of workshops focusing on academic, personal and career areas of interest.

The programs and departments associated with the CSS include First Year Advising, Advising for Undeclared Sophomores, Career Services, Disability Services for Students, Educational Opportunity Fund, Service Learning and Community Programs, Transfer and Articulation Services, Tutoring and Writing Services and Supplemental Instruction.

CSS offices are located primarily in the lower level of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center and are open from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

FIRST YEAR ADVISING (732-263-5868)

All first-year students receive extensive academic advising from specially trained faculty. While most students tend to think of advising as simply registering for courses, our program strives to build an advising relationship that works holistically to help students develop their academic, career, personal, and social interests. Extensive major and career choices programming is available and all first-year students are strongly encouraged to begin this exploration as early as possible. After their first year, students receive academic advising in their academic departments or the Undeclared Sophomore Advising area of the Center for Student Success.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/first_year_advising/default.asp

ADVISING FOR UNDECLARED SOPHOMORES (732-571-3588)

Students who have not yet declared their majors at the end of their freshman year have the option of remaining “Undeclared” until the end of their sophomore year. Undeclared sophomores are assigned experienced Student Development Counselors to assist them in major and career exploration.
CSS Counselors provide career counseling, career resources, and workshops for all students, especially for those who are selecting and changing majors. Interest inventories and a computerized guidance system are available to help students assess their interests and their values.
For more information:  http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/undeclared/default.asp

ADVISING FOR TRANSFERS (732-571-3588)

Academic advising for all students transferring to Monmouth is coordinated by Transfer and Articulation Services, which provides transfer students the connection to academic departments for individualized advising and registration.

CAREER SERVICES (732-571-3471)

The Career Services Office provides a host of programs and services focused toward helping students and alumni find professional employment opportunities. Four career fairs are presented each year (two general career fairs, one geared toward Education majors and one toward Humanities majors) where students and alumni can meet with local, regional, and national employers. A special Accounting Honors Employment Program is also offered. Career related workshops and seminars are presented regularly. Private appointments may also be requested with Career Services staff for personal career advice, including resume preparation, interview coaching and job search strategies. The Career Services Office also emails two job newsletters for students and alumni on a weekly basis. One newsletter focuses on part-time and seasonal positions, while the other contains full-time, professional career opportunities. For more information:  http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/career_services/default.asp

DISABILITY SERVICES (732-571-3460)

The Department of Disability Services (DDS) is part of the Center for Student Success and is located on the first floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Colleges and universities must not discriminate in recruitment, admission, or treatment of students with disabilities. Students with documented disabilities may request accommodations, and auxiliary aids that will enable them to participate in and benefit from all postsecondary educational programs and activities. Postsecondary institutions must make every effort to ensure that the academic programs are accessible to the greatest extent possible to all students with disabilities.

The aim of the various support services for students with disabilities at Monmouth University is to provide the best possible environment in which students will be successful in their quest for academic and personal success. Accommodations and services are available to students with learning, psychological/psychiatric, physical, and medical disabilities. Students seeking services and accommodations should contact the Department of Disability Services (DDS). Faculty members who have questions regarding students are encouraged to contact this department and seek assistance from a disability specialist.
The Department of Disability Services for Students at Monmouth University assists students who have documented disabilities with self-advocacy on campus, and addresses issues and questions regarding ADA/504 requirements and reasonable academic accommodations. The DDS Faculty Guide is available by request from the DDS or may be viewed online.

For more information: http://monmouth.edu/university/faculty-members.aspx

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY FUND (732-571-3462)

The Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) is a state-funded program that offers financial support and extensive personal, academic, and career counseling for highly motivated, economically disadvantaged students to attend college. The director, professional counselors, and tutors work closely with our EOF students and with the CSS staff. Offices are located in the 600 building.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/EOF/default.asp

EXPERIENTIAL EDUCATION (CSS & ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS)

All undergraduate students entering Monmouth University must complete the Experiential Education requirement in order to graduate. Monmouth recognizes that students can learn more by combining the theories and ideas taught in the classroom with life experiences in the “real world.” Therefore, we provide opportunities such as internships, service learning, class projects, Study Abroad, and Experiential Education courses (designated as “EX” in the course schedules) to help students connect their academic and real-life experiences in meaningful ways.

For more information: http://monmouth.edu/university/experiential-education.aspx

MONMOUTH’S EARLY WARNING SYSTEM (MEWS)

Goal of the Program: Monmouth’s Early Warning System (MEWS) is used to monitor academic progress of specific student groups. MEWS has been operating since fall 1989. This computerized program provides a timely approach to monitoring and identifying students who are experiencing academic difficulty and connecting them to their academic advisors for intervention.

Student Populations Being Monitored
- First-year students
- Transfer students in their first semester
- Athletes
- Undeclared sophomores
- Students registered with the Department of Disability Services (DDS)
- Students participating in the Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF)
• Students identified by the Academic Standards and Review Committee (ASRC)
• International students
• Military veterans

How MEWS Works
• MEWS is an electronic checklist located on WebAdvisor that faculty members can use to notify academic advisors that their advisees in the MEWS population are experiencing academic difficulty.
• When a faculty member electronically submits the MEWS checklist, both the advisor and student are notified by email.
• In the student email they receive specific information about possible classroom issues and are advised to contact their advisor to discuss difficulties they might be having in a specific course and to work on strategies to overcome those difficulties. Targeted academic resource information is also included in the email.
• Advisors receive the email checklist of concerns and are encouraged to reach out to the student to discuss the MEWS report.
• After discussing the MEWS report with the student, the advisor is encouraged to complete the MEWS Advisor Follow-Up form in WebAdvisor. The form outlines the specific strategy agreed upon by the student and advisor in order to improve the student’s academic performance.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/mews.asp

Note that you do not need to limit yourself to students within the MEWS population if one of your students begins to show performance issues in your class. You may contact his or her faculty advisor directly about your concerns. Advisor and major information for each of your students can be found on your class roster, available on WebAdvisor.

SERVICE LEARNING AND COMMUNITY PROGRAMS (732-571-4411)

Service Learning offers student’s unpaid career-related field experiences in non-profit agencies, schools, civic, and governmental organizations. Students may work on service projects under the supervision of a faculty member or register for courses with a service component. Placements are varied and address such issues as housing, health care, education, and youth development. Note that undergraduate students are able to complete their Experiential Education general education requirement through placements out of this office.

For more Information: http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/CSS/service_learning/default.asp
Tutoring and Writing Services provide free, personalized academic assistance to all students at the University. Students may be referred by faculty members or advisors, or they may come voluntarily.

Located in the Center for Student Success in the lower level of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center, Tutoring Services offers content-specific tutoring sessions in one hundred or more academic courses. In one-on-one and group tutoring sessions, students are able to review course material, develop skills, and ask questions in a friendly, informal environment. These collaborative sessions are intended to guide and motivate students to achieve their academic goals. In addition, faculty master tutors offer workshops covering strategies for college success, such as organization, time management, note-taking, listening skills, textbook reading strategies, and test-taking preparation. Appointments may be scheduled online through Accudemia at http://accudemia.monmouth.edu, by phone (732-571-7542), or as a “walk-in” if sessions are available. For more information: www.monmouth.edu/tutoring

Writing Services provides writing assistance for all undergraduate and graduate students. Students may seek assistance during any stage of their writing process, from the initial drafting of the assignment through the final stages of editing and proofreading. Additionally, specific Writing Assistants are able to assist with personal statements, the discipline of literature, and the specific challenges faced by English Language Learners. Writing Assistants, peer, professional, and faculty are available in the Center for Student Success location from 9:15 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, and from 9:15 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Wednesdays. We also offer evening tutoring in our Write at Night location at the Monmouth University Library. Please check our website each semester for the specific days and hours. Appointments may be scheduled online through Accudemia: http://accudemia.monmouth.edu, by phone (732-571-7542), or as a “walk-in” if sessions are available. The Writing Services Web site offers online resources for students as well. Visit http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/css/writing/ResourcesForWriters.aspx to view our skills pages on grammar and punctuation skills, research strategies, documentation styles, and discipline-specific writing guidelines. For more information: www.monmouth.edu/writing

Supplemental Instruction (SI) is a peer-facilitated academic assistance program designed to help students succeed in traditionally difficult courses. SI sessions are regularly-offered, informal review sessions that involve collaborative learning activities through which students can clarify course concepts and practice the types of study strategies that will help them truly master the information and skills required by the target course. For more information and a list of participating courses, visit: www.monmouth.edu/si
Students in Monmouth University’s Honors School graduate knowing that they have accomplished superior achievement in a supportive atmosphere focused on academic, social, and personal growth. Graduating from the Honors School also provides practical advantages: the honors degree is noted on diplomas and transcripts, making students more attractive to graduate/professional programs and to potential employers.

The Honors curriculum provides a unique learning experience in small seminar style classes with professors known for outstanding teaching and concern for student development. All Honors courses are limited to twenty students, helping students to get to know one another and fostering discussion and debate. In addition to free-standing Honors courses, many Honors courses are “clustered” in learning communities, with professors developing common themes and assignments, allowing students to make connections and see issues from different points of view. Appreciating the emphasis on collaborative learning and the in-depth discussion of Honors courses, most students take as many of their General Education courses in Honors as they can, many more than are required.

Students eligible for the Honors School are those who: a) are admitted to the University with a High School GPA of 3.5 and a 3-part SAT score of 1800 (with no less than 540 on any part); or b) have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5 after taking 12 credits at Monmouth University; or c) transfer to Monmouth University with at least 30 credits in an acceptable program and a cumulative GPA of at least 3.5 in all previous college-level work. Students who are otherwise distinguished but for one reason or another have not met all the above criteria can be admitted after review on a case-by-case basis.

To graduate from the Honors School and have the diploma so noted, a student must successfully complete 25 Honors credits as follows: (1) 12 credits in Honors sections of General Education courses at the first year/sophomore level, including: English, History, Anthropology, Art, Music, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Mathematics and Science; (2) 9 Honors credits in the major at the junior/senior level, (3) completion of the 4 credit Honors Thesis through two tutorials, Thesis Proposal (HO 498) and Thesis (HO 499). In addition, students must complete all other requirements of their majors and maintain a GPA of 3.3.

Information Management has campus-wide responsibilities that include wired and wireless network operations, telecommunications, administrative and academic systems administration and programming, network and system security, help desk operations, desktop computer support, instructional support, media operations and application training and support. The IM Division supports the business of the University with the latest in communication and information technology for faculty, students, and staff. From telephones to Wi-Fi, labs to eCampus, classrooms to residence halls to administrative offices, and students to alumni, IM is involved in creating and maintaining the infrastructure, systems and applications that are relied upon to carry out the University’s business. The campus network connects more than 2,000 computers through more than 130 servers with over 1,000 applications to service the many varied technology needs of the University. Information Management is ready to facilitate your use of technology.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/campus_technology/default.asp

For immediate computer-related service needs, call the Help Desk at 732-923-4357 (HELP) Monday through Friday from 8:15 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. Technicians are on site until 11:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Best efforts will be made to resolve critical issues that are received by voicemail or email outside normal working hours.

MYMU

Secure, one-click access to email, eCampus and WebAdvisor, links to forms, policies and systems in one place for easy access. As the portal matures, the internal content identified from the main website will be migrated to the portal. Faculty can access myMU using their Monmouth login and password at https://my.monmouth.edu/

INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT

Instructional Support provides instructional design consultation for integrating technology into teaching and learning, online learning management (eCampus) software support and online learning management (eCampus) consultation as well as faculty computer training and support. eCampus is Monmouth University’s online learning management system, powered by Desire2Learn’s Learning Environment. It is also where instructors may post material, hold discussions, collect assignments or post grades as appropriate for web-enhanced, hybrid, or fully-online courses. The system has a number of tools that may be used for courses. For more information about Instructional Support services, call 732-263-5486 or visit https://ecampus.monmouth.edu

Instructional Support is located in the Information Management area of Edison Hall. Regular hours are 8:45 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday and extended hours until 8:30 p.m. on Tuesdays.

MEDIA OPERATIONS

Media Operations provides the following services: Audio/Video equipment for all purposes, including interactive television conference/class room training, maintenance, and use; campus academic cable TV network management including a satellite receiver system for teleconference downlinks, and computer laptop loaner program for faculty and staff. The department also provides operating instruction on all media center equipment, and advice on purchase of audio/video equipment.

Media Operations is located in room 110 of the Plangere Center, open between 8:45 a.m. and 11:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Contact the University Helpdesk (732-923-HELP or helpdesk@monmouth.edu) for advanced reservation and scheduling of equipment and services.

4.8 LIBRARY SERVICES (732-571-3450)

The Monmouth University Library is an integral part of Monmouth University’s established position as a respected institution of higher learning, and a major proponent of rigorous academic research across the academic curriculum. The Library works assiduously to build and maintain collections in both traditional and digital formats to support the teaching and scholarship missions of the University, and also to deliver instruction sessions that help students perform research using traditional and digital media. The Library also applies cutting-edge technology to deliver scholarly content to students enrolled in traditional classroom settings, as well as in hybrid and distance-learning courses. The Library serves as an important state and federal depository. Functioning as the research core of the University, the Library collaborates with all campus constituencies to accomplish the common goal of preparing well rounded, intellectually prepared, and information-literate students to achieve success, leadership, and lifelong learning in the 21st century.

LIBRARY HOURS

Library hours are posted online at http://library.monmouth.edu and at the entrance to the Library. Changes in hours due to holidays, vacations, and final exams are posted at both locations.

LOCATION AND RESOURCES

The Library is located on the North Campus diagonally across Cedar and Norwood Avenues from the main campus. It is situated on a beautifully landscaped estate that was the summer home of Murry and Leonie Guggenheim.

PERIODICALS AND ELECTRONIC RESOURCES

The Library provides access to over 160 periodical databases, which include general magazines, newspapers and scholarly journals in different subject areas. Check the Library Catalog for information about the Library’s periodical holdings and indexing/abstracting tools to identify articles specific to a topic.
There are numerous electronic indexing, abstracting and full text information resources accessible on computers in the reference area and on networked computers at other campus locations. In addition, the Library provides access to 30,000 eBooks.

REFERENCE & INFORMATION SERVICES

A Librarian is available during daytime and evening hours until 10:00 p.m. when the University is in session to answer reference questions and provide bibliographic assistance. Online help via email is available through the Ask-a-Librarian service: http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/ask-us-0

The Librarians are especially interested in meeting the needs of the faculty and assisting students with assignments requiring library research. Faculty members are urged to discuss their interests, requirements, and suggestions with the Librarians. Faculty and students are entitled to reciprocal borrowing privileges with other libraries in the New Jersey VALE consortium at www.valenj.org. Faculty members and graduate students who wish to visit the Princeton University Libraries to conduct their own research may sign out the Princeton University Libraries Access Card which is annually secured by the Provost and maintained by the Library. The card does not permit borrowing, only access to collections. The card is available at the Reference Desk (732-571-3438). You must sign out the card and return it to the Guggenheim Library.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN/DOCUMENT DELIVERY

Interlibrary loan service is available to students and faculty members whose research needs include materials not available in our Library. Requests for books, journal articles, government documents, and other materials may be made by submitting requests through online forms found on the Library web page at http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/interlibrary-loan

LIBRARY INSTRUCTION

The University recognizes the close relationship between library research and the wider educational goals and objectives of the institution. So that students may become self-directed learners who have mastered the skills of acquiring, evaluating and synthesizing information, the librarians are committed to the development of coherent, incremental programs of instruction. Faculty members are, therefore, strongly encouraged to integrate thoughtful, well-designed library research projects into their course syllabi.

Library instructional sessions designed to support specific research assignments or projects are available for all classes. To discuss an assignment and arrange a time, please call the Coordinator at 732-571-4404 or fill out the instructional request form on the Library web site. At least two weeks advance notice should be given to allow sufficient preparation time; professors are required to accompany their classes. For more information: http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/instruction
CIRCULATION PROCEDURES

Extended borrowing privileges are granted to faculty members upon presentation of a Monmouth University I.D. card. Circulating books may be borrowed for the school year. However, materials borrowed are subject to recall if requested by others. All materials borrowed by faculty members must be returned to the library by the end of the spring semester. Faculty are responsible for replacement cost of lost or damaged material. Reference books, reserve books and periodicals are needed in the Library for general use and are not available for loan.

A faculty member’s immediate family is welcome to use the facilities of the Library. To request borrowing privileges, library cards are available at the Circulation Desk. These cards must be renewed each year. The three-week loan period established for students must be observed by family members.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

All faculty are encouraged to participate in requesting library materials for purchase, especially when introducing new courses or revising syllabi. To assure broad collection coverage the library faculty also selects materials, including reference and bibliographic tools and publications of current interest. In general, the Library acquires new materials to support the curriculum and course preparation.

Faculty members should become familiar with holdings in their subject areas. The Library Catalog should be checked before purchase requests are submitted. Book requests should be forwarded regularly for expedient use of allocations. Each academic department formulates its own procedures for establishing priorities for requesting library materials. A library coordinator is chosen or appointed by each department. The library coordinator acts as a liaison between Collection Development and the department, and serves to coordinate requests from the department. Collection Development distributes review cards from CHOICE, Current Reviews for Academic Libraries to the departmental coordinators. All order requests should be submitted through the library coordinator using CHOICE review cards or library request forms with complete bibliographic information. Requests may also be submitted electronically from forms found on the Library web page at http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/materials-request Faculty members are encouraged to use other professional journals in their fields to select and recommend books for journals for the Library Collection.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Monmouth University’s Special Collections Department collects, preserves, provides access to, and promotes the use of its rare materials to support the academic programs of undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and other scholars, including those outside of its academic community. The Department accomplishes this through collection development, book history presentations and talks, public exhibitions, community outreach, graduate internships, and a credit-bearing undergraduate course on the history of the book.

The Special Collections Reading Room, located on the 2nd floor of the University Library, houses rare books, medieval manuscripts, the New Jersey Collection, and The Lewis Mumford Library. The rare book collection contains important and rare works that date from the fifteenth century; the medieval manuscript collection contains detached illuminated medieval leaves from as early as the twelfth century; the medieval manuscript collection also contains fine and important facsimile Books of Hours and various prayer books. The New Jersey Collection houses over 3100 materials, including books, periodicals and other material relating to the State of New Jersey; the personal library of Lewis Mumford comprises over 3500 books and personal artifacts relating to Mumford’s storied life of American letters.

The New Jersey Collection requires no special access to use, but the rare book, medieval manuscript, and Lewis Mumford collections require advanced reservation. All collections, however, are open to the public. To make an appointment, contact the University’s special collections librarian at 732-571-4403.

The Bruce Springsteen Collection—located externally from the University Library—comprises nearly 15,000 items that range from books and concert memorabilia to articles and promotional materials. For research access to the collection contact the University’s special collections librarian at 732-571-4403, or the department of Center of the Arts at 732-571-3554.

Library materials are placed on reserve at the request of faculty members. To allow sufficient time for locating and processing such materials, reserve requests should be submitted at least two weeks before the beginning of each semester. Forms for this purpose are available on line at: http://library.monmouth.edu/services/reserveform.doc. Reference works, periodicals, and other non-circulating materials are not normally placed on reserve. A limited number of photocopies of periodical articles within the copyright guidelines will be made. Reserve materials will be returned to the regular shelves at the end of the semester unless a longer reserve period is requested. Upon request, the Library will also place material belonging to an instructor on library reserve. The Reserve Collection is located behind the Circulation Desk. A listing of reserve materials by instructor is located on the Circulation counter.

Due to the confidential nature of borrowing records, the Library cannot divulge the names of persons who have utilized reserve materials over a given period of time. The library reserve policy is available on-line at: http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/reserves-O#A_Faculty_Guide). The Library also offers electronic reserves that may be accessed at http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/reserves-0.
The Monmouth University Library Association was founded in 1960 to foster the development of the Library. Since that time, the Association has raised more than two million dollars earmarked for the acquisition of books, materials and equipment. A life member of the Library Association, Margaret O. Bruns, left a bequest of more than $900,000 to the Library Association to support the Library. The Association sponsors a variety of fundraising events, including the annual Holiday Ball at Wilson Hall.

4.9 SPECIAL STUDENT PROGRAMS

Special student programs include Athletics, Counseling and Psychological Services, Disability Services, Educational Opportunity Fund, Student Employment, and Study Abroad.

ATHLETICS (732-571-3415)

Athletics constitute an integral part of a Monmouth University education, and student athletes are representatives of Monmouth University in intercollegiate competition. The class attendance policy for student athletes, approved by the faculty, is as follows:

All student-athletes are required to attend all classes. Classes cannot be missed because of practice. The only permissible time to miss class is due to team competition or travel. If class is missed, student-athletes remain responsible for all work and/or exams covered in their absence. Should this occur, the following guidelines must be followed:

1. The first day of class, each student-athlete is required to inform each professor of team commitments and scheduling conflicts with class. If the professor at this time believes this to be a potential problem that can negatively affect the student-athlete’s grade, it may be necessary to drop the course. Prudence should be used.

2. The student-athlete must obtain the approved travel verification form from the Athletics Academic Support Staff the first week of the semester. One form should be submitted to each course in which at least one class session will be missed due to competition.

3. Head coaches must inform the Athletics Academic Support Staff of estimated travel departure and arrival times prior to distribution of the forms. The travel verification form must be handed to each professor in person, on athletics letterhead, and in blue ink.

4. Student-athletes should submit these travel verification forms to their professors as soon as possible, two weeks after and not later than the start of the semester. In addition, a verbal reminder should be provided by the student-athlete during the week of the competition.
Note: Class cannot be missed for field maintenance, game setups, and so forth. In the event a competition is rescheduled without sufficient warning (due to weather or other unforeseen circumstances), as much notice as possible should be provided to all professors.

Monmouth Athletics maintains a telephone directory at:
http://monmouthhawks.com/staff.aspx

COUNSELING AND PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES (732-571-7517)

The Department of Counseling and Psychological Services, located on the third floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center, provides free and confidential psychological counseling to Monmouth University students on a “first come, first serve” basis. The licensed clinical counselors assist students confronting personal issues including: depression and suicide, anxiety and stress management, relationship concerns, family issues, emotional crises, general mental health, interpersonal conflicts, rape and sexual assault, poor academic performance and more. 24-hour hotlines for mental health emergency are provided through collaboration with local hospitals. Numerous psychoeducational programs are presented throughout the academic year.

For more information: www.monmouth.edu/counseling

DISABILITY SERVICES (732-571-3460)

Students with Disabilities are assisted by the Office of Disability Services, which is part of the Center for Student Success, located in the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Detailed information is provided in section 4.4.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT (732-263-5706)

Assistance for students seeking part-time employment while attending Monmouth is available. The Assistant Director of Human Resources for Student Employment oversees all aspects of on-campus employment. Through the Federal Work Study program, qualified students (determined by the Financial Aid Office) are able to work part time and earn money to offset educational expenses. Most on-campus student positions are filled by those individuals with Federal Work Study awards.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/HR/student_employment/default.asp
Monmouth University strongly encourages students to study abroad for a semester and/or summer. Each year Monmouth sends over 100 students to study abroad and another 100 travel abroad on our ‘faculty-led’ programs. Information is available in our catalog and on the Study Abroad website as well as through numerous ‘First-Step Meetings’ that are held several times each semester.

Monmouth programs: We offer three semester programs and two summer programs. The semester programs are in London, England at Regent’s College; Sydney, Australia at Macquarie University; and Florence, Italy at Lorenzo de’ Medici (LdM). Our summer programs consist of a six-week program in Cadiz, Spain under the auspices of Centro Mundo Lengua in collaboration with the University of Andalucia-Cadiz, and a 4-week program in Italy at LdM. Students can take major, minor, and elective courses to fulfill Monmouth curriculum requirements. Students are charged the same tuition and fees as regular on-campus students pay and all financial aid, including merit awards and scholarships, apply (except for athletic scholarships and tuition remission). Students can usually borrow funds, if necessary, for spending and travel while abroad.

For some majors, earning six or more credits during a study abroad program will satisfy the General Education Experiential Education requirement. Grades earned abroad will be posted to the student transcript but are not factored into the students’ cumulative GPA. To be eligible to apply for a study abroad program, students must have a minimum GPA of 2.75, sophomore status, and not be on judicial or academic probation.

Monmouth is also a long-time member of the College Consortium for International Studies (CCIS) that offers students over 80 study abroad program choices in 30 countries. For students participating in CCIS programs, only outside the major requirements or free elective credits will be accepted. In addition, students cannot be within 32 credit hours of graduation; typically, this means students cannot have completed more than 96 credit hours before studying abroad in a non-Monmouth program.

The Study Abroad Office is located in room 29 on the first floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center. Students are welcome to attend a ‘First-Step Meeting’ for general study abroad information or to make an appointment with the Assistant Director of Study Abroad. For academic advising, students should work with their departmental advisor, and make an appointment with the Director of Study Abroad. For more information, please visit http://www.monmouth.edu/study_abroad.
4.10 WEBFACULTY FOR FACULTY

Monmouth University provides web access to class and student records. Comprehensive training materials have been provided to faculty and are posted online at http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/faculty.asp.

Any questions concerning using WEBfaculty for grading, roster inquiry, student record retrieval, and the like should be addressed to the Registrar’s Office (732-571-3477).

4.11 CLASSROOMS AND CLASSROOM CHANGES

Many of the major buildings on campus house classrooms that can be used for instruction. Classroom space for graduate courses is also offered at the Graduate Center at Monmouth Park Corporate Center see http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/registration_information/default.asp#BUILDINGCODES for a complete list, with building codes. These classrooms vary in their seating capacity and layout, so faculty are encouraged to visit their classrooms prior to the semester to assess their suitability.

If an assigned classroom is not suitable, faculty members should speak with their department chair to express their concerns. The department chair should then contact the Assistant Registrar for Scheduling and Course Management in the Registrar’s Office (732-263-5823 or mellish@monmouth.edu) for assistance. Every attempt to accommodate faculty, student and classroom needs will be made. Please remember that classroom assignments may not be changed without the proper authorization.

All classrooms are equipped with a personal computer with Internet access, a projector, and a campus telephone.* Most classrooms also offer wireless access (Wi-Fi), sound and a DVD player. Faculty whose teaching occasionally requires additional technology are encouraged to contact the University Helpdesk (732-923-HELP or helpdesk@monmouth.edu) for advanced reservation and scheduling of equipment and services. Faculty whose teaching requires additional technology for the entire semester are encouraged to speak with their department chair, as noted above.

*Faculty who encounter technology problems while in class are encouraged to call the Classroom Technology Hotline (x2000) for expedited service.
5.1 FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is federal legislation passed in 1974 which established guidelines governing the way educational institutions maintain and supervise student records. The law (also known as the "Buckley Amendment") requires the University to notify students and parents annually on how we comply with the law's requirements. The law is intended to assure students access to their official records; to provide a means of review should a student question the accuracy of a record; to assure that these records are used for legitimate educational purposes; and to control the release of records. The law permits the release of records without the prior consent of the student to appropriate University personnel, to parents if the student is claimed as a financial dependent on either parent's most recent federal income tax return, and for other circumstances as set forth in the law.

5.2 UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

Academic policies and regulations set by the University are reviewed periodically by the Faculty Council, the appropriate standing committee of the Faculty, or by an ad hoc committee of the Faculty. This chapter contains some of the policies and regulations of interest to faculty members. Additional policies and regulations are contained in the Monmouth University Catalogs, which may be accessed online at http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/important_information.asp

5.3 ACADEMIC CALENDAR

Academic calendars can be found in the University Catalogs and on the Monmouth University website. Academic calendars generally consist of a 14-week fall semester (13 weeks of classes and one week of final examinations); a 14-week spring semester (split by a one-week Spring Break); and five summer sessions—Sessions A, B, and C begin in May, Session D in June, and Session E in July. Session times vary: A and D are four weeks, B and E are six weeks, and C is 12 weeks.

5.4 COURSE PRACTICES AND PLANNING

Faculty members, particularly in courses that are prerequisite for other courses and that have more than one section, shall endeavor to cover an agreed-upon body of material and to adhere to agreed-upon standards for the assignment of readings, written exercises, and activities. These standards can be found in the Master Course Syllabus for the course, which can be obtained from the host academic department.

For maximum teaching effectiveness, students should be provided with frequent and timely notifications of their progress. Unless the class has been notified otherwise, all written work should be returned in a timely manner to the students.

Please see FAMCO Agreement, Article IX for policy on holding office hours.

The instructor is required to keep all non-returned materials that relate to the grading process for at least one year after the class has been completed. Attendance records should be kept for five years. Alternatively, these records may be turned over to the Department Chair upon filing of the final grades.

5.5 CLASS ROSTERS AND WHO MAY ATTEND YOUR CLASS

Class rosters should be obtained by each faculty member from their WEBfaculty account at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu. The class roster is only attainable from the WEBfaculty account. Immediately after the conclusion of add/drop week, the Registrar’s Office will ask faculty to report on the accuracy of their electronic roster by comparing actual attendance to the electronic roster. Faculty members are required to report discrepancies to the Registrar’s Office by the deadline.

After discrepancies are reported to the Registrar’s Office, they will attempt to contact the students so they can resolve their registration problems. Students are not permitted to attend classes unless they are properly registered. Any student attempting to attend your class who does not appear on the electronic roster should be asked to leave class, go through the proper registration steps, and pay tuition - if necessary - at the Cashier’s Office. Once the student is registered, you may allow the student to attend your class. If you have any questions or require assistance, please contact the Registrar’s Office by phone at 732-571-3477 or by email at registrar@monmouth.edu.

In the past, there have been several instances of students previewing classes well into the semester and registering only for classes in which they have done well. It is important that faculty not allow students to attend classes for which they are not registered. Students who attempt to register for classes after the term concludes are frequently denied permission.

Should you have any questions concerning student enrollment or registration, please contact the Registrar’s Office at 732-571-3477.
Monmouth University requires faculty to report on the accuracy of their electronic class roster(s) using WEBfaculty. The Provost and Registrar provide notice each term/session when the verification is done.

5.6 CLASS ATTENDANCE

Grades in courses are normally based on academic performance (participation, contribution, and examination). Faculty members are encouraged to adopt reasonable regulations that relate grades to class attendance. All faculty members will state their specific attendance policies in a written statement and will give it to the students as part of the syllabus during the first week of the semester (see section 5.11).

Students are not permitted to attend classes unless they are properly registered. If you have any students attending whose names did not appear on your WEBfaculty roster, the student should be asked to leave the class and go through the proper registration steps, and pay tuition, if necessary, at the Cashier’s Office. Once the student is registered, you may allow the student to attend your class.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

One of Monmouth University’s core values is Diversity, which encompasses respect for others, cultural and global understanding, and inclusion. Several faith traditions are represented on our campus, including Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, and Buddhism. Because of time constraints imposed by our academic calendar, it is necessary to schedule classes on religious holidays.

Faculty wishing to observe a religious holiday should consult with their department chairs to arrange for coverage or rescheduling of their affected classes. Students who intend to observe a holiday should inform the faculty member of the anticipated absence. Faculty should avoid conducting tests and examinations on these religious holidays and, whenever possible, provide make-up work and assignments for these students. Inform your students about these details. These simple guidelines will allow both faculty and students to observe religious holidays without having a negative effect on our academic program.

The list of religious holidays adopted by the New Jersey State Board of Education is available at http://www.state.nj.us/education/genfo/holidays.htm
ABSENCE OF THE INSTRUCTOR

Monmouth University expects all classes to be held as officially scheduled (time and place). In the event of illness or an emergency situation which makes it impossible for a faculty member to meet with a class, the department chair should be notified – in advance whenever possible. If the chair cannot be reached, the school dean must be advised. Classes should not be cancelled or dismissed early, nor should substitute instructors be secured without informing the department chair.

5.7 AUDITING COURSES

An auditor is a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading, and participate in class discussion, but is not required to take examinations. The auditor’s name will appear on the course roster.

Students who wish to audit a class must complete a “Permission to Audit a Class” e-FORM, which is available from the student’s WEBstudent account. This application must be received prior to the third class meeting. Auditor registration is subject to course section availability. Auditors may be removed from classes after registering if seats are needed for matriculating students.

No more than two (2) courses may be audited per semester. Students may not change the status of their registration in a course to “audit” or to “for credit” during the term. If, in the opinion of the faculty member, an auditor has not participated or attended sufficiently to warrant inclusion of the course on the student’s transcript, the faculty member may so advise the Registrar’s Office at the time final grades are submitted.

5.8 CLASSROOM CHANGES

If an assigned classroom is not suitable, faculty members should speak to their department chair to express their concerns. The department chair should then contact the Assistant Registrar for Scheduling and Course Management in the Registrar’s Office 732-263-5823 for assistance. Every attempt to accommodate faculty, student and classroom needs will be made. Please remember that classroom assignments may not be changed without the proper authorization.

5.9 WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

Students are expected to complete the courses for which they register. On occasion, however, withdrawals are warranted. Students who do not intend to complete any course for which they are officially registered should execute an official withdrawal prior to the “W” deadline. Students withdrawing from some courses while remaining registered for one or more courses are required to complete a “Withdraw from Course” e-FORM on WEBstudent. The official date of a withdrawal is the date the completed form is received in the Registrar’s Office. The withdrawal form must be received prior to the Withdrawal (“W”) deadline date, as published in the Academic Calendar. Withdrawn students are noted on the course roster, available through the WEBfaculty menu. Students, who wish to completely withdraw from the University, intending not to return to Monmouth, must complete a total withdrawal form, available as an e-FORM on WEBstudent.

5.10 FINAL EXAMINATIONS

Final examinations, where required, shall be held during the times officially scheduled. Class time in undergraduate and graduate courses shall not be devoted to a final examination. The schedule of examinations should be announced in class. The faculty member is responsible for proctoring the examination. In classes for which take-home final examinations are given, faculty are still expected to meet with their classes during the final examination period.

A student who has three or more final examinations scheduled on one day may request that one of the examinations be rescheduled; it is normally the middle one of the three that is rescheduled. Rescheduled examinations are to be given by agreement between the student and the faculty member on or before the last day of the examination period.

For undergraduate courses, final examination grades may represent no more than one third of the term grade. There is no comparable requirement for graduate courses.

Students’ final examinations must be kept on file by the faculty member for a period of one year from the date on which they are administered. Students have the right to review the graded examination in the presence of the instructor.

5.11 CLASS SYLLABUS

A class syllabus must be given to students during the first week of classes. It should be consistent with the Master Course Syllabus, available from the Department Chair or School Dean. At a minimum, the class syllabus should include the following:

Semester:

Course Code: (e.g., BY 101)

Course Title:

Course Objectives (Theses should be stated in a manner in which student learning can be assessed):

Class Schedule (e.g., MTh 10:00-11:15 am; Frame D; BH 127):
Instructor:

Office Hours:

Office Location:

Office Telephone:

E-mail Address:

Required Texts:

Recommended Readings:

Course Requirements (e.g., term paper, exams, journals, and lab):

Methods of Evaluation and Grading Policy:

Attendance Requirement: Consult with your department chair for language appropriate for your course.

Last date to withdraw with automatic assignment of “W” grade:

Statement on Academic Honesty: Consult with your department chair for language appropriate for your course.

Statement on Special Accommodations: Consider using the following statement: Students with disabilities who need special accommodations for this course are encouraged to meet with the appropriate disability service provider on campus as soon as possible. In order to receive accommodations, students must be registered with the appropriate disability service provider on campus as set forth in the Student Handbook and must follow the University procedure for self-disclosure, which is stated in the University Guide to Services and Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Students will not be afforded any special accommodations for academic work completed prior to the completion of the documentation process with the appropriate disability service office.

Outline of Course Content and Schedule (weekly or daily schedule of course topics, including approximate date of quizzes, tests, and term papers):

Notes to Students (e.g., general comments about the instructor’s expectations and hints for achieving academic success).
Reference to Student Handbook and Undergraduate or Graduate Catalog for other University regulations.

Turnitin: If you plan to use the Turnitin plagiarism detection software for your teaching, include a statement about it in your syllabus. You may adapt the following statement to suit your course:

Turnitin: Assignments in this course may be checked for plagiarism using Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. I will inform you in advance about which assignments will be checked for originality using Turnitin.

Students agree that, by taking this course, all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin.com site.

5.12 CLASSROOM CIVILITY

In any higher education community, respectful conduct and discourse are critically important to maintaining a productive classroom environment. The professor plays a key role in determining the classroom environment, and experienced teachers know that these matters cannot be left to chance. Faculty rights and responsibilities with regard to civility in the classroom are broadly defined in Monmouth University’s “Community Statement on Civility” (available in the current Student Handbook):

Members of the faculty are ultimately responsible for what occurs inside the classroom environment. If, after suitable dialogue, a consensus on behavioral parameters cannot be reached, the faculty member’s decision on these is final.

How this definition translates into the individual classroom is up to the individual professor. Faculty are encouraged to reflect on their sensibilities regarding appropriate classroom behavior, consulting with their department chairs and other trusted colleagues, to determine the most appropriate behavioral standards for their individual courses. Further, guidelines for appropriate classroom behavior should be addressed in the course syllabus and during the first class meeting of the semester, and at relevant points throughout the semester.

When determining standards for individual courses, consider encouraging behaviors that facilitate students’ pursuit of the academic mission of Monmouth University; such behaviors may include treating fellow students and professors with respect and civility, regular class participation, regular attendance, coming prepared, and completing assigned readings. In addition, it may be appropriate to address behaviors that distract from teaching and learning. Some common issues that your colleagues have addressed in the past include potentially distracting behaviors such as tardiness or leaving the classroom after class has begun, sleeping during class, eating during class, use of electronic devices (cellular telephones, personal stereos, etc.), attention to extraneous reading material, personal conversations, and use of laptops or tablet computers. In some cases faculty may feel the need to proactively address behaviors such as obscene gestures and foul, abusive, or demeaning language.

Note that faculty have been more effective in creating and maintaining an environment of professional civility when they engage in the appropriate behaviors themselves. For example, students are far more likely to prepare for class and arrive on time when they observe that their professor engages in these behaviors.

In addition, students occasionally have special circumstances that prevent them from living up to the standards outlined in the syllabus. Faculty are encouraged to be receptive to students who have legitimate reasons for requesting reasonable allowances.

5.13 GRADING UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

In undergraduate courses, midterm grades are required to be electronically submitted to the Registrar’s Office by the date specified in the academic calendar.

The Registrar’s Office will issue a schedule for the reporting of final grades. Final course grades shall be reported to the Registrar’s Office on or before the prescribed deadlines (72 hours after the final examination has been completed except for examinations scheduled for the last day of the examination period, for which the deadline is 48 hours after the final examination has been completed).

Faculty members are expected to report midterm and final grades for all students on the official electronic grade roster using WEBfaculty at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu. No items are to be left blank. The date of last attendance should be recorded for each student receiving a final grade of “F.” Failure to return final grades by the official deadline without the express permission of the Registrar constitutes serious neglect of professional duty.

The undergraduate grading system is as follows:

- A, A- Exceptional Performance
- B+, B, B- Strong Performance
- C+, C, C- Adequate Performance
- D+, D, D- Poor Performance
- F Failing. This grade is given for failure in a course; for unofficial withdrawal from a course after the deadline (see “W” grade); or, in some instances, when an Incomplete grade is not changed by the end of the next regular semester (see “I” grade).
- P Pass. This grade is given for satisfactory completion of the Math Proficiency requirement, and other requirements without institutional credit. This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).
Re-Registration Required. This grade is given when a student has made significant, but not sufficient, progress in a developmental course. (See the section entitled “developmental courses” in the Monmouth University undergraduate catalog). This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).

Audit. This grade is given to a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge, but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading and participate in class discussions, but is not required to take examinations.

Transfer. This grade is given to incoming students for courses accepted for transfer by Monmouth University. This grade is not computed in the grade point average (GPA).

Withdrawal. This grade is given for withdrawal from a course or courses up to five weeks before the last day of classes in a regular semester or its equivalent in a shorter term. See the academic calendar for the last date to withdraw in a given semester or term.

Incomplete. This grade is given in cases where permission has been granted by the instructor to postpone completion of specific required work, such as a laboratory project or report, or a missed final examination. This grade is not intended for situations where, in the judgment of the instructor, the student must retake the course for an entire semester in order to earn a passing grade. In short, incomplete grade should not be used in cases where a grade of "F" would be appropriate. The student must complete the work within the time granted by the professor, and no later than the end of the next regular semester. If the unfinished work is not completed within the specified time, an "F" grade will be recorded, unless the instructor indicates otherwise at the time the incomplete is originally approved.

Satisfactory Progress. This grade is given at the end of the first semester when satisfactory progress has been made in an undergraduate course, which is part of a sequence of courses that takes more than one semester to complete.

No Report. This temporary grade is given by the Registrar at mid-term when no grade has been received from the instructor at the time that the official grades are issued.

Credit by Exam. Portfolio Credit.

5.14 GRADING GRADUATE COURSES

In graduate courses, midterm grades are not submitted. The Registrar’s Office will issue a schedule for the reporting of final grades. Final course grades shall be reported to the Registrar on or before the prescribed deadlines (72 hours after the final examination has been completed except for examinations scheduled for the last day of the examination period for which the deadline is 48 hours after the final examination has been completed).

Faculty members are expected to report final grades for all students on the official electronic grade roster using WEBfaculty. No items are to be left blank. The date of last attendance should be recorded for each student receiving a final grade of “F.” Failure to return final grades by the official deadline without the express permission of the Registrar constitutes serious neglect of professional duty.
The graduate grading system is as follows:

- A, A- Exceptional Performance
- B+, B, B- Average
- C+, C, C- Poor

F  Failing. This grade is given for failure in a course; for withdrawal from a course after the deadline (see "W" grade); or for failure to remove an Incomplete by the end of the next regular semester.

AU  Audit. This grade is given to a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge, but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading and participate in class discussions, but is not required to take examinations.

W  Withdrawal. This grade is given for withdrawal from a course or courses up to five weeks before the last day of classes in a regular semester or its equivalent in a shorter term. See the academic calendar for the last date to withdraw in a given semester or term.

I  Incomplete. This grade is given in cases where permission has been granted by the instructor to postpone completion of specific required work, such as a laboratory project or report, or a missed final examination. This grade is not intended for situations where, in the judgment of the instructor, the student must retake the course for an entire semester in order to earn a passing grade. In short incomplete grade should not be used in cases where a grade of "F" would be appropriate. The student should request permission by completing the appropriate form and submitting it to the faculty member. The student must complete the work within the time granted by the professor, and no later than the end of the next regular semester. If the unfinished work is not completed within the specified time, an "F" grade will be recorded, unless the instructor indicates otherwise at the time the incomplete is originally approved.

S  Satisfactory Progress. This grade is given at the end of a semester when work in a graduate course is satisfactory but requires more than one semester for completion. Students who receive an “S” grade must register for one credit, Continuation of Thesis/Project (REG 500) in subsequent semesters until the work is complete. A continuance allows the student to use University facilities while continuing to work within the designated graduate program.

NR  No Report. This temporary grade is given by the Registrar when no grade has been received from the instructor at the time that the grade reports are printed.

P  Pass. This grade is given for satisfactory completion of a course that is graded on a Pass/Fail basis. This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).

X  Credit by Exam. Portfolio Credit.
5.15 GRADE REPORTS

MID-TERM GRADES

In undergraduate courses, midterm grades are required to be submitted electronically to the Registrar’s Office by the date specified in the academic calendar.

FINAL GRADES

Final grades are required to be submitted electronically to the Registrar’s Office by the reporting deadline. The Registrar will issue a schedule for the reporting of the final grades.

5.16 GRADE CHANGES

To initiate a Change of Grade, faculty should submit an e-FORM, which will be routed through the necessary approval process. E-FORMS are accessible from the faculty WEBadvisor menu at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu. The University’s position is that the grade assigned by faculty at the end of a term represents accurate evaluation of the student’s work for the term; consequently, when a grade change is requested, and, particularly, if the grade change is of more than one semester's standing, the faculty member must provide information and documentation concerning what was erroneous in the original grade and why the new grade should be assigned. The Undergraduate Academic Standards and Review Committee or the Academic Standards and Review Subcommittee of the Graduate Studies Committee reviews all grade changes that concern courses taken more than one year earlier than the date of the submission of the grade change for undergraduate or graduate students respectively. Changes to a grade after a student has graduated will not be considered.

5.17 ENHANCING ACADEMIC HONESTY

DEFINITIONS OF ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Cheating includes, but is not limited to: Copying from someone else’s test or examination paper. Possessing, buying, selling, removing, receiving, or using, at any time or in any manner not prescribed by the instructor, a copy or copies of any materials (in whole or in part) intended to be used as an instrument of academic evaluation in advance of its administration. Using material or equipment during a test or other academic evaluation that has not been authorized by the instructor, such as crib notes, calculator, tape recorder, or slide rule. Obtaining or attempting to obtain in a fraudulent manner any material relating to a student’s academic work; such actions would include theft of examinations or library materials, or obtaining advance access to an examination through collusion with a University employee. Working with another or others in completing a take-home examination or assignment when the instructor has required independent and unaided action. Attempting to influence or change an academic evaluation, grade, or record by unfair means; this would include altering academic work that has been resubmitted without indicating that the work has been altered. Permitting another student to substitute for one’s self in an academic evaluation. Marking or submitting an examination or evaluative material in a manner designed to deceive the grading system. Willfully damaging the academic work or efforts of another student to gain an unfair advantage in an academic evaluation. Failing to comply with a specific condition of academic integrity that has clearly been announced in a particular course. Submitting, without prior permission, any work by a student that has at anytime been submitted in identical or similar form by that student in fulfillment of any other academic requirement at any institution. The submission of material, in whole or part, for academic evaluation that has been prepared by another individual(s) or commercial agency. Aiding or abetting another individual to cheat.

Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to: Submitting written materials without proper acknowledgment of the source. Deliberate attribution to, or citation of, a source from which the referenced material was not in fact obtained. Submitting data which have been altered or contrived in such a way as to be deliberately misleading. Aiding or abetting another individual to plagiarize.

ESTABLISHING AN ENVIRONMENT OF ACADEMIC HONESTY

One major cause of cheating is the perception that it is not strongly discouraged by the faculty. An especially important way to overcome this belief is for each faculty member to make it plain to each class at the beginning of a semester exactly what his or her expectations will be in regard to cheating on exams, plagiarism, independent work on outside assignments and so forth. Clear and definite statements of policy in the course syllabus as well as an introductory talk covering these points are recommended. The serious consequences of detected cases of cheating should be emphasized.

Faculty members should enlist the participation of students in maintaining an environment of academic honesty in the classroom. For the purpose of signaling any problems in this regard, this should include encouraging students to come forward voluntarily to report instances of academic dishonesty. It must be emphasized that the reporting student will not be required to provide specific detail, such as identifying the students involved, and that he or she will be assured of complete confidentiality.

When a student volunteers a report of academic dishonesty, the faculty member should assure the student that the report will be taken seriously. Similarly, faculty members should be willing to pursue serious violations of academic honesty with the University Disciplinary Committee in order to demonstrate that such violations will not be tolerated by the University community. However, as much as possible, emphasis on academic honesty should be positive rather than negative. Considerable tact will be required to avoid the impression that all students are considered to be dishonest, and this is especially important for the non-traditional students attending Monmouth University, many of whom are mature adults holding down responsible professional positions in their communities. One possible approach is to make it clear—as is actually the case—that precautions against academic dishonesty are for the purpose of protecting the honest majority from being unfairly placed at a disadvantage by a few miscreants.

REDUCING THE TEMPTATION TO CHEAT

Students may be tempted into academic dishonesty out of desperation when a course grade depends on only one or two major examinations and/or term papers. Frequent quizzes, hour exams, and homework assignments are recommended to spread the evaluation of the student's work more evenly over the semester and to give frequent feedback on the student's progress. In addition, the students should be made aware of at least some of the steps being taken to detect cheating.

TESTS

Giving the same examination year after year is the most frequently cited example of faculty carelessness with respect to academic honesty. It is well known that some groups have collections of old exams. It is most important that tests be varied from semester to semester. In addition, care should be taken to safeguard tests before they are given (for example, there have been reports that students have gone through faculty wastepaper baskets or entered faculty offices for the purpose of obtaining copies of exams). If tests are prepared by using a computer that is accessible to students, copies of the test should not be left on that computer memory.

As reinforcement, before administering each test, the instructor might well repeat the policy regarding cheating. While the examination is in progress, the instructor should actively proctor the class rather than sit at the front of the room reading. Students should be seated in alternate rows where possible, or different tests (differing perhaps only by altering the order of the questions) might be assigned to different rows. Students should be required to store all books, papers, and other personal belongings under their seats or—preferably—at the front of the room. They should not be allowed to tear pages out of the blue books, and care should be taken to see that all blue books are returned by students who have used more than one. If scratch paper is required, it should be supplied by the instructor, who should require that it all be returned at the conclusion of the test. Preferably, the students should be instructed to use pages at the rear of the blue book, which can later be crossed out. The provision of standard-model hand calculators for use during a test should be considered in courses where the memorization of formulas is required. Instructors should be alert to some current electronic methods used to cheat which can include signals from silent beepers, text messaging students who have already taken the exam, as well as prerecorded notes on hidden audio recorders. In larger classes, the instructor should make every effort to know his or her students to prevent someone from taking the test for another student. When grading multiple-choice tests, instructors should strike through wrong answers with indelible pen or pencil to prevent subsequent alteration. When a student is suspected of altering tests in order to claim later that they were misgraded, some of the tests should be photocopied by the instructor before being given back, and the class should be informed that this is being done.
Also, a check mark should be left on all blank pages at the end of the blue book, to prevent a later claim that an answer was overlooked.

TURNITIN PLAGIARISM DETECTION RESOURCE

Note that Monmouth University faculty members have access to Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based plagiarism detection resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. This database includes current and archived internet resources, periodicals, journals and other publications, and past student papers from Monmouth and other educational institutions.

Faculty can access Turnitin within the eCampus system through the Dropbox tool—which is the most popular method by far—or by connecting directly to the Turnitin.com website. Use of the Turnitin service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin site.

If you plan to use this resource in your classes, you should include statements about Turnitin in your syllabi. Here is a statement, created with the assistance of our General Counsel’s office that should suit your needs; feel free to adapt it to suit your courses, as appropriate:

| Turnitin: Assignments in this course may be checked for plagiarism using Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. I will inform you in advance about which assignments will be checked for originality using Turnitin. |
| Students agree that, by taking this course, all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin.com site. |

In addition, be sure to talk about your use of Turnitin.com in the first class meeting of the semester, and remind students of your planned use of the software on individual assignment handouts.

Questions about Turnitin should be directed to Academic Foundations – General Education (732-571-3637) for teaching and learning matters, or Information Support (732-923-4357) for technology matters. There is also a myMU portal page with resources for faculty, accessible by changing your role to Student. Note that the portal page provides information about the other resources provided by Turnitin.com, including GradeMark (online grading) and PeerMark (peer review and feedback). https://my.monmouth.edu/fyi/turnitin/Pages/default.aspx
Precisely what degree of collaboration between students is acceptable in completing homework should be made clear in the syllabus issued at the beginning of the semester. What’s more, when appropriate to the subject, the instructor should motivate the students to do homework as independently as possible by emphasizing the benefit to be gained from working out the exercises. The instructor should also reinforce this message by careful reading and grading of all work turned in, which should be returned to the student with written comments where appropriate. When reading homework assignments, the instructor should be alert to work duplicated on different student papers. Homework assignments, like tests, should not be repeated without variation from semester to semester, since some student groups keep copies of old assignments. In some cases, the temptation to cheat on homework can be reduced by giving it relatively low weight in determining the course grade. Students should also be quizzed or tested on the contents of outside reading assignments, and if commercial abridgments of longer texts are available, the students should be questioned about materials not included in the abridgment.

RESEARCH PAPERS

When a research paper is assigned, specific objectives for the paper and the criteria to be used in grading it should be specified. Exactly what constitutes plagiarism should also be carefully defined at the time the paper is assigned. Monmouth’s office of Tutoring and Writing Services offers a resource that may be used at http://www.monmouth.edu/uploadedFiles/Resources_for_Writers/Research_and_Documentation/Plagiarism.pdf In addition to defining plagiarism and making reference to Monmouth’s policy on plagiarism, it describes documentation techniques at length. Note that this office provides other resources for writers that may be helpful for your students as they prepare their papers; these resources can be found at http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/css/writing/ResourcesForWriters.aspx.

The most effective means of ensuring that each student actually prepares his or her own paper is to monitor the progress of the work in stages by requiring students to turn in, by specified dates, preliminary outlines, bibliographies, research notes, and rough drafts. In addition, the range of topics permitted should be reasonably limited, and a student should not be allowed to switch topics late in the project. The format of the paper should be specified and papers not in conformance should not be accepted, nor should photocopied papers instead of originals. When appropriate, a quiz might be given covering the knowledge that students should have gained in preparing their papers, or the instructor might interview students individually during the course of the project. The finished papers might be kept on file by the department for a few years to prevent the submission of a copy of previous work. Faculty members also have the option to archive their students’ assignments for future plagiarism checks when they use the Turnitin.com resource.

As a general practice, Faculty should make sufficiently detailed comments and corrections on student assignments so that students understand the basis for the assigned grade. Such a practice, as research and experience have shown, increases student commitment to the learning process and respect for faculty as course instructors.

CONFRONTING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: ACADEMIC DISHONESTY REPORTING POLICY

All acts of academic dishonesty should be promptly addressed with the student and reported to the Provost’s Office. An e-FORM is available on WEBfaculty at https://webadvisor.monmouth.edu for this purpose. It can be found in the “Document Library” in the “Advisors 2” folder.

Academic Dishonesty Reporting Policy (Effective Fall 2016):

1. The process begins when a faculty member determines that student academic misconduct has occurred. Definitions of academic dishonesty can be found above and in the Monmouth University Student Handbook (http://www.monmouth.edu/student_handbook/default.asp) Proscribed academic conduct is explained in the Student Code of Conduct section of the Student Handbook, Article I; sanctions that may be imposed can be found in Article IV.

2. A faculty member who discovers academic dishonesty shall have the discretion in determining the appropriate remedy and/or penalty for the academic misconduct in his/her course (i.e., failing grade for the assignment, the assignment category, or the class) consistent with the policies of the university and the department. If the faculty member plans to act on his or her finding of academic misconduct he or she will notify the student in writing with a summary of the faculty member’s finding and the student’s right to appeal, and make a good faith effort to meet with the student to discuss the finding and allow the student an opportunity to respond. If the student disagrees with the finding, he or she may appeal to the faculty member’s department chair in writing within 10 working days of the notification.

3. If the student does not appeal the finding to the department chair, the faculty member shall report the misconduct to the Registrar via the Academic Dishonesty e-FORM within 15 working days of the initial notification to the student. The Registrar will send a receipt to the reporting faculty member, upon receiving the report.

4. If the student appeals the faculty member’s finding to the faculty member’s department chair, the chair will consult with the faculty member, consider the case within 10 working days of the receipt of the written appeal, and notify the student, the faculty member, and the faculty member’s dean, in writing, of his or her decision to uphold or reverse the finding.

5. After any appeal to the chair has been decided and there is a finding of misconduct, the chair shall report it to the Registrar via the Academic Dishonesty e-FORM. The Registrar will send a receipt to the reporting chair upon receiving the report.

6. The Office of the Provost will maintain a record of students who have been reported for academic misconduct. This record will be separate from the students’ academic records. When a case of student academic misconduct is reported to the Registrar, the Office of the Provost will open a file on that student, or if the Provost’s office already has such a file for a student, it will add the current report to the existing file.

7. When the Office of the Provost receives a first academic dishonesty report on a student, it shall notify the student in writing that it has opened such a file, and that a subsequent incident of academic misconduct will result in charges against the student by the University Discipline Committee, which may result in the student’s suspension or expulsion.

8. When the Office of the Provost receives a second academic dishonesty report on the same student, it shall forward the student’s file with the multiple reports to the University Discipline Committee, and notify the student in writing that it has forwarded the file to the committee. This committee will then consider the case of repeated academic misconduct and determine the appropriate sanctions.

9. Upon the student’s graduation, the contents of the file will be sealed and kept apart from the from the student’s academic record. Any record of student academic misconduct that appears in the student’s permanent academic record will be the result of the action of the University Discipline Committee.

10. A copy of the policy governing academic misconduct will be distributed to faculty regularly. The faculty encourages the Office of Provost to regularly inform students of the policy and student rights and responsibilities in the area of academic conduct.

STUDENT DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

Monmouth University does not tolerate academic dishonesty or any other violations of the Student Code of Conduct. Cheating and plagiarism should be dealt with as described in the current Student Handbook under Academic Dishonesty, which can be found at http://monmouth.edu/student_handbook/default.asp

5.18 SUBMISSION OF THE SAME WORK FOR TWO COURSES

The submission of the same or essentially the same work for two separate courses without the express permission of all faculty members involved is not permitted. There is no intention to work against student research efforts that cross over departmental and/or course lines. Indeed, more complex projects with an interdisciplinary focus are highly desirable; however, faculty members involved with such a project must know in advance what is being done, and there must be mutual agreement about the project.

5.19 WRITING-INTENSIVE COURSES

Courses in English composition at the beginning of students’ academic careers may help them to become better writers, but such courses must be supported by ongoing practice, revision, and evaluation throughout the curriculum and in writing-intensive courses specific to their major areas of study. Undergraduate students are required to complete at least two Writing Intensive courses (designated WT) in each major, as prescribed by the academic departments in which their majors are housed.
Each WT course must provide for the evaluation of at least fifteen pages of discipline-specific academic writing. A significant portion of the final course grade comes from the assessment of written work. Written submissions should be assessed on the basis of content, style, organization, and the coherent development and expression of ideas in accordance with the standards of the discipline. The opportunity to revise will be offered. To maximize improvements in student writing, the Writing Committee recommends that students engage in a professor-driven drafting process in which they share their work with others, such as the professor or classmates, and revise for both quality and discipline-specific content. Writing Intensive courses may be regularly designated courses or courses offered on a rotating basis. They may be offered at the 200, 300, and 400 levels, excluding major capstone courses. Department Chairs may submit WT substitution requests to the Writing Committee on behalf of students in their departments.

5.20 UNDERGRADUATE INDEPENDENT STUDY, INTERNSHIP, SERVICE LEARNING, AND COOPERATIVE EDUCATION COURSES

To complement the classroom experience, Monmouth University offers a variety of courses taught outside the classroom. The following policy describes the limits of and the restrictions for such courses.

An undergraduate student may accumulate no more than fifteen (15) credits of coursework in which most of the instruction occurs outside the classroom. Such coursework generally includes independent study, internships (those carrying the 289, 389, or 489 course numbers and those which are taught as internship seminars), service learning (EX287, 387, or 487) and all cooperative education (those carrying the 288, 388, and 488 course numbers). Major-specific off-campus laboratory, field experience, and student teaching courses, for the purposes of this policy, fall into the same category as regular classroom courses. Online courses also constitute regular classroom courses for the purposes of this policy.

Students must obtain the necessary permission prior to enrolling in independent study, internship, service learning, and cooperative education courses. Failure to process the applications within the required timeframe may impact financial aid status and may jeopardize participation in Commencement.

5.21 STUDENT CHANGE OF CURRICULUM

Students who wish to change their majors should seek the advice of the chair of the proposed new department and make themselves familiar with the requirements of the new major. To make the change, students should complete a “Request to Change Curriculum” e-FORM, which is available from the student’s WEBstudent account. This electronic form will be routed to the chair of the new/intended major. Students must fulfill the requirements of the new major that are in effect at the time of the change of major. Their general education requirements will remain the same.
Undeclared majors are required to officially declare a major by the end of the sophomore year.

5.22 SUBSTITUTION OF DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Students seeking course substitutions or any deviation from the stated requirements of any degree program should apply for a substitution of requirements through their advisor to the department chair and school dean.

Students should avoid processing substitution requests close to the time of graduation; instead, substitutions should be effected as warranted in academic planning sessions with advisors. Students may complete an e-FORM, available from their WEBstudent account, to substitute program requirements. Students seeking course substitutions or any deviation from their general education requirements should apply for a waiver of undergraduate general education requirements form, also available on e-Forms.

5.23 ACADEMIC AUDITS

An official degree audit is the document provided to the student upon application for graduation. The degree audit is a record of completed requirements, requirements in progress, and requirements yet to be completed. Unofficial academic audits are available on-line to students and faculty advisors through WEBstudent and WEBfaculty.

5.24 STUDENT LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students may apply for leaves of absence if they intend to be away from the University for at least one full semester. Leaves of absence allow students to maintain their curricula of record. Interested students complete an electronic request form. All applications for leaves of absence must be processed by the conclusion of the course change (add/drop) period. Students on leaves of absence should be aware of time limitations concerning fulfillment of degree requirements.

5.25 ORDERING LIBRARY MATERIALS (PROCEDURES FOR ACQUISITIONS)

Each academic department formulates its own procedures for establishing priorities for requesting library materials: monographs, periodicals, etc. Faculty members should become familiar with departmental priorities. A library coordinator is chosen or appointed by each department. The library coordinator acts as a liaison between the library collection development coordinator and the department and serves to coordinate requests with the department’s allocation. Requests may be submitted through the library coordinator to the Library by one of two methods:

- Choice cards (see below)
• The Library’s Web-based form which can be completed on-line:

  http://library.monmouth.edu/main/content/book-request

Faculty members should become familiar with holdings in their subject areas. The computer catalog should be checked before requests are submitted. Sources for suggestions for items needed to strengthen the collection are available in the Library or on-line: general subject bibliographies, professional journals, book reviewing media, Books-in-Print online, etc. The Library distributes review cards from Choice (Choice reviews are also available online), through the departmental coordinators.

Book requests for purchase during the current fiscal year should be submitted by April 1 for expedient use of allocations, as the ordering, delivery and processing of new books often take several months. Books included in the bibliographies of course syllabi should be requested well in advance of teaching the course.

5.26 ORDERING TEXTBOOKS AND DIGITAL MATERIALS

The Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 requires that all institutions of Higher Learning make available for students at the time of registration a list of required and recommended course materials, including international standard book numbers and current retail prices. The University Store therefore will request that to the maximum extent practicable, faculty submit course material orders to the Store no later than March prior to the upcoming summer, fall, and spring semesters. The University Store works with the Registrar’s Office to ensure course information is posted to the Store adoptions site and available for course material requests in a timely manner.

It is recognized by Congress that there are situations (late added sections, new faculty hires for sections) that prohibit the complete fulfillment of this requirement. Also, it is not the desire of the law that incorrect or inaccurate information be posted. If the curriculum is being restructured or new course material decisions are being made, orders should not be placed until you are certain they are accurate.

The law also gives faculty certain rights when considering textbooks. Publishers must disclose the current net price of the book (price to the institution before any markup) and all changes to the materials from the prior edition. The University Store has more information on these aspects of the law; please contact them with your questions.

Placing orders – The University Store maintains a website through which course material adoptions may be placed. Faculty will be notified via email when the website is open for adoptions. Registration is required prior to using the website; each academic department has a unique initial sign-in. We also have tools which can aid and assist in title research. Faculty are encouraged to contact the University Store Textbook Department with any questions regarding the ordering process at (732)263-5404 bookstore@monmouth.edu

Electronic Books – Under the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, institutions are encouraged to offer lower-cost alternatives to traditional textbooks. The University Store offers electronic books (“E-books”) although not all titles are available as E-books.

E-books reside on a students’ computer hard drive or are available on a web browser; this option may require students to have access to a laptop during classes, a practice which some faculty may not encourage. Should you prefer that E-books not be offered for your classes, contact the University Store textbook department when placing your adoptions to have the E-book option deleted from your classes.

5.27 USING CUSTOMIZED COURSE MATERIALS IN THE CLASSROOM

Faculty members who wish to select their own materials and offer a customized course packet for their students need to be aware that it requires the selection of appropriate material, contacting appropriate publisher to commence copyright clearance and publication procedure, and to provide the University Store with title, publisher and pricing information (as well as ISBN, if applicable) as soon as available.

A number of publishers now provide copyright clearance services. The University Store can provide you with a list of available publishers upon request.

SOURCES OF MATERIAL

The holdings of the University Library or any other library (including your own) may provide you with the inspiration for specific items you wish to include in a course packet. Course packets by their nature are not covered under the copyright provisions of “fair use” (they are neither spontaneously assembled, nor of sufficient brevity to justify the “fair use” designation). Unless the material is old enough to no longer be covered by copyright, or is in the public domain, you should expect to pay some kind of royalty payment to the author, estate, or copyright holder.

COPYRIGHT CLEARANCE CENTER

The University Store utilizes the services of an outside copyright clearance provider. The University is charged both a processing fee per citation and the royalties on copies actually printed and sold. Although the processing charge is nominal, be aware that combined with the per copy royalty fee, the cost of small orders of course packets can be prohibitive.

Please follow these procedures if you wish to assemble a course packet:
1. Assemble and make copies of all materials to be included in the packet. The inclusion of original copies will vastly expedite the clearance process.
2. At least 8 weeks prior to the start of class, bring all materials to the Store, or call the Store at 732-571-3453 to arrange for the materials to be picked up. Provide the Store with course number, date of use, and estimated number of copies required.

3. Upon clearance of all articles, the course pack will be released for publication. Originals are returned to the Store via next day air, and the pack will then be printed at the Copy Center. See also section 6.4 “Copyright Policy – Related to Library Use.”

PRICING

Royalty payments are rarely inexpensive. Publishers are not uniform in how they calculate—some may charge a flat rate per article, others charge per page. All costs of royalties and processing will be passed along in the retail cost of the course pack, as well as the costs of printing and a Store markup on the printing costs only to cover store expenses and the costs of any unsold packs.

FURTHER INFORMATION

The University Store has available a publication “Questions and Answers on Copyright for the Campus Community,” which answers common questions on the “fair use” doctrine and has been expanded to cover software and internet issues. Please call the Store if you would like a copy, or have any questions on the course pack process.

5.28 MASTER COURSE SYLLABUS

Every approved undergraduate and graduate course at Monmouth has a Master Course Syllabus associated with it. This syllabus was created as part of the course approval process and serves as the definitive documentation regarding the nature of the course; faculty preparing to teach a section of the approved course are expected to follow this document when developing their own class syllabus. Master Course Syllabi are available from the Department Chair or School Dean. At a minimum, the Master Course Syllabus should include the following:

MASTER COURSE SYLLABUS OUTLINE

- Course Code:
- Title:
- Catalog Description:
- Expanded Course Description (optional):
Class capacity: (include rationale if not the university standard 35. There is a current class capacity guide which includes some standards for reduction in class capacity.)

Rationale (i.e., how course fits into curriculum):

Course Goals and/or Objectives (teacher’s aims – “course will provide ...“):

Assessable learning outcomes (“students will be able to ...“):

Methods of Instruction (as appropriate):

Methods of Evaluation (as appropriate, provide at least a suggested distribution of points from categories of assignments and assessments on which grade will be based): e.g., 2 midterm exams 40%
- Research paper 10%
- Class presentation 20%
- Final exam 25%
- Class participation 5%

Required Readings (as appropriate):

Sample Schedule (Provide at least a draft outline of course content by week or designated part of course): e.g.,
- Part 1 (weeks 1-3)
  - Introduction to Cell biology and common techniques
  - Origin of cells, eukaryotes and multicellular organisms
  - Cell Membranes
- Part 2 (weeks 4-6)...etc.

Selected Bibliography (as appropriate, indicating which works are available in the Monmouth University Library):

Effective Date of Implementation or Latest Revision:

5.29 APPROVAL PROCESS FOR NEW COURSES

To have a new course approved for inclusion in a Monmouth University catalog, prepare the following materials:

- Course Data Sheet – New Course (paper original; go to http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/forms.asp for the online fillable form)
- Master Course Syllabus (see page 50 of this handbook for guidelines)
• Note that additional materials are required if you are submitting a proposal for a General Education course. See the office of Academic Foundations - General Education for details.

Approval Process:

Academic Department - Obtain your academic department’s approval by submitting the course proposal for consideration at a department meeting. Your department chair will sign your Course Data Sheet as documentation that your department endorses your proposal.

School Dean - Submit materials to your school dean for endorsement and secure his or her signature on your Course Data Sheet, indicating the approval of the Dean.

If your course is intended to be an undergraduate course, submit your proposal to the Undergraduate Studies Committee. If your course is intended to be a graduate course, submit your proposal to the Graduate Studies Committee.

Undergraduate Studies Committee - Your undergraduate course will need to be reviewed and approved by the Undergraduate Studies Committee, which recommends and implements policies and monitors approved standards and learning outcomes for all undergraduate academic programs and courses. This committee evaluates proposals to establish new and modify or eliminate existing academic programs, and reviews all requests for new courses and course changes.

• In order to be included on the USC agenda, ORIGINAL SINGLE SIDED MATERIALS (including the Course Data Sheet) need to be in the USC secretary’s hands by 5:00 PM 10 calendar days prior to the USC meeting (unless that day falls on a weekend; if so, the proposal is due by 5:00 PM on the last business day prior to the weekend).

• You will still need to send paper copies of the Course Data Sheet to USC members before the meeting. Contact the USC department secretary for copies of the current USC members' names.

• Graduate Studies Committee - Your graduate course will need to be reviewed and approved by the Graduate Studies Committee, which recommends and implements policies and monitors approved standards and learning outcomes for all graduate academic programs and courses.

This committee evaluates proposals to establish new or eliminate existing academic programs and recommend action to the Faculty on such proposals; review and rule on all requests for new courses, course changes, and modifications of existing programs.

• It is advisable to consult the chair of the committee (Vice Provost for Graduate Studies) in advance to ensure that the proposal is in proper form to be placed on the agenda.

• Submit ORIGINAL MATERIALS (including the Course Data Sheet) to the Graduate Studies Office by 5:00 PM 10 calendar days prior to the GSC meeting (unless that day falls on a weekend; if so, the proposal is due by 5:00 PM on the last business day prior to the weekend).

- The Graduate Studies Office will be responsible for distributing a digital file to GSC members.

5.30 APPROVAL PROCESS FOR NEW ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AND SUBSTANTIAL CHANGES TO EXISTING PROGRAMS

The documents describing Monmouth University’s policies and procedures for the institutional approval of new academic programs or substantial revision of existing programs are available in the Provost’s Office and in the Graduate School Office. These policies and procedures are summarized below for the faculty’s guidance. Faculty should contact the Provost’s Office for procedure details before embarking on new academic initiatives.

INITIATION OF A NEW DEGREE PROGRAM OR A NEW CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

The proposal for a new degree or certificate program must be in a prescribed format that includes narrative on the program objectives, relationship of the program to the University Mission, needs assessment, similar programs in the State, curriculum, admission standards, resources (faculty and facilities), and outcomes assessment.

The proposal must be supported by a thorough market analysis demonstrating sustainable demand for the program, marketing strategies, enrollment projections for 5 years, and a 5-year budget including revenues and costs of the program. In addition, the proposal must be subjected to a review by an independent external consultant. The reviewer’s report and the response to it from the proposing department must be submitted to the Board of Trustees before their consideration of the proposal.

A new undergraduate degree or certificate or graduate degree or certificate program must be approved by the following groups/bodies prior to implementation.

All new programs and substantially modified existing programs must be approved by the Undergraduate and Graduate Studies Committee and the Board of Trustees no later than the January preceding a Fall implementation.

a. appropriate departmental faculty, chair and school dean
b. Undergraduate or Graduate Studies Committee – the committee secretary will provide assistance when submitting these proposals.
c. Faculty Council on behalf of the Faculty
d. Monmouth University Board of Trustees
e. Presidents’ Council of the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education (CHE)

See Appendix IV. For a specific timeline for implementing new degrees.
INITIATION OF A PROGRAM OPTION/CONCENTRATION/TRACK WITHIN AN EXISTING DEGREE PROGRAM

The proposal for a program option must include a narrative similar to the one described for a new program. The proposal must demonstrate demand for the option, and favorable impact on enrollments and budget.

A proposal for a program option must be approved by the following groups/bodies prior to implementation.

a. appropriate departmental faculty, chair and school dean
b. Undergraduate or Graduate Studies Committee
c. Provost
d. President
e. Upon approval of the Monmouth University Board of Trustees
f. University will notify the Presidents’ Council of the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education

See Appendix V. for a specific timeline for implementing new certificates or new options.

NOMENCLATURE CHANGES FOR, OR “SHELVING” OF, EXISTING DEGREE AND CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

A request for nomenclature change in an existing degree or certificate program, or a request for shelving an existing degree or certificate program should be initiated by the requesting department. The proposal should include a rationale for the proposed change (or shelving) and should have the support of the departmental faculty, chair and the school dean. The formal approval process for these categories is the same as for a program option.
CHAPTER 6: OTHER POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

6.1 AFFIRMATIVE ACTION/EQUAL OPPORTUNITY POLICY

The Director of the Office of Equity and Diversity is designated as the Equal Employment Opportunity Coordinator of the Affirmative Action Program for Monmouth University and is responsible for its implementation, as well as the designated Title IX Coordinator and ADA/504 Coordinator. The Director’s telephone number is 732-571-7577. If any employee has a suggestion, problem, or complaint, he or she should feel free to contact the Director.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/university/equity-and-diversity.aspx

FACULTY SEARCH PROCEDURES

Faculty searches are designed to meet the needs of the University for a faculty strong in teaching, scholarship, and service, and for a faculty that is diverse. Faculty appointments are subject to the Policy adopted by the Board of Trustees “to implement affirmatively equal opportunity to all qualified employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, creed, color, gender or national origin...”

The Faculty Search Procedures are designed to implement the above Policy by helping departments obtain a pool of qualified candidates and proposing a process so that this pool is appropriately reviewed to meet the needs of the University as well as of the department. Whenever possible, faculty searches should be initiated early in the fall semester of the academic year to ensure Monmouth University is competitive in hiring highly qualified candidates.

The Director of the Office of Equity and Diversity consults with the Provost regarding all faculty recruitment; overseeing the process and providing assistance to help departments and deans obtain representative applicant pools.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/university/equity-and-diversity.aspx

6.2 ETHICAL PRINCIPLES

Monmouth University, as an educational institution and learning community, is based upon certain core values, including responsible citizenship, integrity, honor, accountability, mutual respect, leadership, and service. These and other core values are fundamental to the University community and the ethical standards of the University and its members. These values, as well as those set forth in the Monmouth University Human Relations Philosophy and Policy Statement, form the basis of our Code of Ethics. It is the responsibility of each individual to protect and support the University, its community members and its mission as a learning community.

Ethics and integrity are the responsibility of each individual. Therefore, every member of the faculty and staff, students, and any other person acting on behalf of the University is responsible for ethical conduct consistent with our Code and Monmouth University's policies. University administration, deans, department chairs, and others in supervisory positions must assume responsibility for ensuring that their conduct, and the operations for areas which they supervise, complies with this Code. The Monmouth University Code of Ethics is a statement of our belief in ethical, legal, and professional behavior in all dealings within and outside of the University.

Faculty should familiarize themselves with our Code of Ethics. This information is available online and in the second section below.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/general_counsel/ethics.asp

ETHICAL PRINCIPLES FOR TEACHING

Monmouth University faculty members play a unique role in the education process, and therefore must address additional ethical considerations in their day-to-day work. For guidance on these points, we recommend that faculty consult the American Association for Higher Education and Accreditation (AAHEA) statement on Ethical Principles for College and University Teaching.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST/CODE OF ETHICS

Individual Accountability and Responsibility

Members of the University community are expected to exercise responsibility appropriate to their position and delegated authority. They are responsible to the University community for their actions and their decision not to act. Each individual member is expected to conduct the business of the University in accordance with this Code of Ethics in order to best serve the interests of the University.

Employees are responsible for prompt reporting of any violations of this Code, or any other instances of reasonably suspected fraud or malfeasance through the individual’s chain of command at the University. Students should report violations of this Code to the Vice President for Student Services. Violations of the Code of Ethics may result in termination from the University or student disciplinary action. If the employee is not comfortable reporting an incident through their supervisor, the employee should report the matter directly to the Internal Auditor or the Office of the General Counsel.

No employee or student shall retaliate, in any manner, against an individual who reports a perceived conflict of interest matter pursuant to this policy. Any employee or student who makes such a report in bad faith shall be subject to disciplinary action.

Conflicts of Interest

All employees (faculty, administration, and staff) and students of Monmouth University have an obligation to avoid activities or situations that may result in a conflict of interest. Full-time employees are expected to place their primary professional loyalty with the University. All employees are expected to arrange their outside obligations, financial interests, and activities as not to conflict with their commitment to the University. Employees must not use their official positions to secure unwarranted privileges or advantages for themselves or others. Please refer to the Monmouth University Student Code of Conduct for guidance on student conflicts of interest.

All employees and students have an obligation to examine any situation in which they may have a conflict of interest and take steps to resolve the conflict. Any employee who is concerned that a conflict may exist or how to resolve it should consult with his/her department head. Students should consult with the Vice President for Student Services. Upon determination that a conflict of interest exists, appropriate action will be taken, through recusal, reassignment, or other means to resolve the conflict of interest. No action will be taken without the opportunity for the involved employee or student to be heard with regard to whether a conflict of interest exists and what action, if any, should be taken.

The potential for a conflict of interest extends across a wide range of activities in the University. Conflicts of interest that must be avoided by employees and students include, but are not limited to:

Personal Relationships in the Workplace and Classroom

Members of the same family working in a direct supervisory relationship within the same department of the University or in a faculty/student relationship. Consensual, amorous, or sexual relationships (including relationships with students) in connection with the supervision or evaluation of others, which involve activities or communications that exceed the recognized boundaries of faculty/student, coach/athlete, or supervisor/employee relationships. Employees and students serving on any committee or group responsible for the supervision or evaluation of others with whom they have a familial, amorous, or sexual relationship.
Outside Activities

Volunteer activities (except for professional organizations, conferences, seminars, etc.) that interfere with commitments to the University or activity that is not authorized by the University, which explicitly holds the employee or student out as being an official representative of the University or that the University endorses an organization or activity. This provision shall not be interpreted to restrict an individual employee’s right, consistent with the University’s mission, to foster the expression of ideas and debate with regard to issues of concern to the University community.

Partisan political activity prohibited by federal and state law, regulations, or by University policy, when on University property, during working hours, or using University resources or the University name.

Outside business conducted during working hours, using the University resources (including but not limited to, equipment, computers, supplies, or other similar property) or name (except for professional activities which increase job skills and are of direct benefit to the University). (Refer to the Monmouth University Faculty Association Agreement for policy on consulting and the Non-Academic Employee Handbook for policy on consulting/outside employment).

Outside businesses owned by an employee that directly compete with the University, sell goods or services to the University, or receive funding from the University. (Refer to the conflict of interest statement in the University Purchasing Manual and the Policy on Conflict of Interest in Sponsored Research).

For the purposes of this section, the term “working hours” shall be interpreted to mean the hours an employee is required or expected to be performing his/her University duties and responsibilities in accordance with their status as a faculty member, administrator, or staff member.

Purchasing and Contracts

Negotiation, authorization, or execution of purchasing agreements or other types of contracts with the University in situations where the individual has a direct or indirect financial or other interest or the acceptance of gifts, favors, or other things of value from vendors or contractors. (Refer to the conflict of interest statement in the University Purchasing Manual).

Fundraising

Acceptance of gifts from donors under circumstances in which an employee or others on their behalf will personally benefit from the gift. (Refer to the Office of University Advancement Policies and Procedures Manual for Development Activities). This policy shall not prohibit employees from applying for and receiving grant funds that are connected with academic scholarship or official University activities.
Attendance at Vendor Sponsored Events

Employees of the University shall not attend any event, function, conference, or other activity for which their expenses or costs (including items such as transportation, lodging, and food) are paid for or provided, in whole or in part, by a vendor doing business with the University, or actively seeking business with the University, under circumstances whereby it would be a conflict of interest, or create an appearance of impropriety, for the employee to attend the event, function, conference, or other activity. In determining the propriety of attending any event, function, conference, or other activity under this policy, the following factors shall be considered:

- The identity of the employee and the nature of the employee’s responsibility for dealing with the vendor including whether the employee has primary responsibility for the selection of the vendor and supervision of the vendor’s activities on behalf of the University.
- The nature and value of the benefits that are to be provided by the vendor.
- Whether the vendor is currently seeking, or will in the near future be seeking, an initial contractual relationship or a renewal of its contractual relationship with the University.
- Whether an issue currently exists with regard to a vendor’s services to the University where it might be perceived that the vendor’s actions are an attempt to influence a determination on that issue.

The prohibitions set forth in this policy shall also apply to members of the employee’s family or other individuals receiving such benefit from a vendor due to their relationship with the employee.

Individual employees receiving an invitation from a University vendor or from a vendor actively seeking to do business with the University for any benefit described in this policy shall review the circumstances of the invitation with the University’s Vice President and General Counsel prior to acceptance of any invitation.

It is not the intent of this policy to prohibit the receipt of occasional gifts of nominal value or occasional meals paid for by a vendor. It is also not the intent of this policy to prohibit the receipt of benefits from a vendor when the acceptance of such benefits would not create a conflict of interest or an appearance of impropriety. Employees are encouraged to seek advice from the Office of the General Counsel over whether the value of a gift received qualifies as nominal.

Compliance with Applicable Laws and Regulations

Institutions of higher education are subject to many of the same laws and regulations as other businesses. There are also additional requirements unique to higher education. Members of the University community are expected to become familiar with the laws and regulations that affect their areas of responsibility. Many but not all legal requirements are detailed in University policies. Failure to comply may have serious adverse consequences both for individuals and for the University in terms of reputation, finances, and the health and safety of the University community. University business is to be conducted in conformance with legal requirements. Members of the University community who have a question regarding the interpretation of legal requirements should contact the Office of the General Counsel.

Compliance with University Policies and Procedures

Monmouth University policies and procedures are designed to inform employees about responsibilities, to set minimum standards, and to give the University community notice of expectations. Members of the University community are expected to transact all University business in compliance with policies and procedures and have an obligation to become familiar with those that affect their areas of responsibilities. Members of the University community are expected to seek clarification from the Office of the General Counsel or other appropriate office on a policy or procedure that he/she finds to be unclear, outdated, or in conflict with the mission of the University.

Financial Reporting

All University accounting and financial records, tax reports, expense reports, time sheets, and other documents including those submitted to government agencies must be accurate, clear, and complete. All published financial reports must make full, fair, accurate, and timely disclosures as required under generally accepted accounting principles. Additionally, employees are responsible for reporting to management any known instances of fraudulent or misleading reporting information.

Internal Control

Internal controls are the processes used to help ensure that the University’s business is carried out in accordance with this Code of Ethics, University policies and procedures, applicable laws and regulations, and best business practices. They help to promote efficient operations, accurate financial reporting, protection of assets, and responsible fiscal management. All members of the University community are responsible for internal controls. Each business unit or department head is specifically responsible for ensuring that internal controls are established, properly documented, and maintained for activities within their jurisdiction. Any individual entrusted with funds is responsible for ensuring that adequate internal controls exist over the use and accountability of such funds.

6.3 COMMUNICATIONS AND UNIVERSITY RELATIONS

The Office of Public Affairs coordinates University-wide activities in media relations, community relations, and develops and strengthens relations with government officials.
Media Relations: The Director of Public Relations (x5507) acts as primary liaison between members of the University community and the news media. This office is familiar with deadline requirements and prevailing standards of style and format. The office, therefore, is a valuable resource on how best to publicize upcoming events and achieve maximum news coverage of events as they occur. This office also coordinates assignments involving the photographer. Faculty members are requested to channel all publicity requests and news release suggestions through the Director of Public Relations (x5507), fax (732) 263-5660, who maintains up-to-date contact files on all major radio, television, newspaper, and magazine outlets in the county, state, and region. A minimum of one month’s notice is requested to ensure timely preparation and distribution of news releases and requests for coverage. Faculty members are also requested to notify the Director of Public Relations of any direct media inquiries or interview requests. Under normal circumstances, this prevents needless duplication of effort on the part of faculty, staff, and media personnel. In the event of an accident, incident, or controversy, the Office of Public Relations, working with the Crisis Management Team, can coordinate a timely, consistent institutional response to ensure compliance with information release policies.

Publications: The Director of Enrollment Publications and Communications (x5337) is responsible for the management of the production of all publications and communication vehicles that promote the University and/or serve as enrollment communications to students, their parents, and their families.

The Director serves as the University’s administrator for communication for the University, its students, and publics. The Director manages and coordinates the production of communications and publications (in both print and electronic media) that support recruitment, catalog the curricula and policies of the University, and communicate to students and related constituencies. The Director manages the Office of Enrollment Publications and Communications, a department within the External Affairs Division. The Director is responsible for the coordination of the production of undergraduate and graduate recruitment materials, catalogs, student handbooks, promotional pieces, direct mail materials, and other publications that support the Divisions of Academic Affairs, Administrative Services, Student Services, Athletics, Enrollment Management, and others. In addition, the Director is responsible for managing the content and design of the University Web pages, with the exception of those that are relative to academic instruction or are the personal/professional Web pages of faculty and students.

The Office of Enrollment Publications and Communications produces all of its work on an annual schedule and budget. The comprehensive publications/communications plan schedules design, printing, reprinting, and Web design on an annual or semi-annual timeline. As new pieces are planned or existing publications are scheduled to be revised, the appropriate faculty member will be contacted by this office and will be asked to either participate in an interview from which the piece will be written or revised, to update existing pieces with current information, or to write a rough draft of the text. All requests by faculty members for new printed materials (or for reprinting as a result of changes in curricula and policies) should be channeled through the Office of the Vice President for Enrollment Management. This ensures timely production, contributes to cost savings, helps guarantee uniformity of design and production standards, and fosters the maintenance of an appropriate institutional image. Faculty are encouraged to provide as much advance notice as possible of future publication requests. Several hundred publications are printed annually by this office for the University.

Periodicals: The University Editor (x3517) edits the Monmouth University Magazine and other University publications.

Faculty members are encouraged to contact the Editor regarding innovative programs, teaching methods, research proposals, special projects or personal achievements that would be of interest to a broader audience of alumni and friends of the University.

“Around Monmouth”, the faculty newsletter that is published three times per year (September-May), is produced by the Office of Public Affairs for the Provost. The normal deadline is the 20th of each month for submissions to the Office of Public Affairs.

6.4 COPYRIGHT POLICY – RELATED TO LIBRARY USE

The Monmouth University community adheres to the requirements of the United States Copyright Law of 1976, as amended, (Title 17, United States Code, hereinafter, the “Copyright Act”). In addition, Monmouth University adheres to the restrictions governing the reproduction of software. The University also ensures that the copying of materials under fair use provisions of the Copyright Act is not exceeded. The main guidelines for compliance with the Copyright Act are as follows:

- Uncopyrighted materials may be copied freely and without restriction. Prior to March 1, 1989, a copyright notice was generally required on any work to be copyright protected. Because a copyright notice is not required for copyright protection of works published on or after March 1, 1989, most works (except those authored by the US Government) should be presumed to be copyright protected. Occasionally, but not often, the copyright holder of a work will indicate that he/she intends the work to be in the public domain.
- Copying of copyrighted software may occur without the copyright owner’s permission only in accordance with the Copyright Act. The copyright Act (Section 117) permits the making of a single archival back-up copy. Some software licenses may grant “permission” to make copies of the software in excess of the single archival copy permitted by the Copyright Act. Before you copy, check to find out what is permitted in the license.
- Faculty, staff, and students may also not use unauthorized copies of software on computers owned by or housed at Monmouth University.
- Copyrighted materials may be copied without the copyright owner’s permission where such copying constitutes “fair use” under the Copyright Act. The specific fair use criteria supported by the United States Congress have been set out in a brochure published by the National Association of College Stores, Inc. and the Association of American Publishers. They are included at the end of this policy.

- In cases where copying of copyrighted materials extends beyond what is either permitted by license (in the case of software) or fair use, permission to copy should be obtained from the copyright holder.
- Faculty or staff members shall be held personally responsible for their defense of an action for copyright infringement which contradicts Monmouth University’s compliance policy.
- Notice concerning Monmouth University’s adherence to copyright shall be posted and distributed widely, and posted at all photocopying stations which may be used for reproducing copyrighted materials, e.g., departmental and library photocopy machines, and near computers used for reproducing copyrighted software.

AGREEMENT ON GUIDELINES FOR CLASSROOM COPYING IN NOT-FOR-PROFIT EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS WITH RESPECT TO BOOKS AND PERIODICALS

MULTIPLE COPIES FOR CLASSROOM USE:

Multiple copies (not to exceed in any event more than one copy per pupil in a course) may be made by or for the teacher giving the course for classroom use or discussion provided that:

A. The copying meets the test of brevity and spontaneity as defined below; and,
B. Meets the cumulative effect test as defined below; and,
C. Each copy includes a notice of copyright.

DEFINITIONS:

Brevity:

i. Poetry: (a) A complete poem if less than 250 words and if printed on not more than two pages or (b) from a longer poem, an excerpt of not more than 250 words.
ii. Prose: (a) Either a complete article, story or essay of less than 2,500 words, or (b) an excerpt from any prose work of not more than 1,000 words or 10% of the work, whichever is less, but in any event a minimum of 500 words.

(Each of numerical limits stated in “i” and “ii” above may be expanded to permit the completion of an unfinished line of a poem or of an unfinished prose paragraph.)

iii. Illustration: One chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon or picture per book or per periodical issue.
iv. “Special” works: Certain works in poetry, prose or in “poetic prose” which often combine language with illustrations and which are intended sometimes for children and at other times for a more general audience fall short of 2,500 words in their entirety. Paragraph “i” above notwithstanding such “special works” may not be reproduced in their entirety; however, an excerpt comprising not more than two of the published pages of such special work and containing not more than 10% of the words found in the text thereof may be reproduced.
Spontaneity:
   i. The copying is at the instance and inspiration of the individual teacher, and
   ii. The inspiration and decision to use the work and the moment of its use for maximum teaching effectiveness are so close in time that it would be unreasonable to expect a timely reply to a request for permission.

Cumulative Effect:
   i. The copying of the material is for only one course in the school in which the copies are made.
   ii. Not more than one short poem, article, story, essay or two excerpts may be copied from neither the same author, nor more than three from the same collective work or periodical volume during one class term.
(The limitations stated in “ii” and “iii” above shall not apply to current news periodicals and newspapers and current news sections of other periodicals.)

PROHIBITIONS:
Notwithstanding any of the above, the following shall be prohibited:
   A. Copying shall not be used to create or to replace or substitute for anthologies, compilations, or collective works. Such replacement or substitution may occur whether copies of various works or excerpts there from are accumulated or are reproduced and used separately.
   B. There shall be no copying of or from works intended to be “consumable” in the course of study or teaching. These include workbooks, exercises, standardized tests and test booklets and answer sheets and like consumable material.
   C. Copying shall not:
      a. Substitute for the purchase of books, publisher’s reprints or periodicals;
      b. Be directed by higher authority;
      c. Be repeated with respect to the same item by the same teacher from term to term.
   D. No charge shall be made to the student beyond the actual cost of the photocopying.

6.5 DRUG FREE WORKPLACE ACT OF 1988

Monmouth University desires a healthy, drug-free environment for all of its employees. As such, the University takes a firm stand of non-tolerance for the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol for all employees. Employees are expected to adhere to the University’s rules and regulations. Those employees who disregard University policies and/or Federal Laws and/or
New Jersey State laws will be subject to sanctions and penalties.
Applies to: All Monmouth University employees including employees working under Federal Grants and Programs

Distribution: In compliance with Federal law, each employee will receive a copy of this policy annually. New employees will be given a copy of the policy during orientation.

6.6 EMERGENCY PROCEDURES AND CLOSING

Monmouth University operates under a five-level emergency management system, where Level 1 is the standard operating level and Level 5 requires that the University be closed with possible shelter-in-place or evacuation. Employees are notified of any change in security via the Regroup Emergency Notification System. All University employees are automatically enrolled in Regroup. If you do not wish to be enrolled, you must go to the web site and opt out. For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/campus_safety/default.asp

Monmouth University has also established an Emergency Information Telephone Line, 732-263-5900. During emergencies, including weather related situations when the University may need to close or delay the start of the class or work-day, this line will have a recorded message with necessary information for students and employees.

If the University must close or cancel classes, a broadcast message will be sent to all employees, resident students, and classroom telephones via the campus voice mail system; information will be posted on the main page of the Monmouth University website, and you will be notified via Blackboard-Connect.

If you are not sure if you must report to work or class, please check your own voice mail, or call the Emergency Information Telephone Line at 732-263-5900 for the latest closing information. Please do not call the University Police, Human Resources or any other office on campus for closing information. The Provost’s Office will work closely with the appropriate officials to keep the most current information on the Emergency Information Telephone Line. To check your voice mail from off-campus, dial 732-263-6000 and enter your 4-digit voice mailbox number and password.

Weather-related cancellations and closings will be announced on local radio and TV stations as stated in the Emergency Closing Policy.

FIRE EVACUATION

An alert and educated staff is the University’s most valuable resource for fire protection. As faculty, you play a significant role in reducing campus fire risks and protecting yourself and our students from harm.

Whenever the fire alarm sounds in an office or classroom building, act immediately to ensure your safety. The campus’ fire alarm systems have been designed and engineered to provide you with an early warning to safely exit the building during an emergency situation. When teaching, faculty are expected to supervise the evacuation of their classes.

All faculty should become familiar with the University's fire evacuation procedures for the room(s) in the building(s) in which they are assigned to conduct classes and in which they have offices. This includes learning where exits are located and knowing the location of the assembly points. It is a good idea to inform your classes of the fire evacuation procedures and routes at the start of each semester.

University employees are not required to fight fires and must evacuate the building immediately in the event of a fire. The University Police have primary responsibility for managing fire emergencies (until relieved by appropriate fire department personnel). Should a fire alarm sound in a building, please evacuate immediately and follow any directions given to you by the University Police. The New Jersey Uniform Fire Code and local regulations require that the University conduct inspections and fire drills each semester. These inspections and drills must conform to the regulatory requirements and be documented. Whenever discrepancies or violations do occur, they must be identified and corrected. Violations include:

- Failure of building occupants to evacuate the building
- Disregard of fire alarms
- Disregard of legitimate directives of police officers and other emergency personnel

Evacuation Procedures

Whenever the fire alarm sounds in a campus building:

A. Evacuate immediately via the nearest stairwell or street level exit. Close all doors when leaving as long as conditions permit.
B. Do not use elevators.
C. Each University building has a pre-designated assembly point. Lead/escort your class to the assembly point.
D. Plaques listing the Emergency Coordinator for each area of the building have been posted in each department.
E. After you have left the building, go to the pre-designated assembly point and remain there.
1. At the assembly point, faculty and supervisors will account for all students and personnel and report any that are unaccounted for to the University Police or Emergency Coordinator.

F. During an emergency, students and visitors who may not be familiar with this plan must be informed by faculty or department personnel of the requirement to evacuate.

G. Special attention should also be given to any person requiring assistance because of a disability, especially those who are visitors or unfamiliar with the building.

1. People requiring evacuation assistance should proceed to the nearest stairwell and position themselves to the side of the stairwell.

2. Emergency personnel will attend to their evacuation.

3. In the unlikely event that a person needing evacuation assistance must be evacuated before emergency personnel arrive, the person shall be asked to instruct as to the safest method of evacuation for him or her.

H. No one is permitted to reenter any building until the ranking police officer or commander on the scene has given the "all clear" message.

If you discover a fire, activate the nearest fire alarm and call the University Police at x444:

A. Give the location of the emergency; and the nature of the emergency and your name.

B. If the fire alarm does not work, dial x444 and notify occupants verbally of the emergency and the need to evacuate.

C. You should only attempt to put out the fire if you have been trained and are comfortable with using a fire extinguisher; otherwise, immediately evacuate the building.

D. Hazardous equipment or processes should be shut down before leaving unless doing so presents a greater hazard.

For more information: contact the Monmouth University Police Department 732-571-4444, or Facilities Management 732-571-3425.

6.7 EXIT INTERVIEW PROCEDURES

Faculty who resign from Monmouth University should give ample notification. Those who resign and those whose contracts are not renewed are required to complete the Separation Checklist available in the Provost’s Office. A Benefit Information Exit interview will be sent to the faculty member by the Office of Human Resources.
6.8 FACILITIES USE

All room reservations for programs co-sponsored with outside groups must be arranged through Conference and Events Services. Campus facilities are primarily for the use of the University community. We welcome outside groups on campus in conferences, symposia and forums but require that outside groups using campus facilities pay appropriate fees unless the focus of the event is directed to the campus community.

If you are co-sponsoring an event with an outside group that is non-profit and directed primarily towards the University community (over 50% of attendees are from MU or the meeting’s agenda is set by MU), you will need to submit a co-sponsorship form signed by your department chair. If the program you are sponsoring is directed primarily toward the outside, or if it is a for-profit event, fees will be charged unless they are waived. If you are requesting such a waiver, please attach a rationale with the form. Waivers must be approved by the area vice president or Cabinet Officer.

All co-sponsored events must adhere to the “rules and regulations” for use of facilities established by the Board of Trustees. (Copies are available in Conference and Events Services). Monmouth University encourages full debate on public issues, but please be aware that as a tax exempt institution the university cannot champion a particular candidate for office or a particular party platform.

For more information:
http://www.monmouth.edu/university/conference-and-event-services.aspx

6.9 FACULTY IDENTIFICATION CARDS

Identification cards are processed by the University Police for all full-time and part-time faculty members. Upon the completion of all required paperwork a faculty member can visit the ID Center located adjacent to the Center for Student Success on the lower level of the Stafford Student Center during posted hours. The University Police Department will issue the Identification Card at that time. The identification card is needed to check materials out of the Library and to access recreational facilities.

Should a level 4 security at the University ever be issued, an identification card will be required to enter campus, and faculty should be able to produce their ID card whenever requested while on campus.
6.10 GRANTS AT MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY

Monmouth University is committed to building an academic culture that creates leaders who have the intellectual, social, and professional skills necessary to work toward the realization of goals without distraction or hesitation. In terms of grants and sponsored programs, this philosophy is demonstrated in a desire to maximize University support for excellence in teaching and scholarship through externally supported research and programs. Monmouth University strongly asserts that sponsored programs are desirable and enhance the institution’s standing and mission. Research and program funding increase the institution’s status and prestige, attracts better quality faculty and students, enhances our training of future scientists and teachers, allows us to upgrade programs and build our infrastructure, and enhances the quality of service to country, state, and community. From a faculty member’s perspective, increased sponsored program activity can lead to knowledge generation and expansion, publications, career advancement, and enhanced public service and educational opportunities for our students.

Note that the MU-FAMCO Agreement lists successful application and receipt of externally funded grant awards for scholarly activities as scholarship.

See http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/grants/policies.asp

6.11 PERSONAL INFORMATION CHANGES

It is the responsibility of faculty to immediately inform the Office of Human Resources in writing of any changes which may affect personal status or that of your benefits, i.e., change of name, address, marital status, number of dependents, change in IRS dependency status of a child, withholding exemptions, and home telephone numbers. Failure to make proper notification may result in unnecessary University expenditures for employee benefits. The employee will be responsible for reimbursing the University for such unnecessary expenditures. Forms to report changes may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources or on myMU portal.

6.12 PURCHASING POLICY

FUNCTIONS AND AUTHORITY

The Director of Purchasing is the authorized agent for the University in the procurement of goods and services. To fulfill its mission, the Purchasing Department: develops and maintains reliable sources of supply; obtains competitive bids; negotiates major contracts; consolidates University purchases; and awards all relevant purchase orders. It also creates and ensures standards of quality, safety, and compatibility; and acts as the University’s designated agent as delegated by the President of the University and Trustees for the commitment of resources.
UNAUTHORIZED PURCHASES

Individual employees and students of Monmouth University do not have the authority to enter into purchase contracts or otherwise obligate the University. An exception to this would be the use of the white requisition form (“quick order”) for items costing under $200 and picked up the same day. Another exception would be use of the Monmouth University Purchasing Card. The Purchasing Card Program has been established to provide a convenient means with which to make small dollar purchases. A Purchasing Card is a charge card issued to an employee for the purpose of making authorized purchases of less than $1,000. Any obligation entered into without the proper authorization may be considered a personal obligation of the individual with that vendor. Purchases for personal use or benefit are a personal obligation.

UNAUTHORIZED SIGNING OF CONTRACTS

Individual employees and students of Monmouth University are not authorized to sign contracts on behalf of the University, including those for professional and consulting services, insurance, construction, performing arts and lectures, facilities and equipment rental, grants and loan agreements. A Board of Trustees resolution dated 2/2/94 designates the authority for signing contracts to the President. The Vice President for Finance has the authority to sign contracts as well, and in the President’s absence, grant documents. The Vice President for Student Services is authorized to sign contracts with performers appearing on campus.

The By-laws of the University state that the President may designate signing authority to other Officers of the University. A list of the type of contracts signed by each Officer and the dollar level authorized is to be approved by the President and maintained on file in the President’s office. It is the responsibility of individual Officers to update these lists as new contract situations arise. Original contracts are to be maintained on file in a central location designated by the President. Contracts involving payment of $250,000 or more require Board of Trustee or Executive Committee approval. All University contracts are to be reviewed by the General Counsel office prior to signing.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

All purchasing activity is to be conducted in accordance with the University’s Code of Ethics with respect to conflicts of interest.

PROCEDURES AND FORM USE

For Procedures and Form Use, please refer to the Purchasing Manual on the University’s website: http://www.monmouth.edu/uploadedFiles/Content/University/faculty-and-staff/offices-and-services/FunctionsAndObjectives.pdf
6.13 SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Monmouth University, consistent with its Human Relations Philosophy and Policy Statement, sets forth the policy regarding sexual harassment. The University, in accordance with federal and state regulations, will attempt to protect the rights of its faculty, non-faculty employees, and students to work and study in an environment free from all forms of sexual harassment.

For more information: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/HR/AAAction/harass.asp

6.14 SMOKING POLICY

Smoking is permitted on the grounds of the campus. However, smoking inside campus buildings is not permitted. The University urges due consideration for others and compliance with safety measures while smoking. Individuals exiting a University building to smoke are required to stand at least 25 feet from the entrance and are required to utilize appropriate receptacles to discard cigarettes. Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against individuals who do not comply with this policy. Outside groups who utilize University facilities are required to comply with this policy.
CHAPTER 7: HUMAN RESOURCES INFORMATION

7.1 SALARY AND PAY CHECKS

General salary information is addressed in the FAMCO Agreement (Article X). Paychecks for all employees are distributed bi-weekly on alternate Thursdays. Faculty wishing to have their salaries spread over twelve months may arrange to do so by signing a promissory note with the Payroll Department (x3469). Certain positions may not qualify for this option. For direct deposit information contact the Payroll Department or access the direct deposit form at: https://my.monmouth.edu/Forms/Documents/DirectDeposit.pdf

7.2 FRINGE BENEFITS

ACTS AND LIMITATIONS

EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT AND INCOME SECURITY ACT (ERISA):
Monmouth University complies with the regulations set forth by the Employee Retirement and Income Security Act of 1974, commonly referred to by its initials - ERISA. This law was enacted to protect the interest of workers in pension and welfare benefit plans. These benefits are further described below.

CONSOLIDATED OMNIBUS BUDGET RECONCILIATION ACT OF 1985 (COBRA):
Monmouth University abides by the requirements as set forth in the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 ("COBRA"). COBRA requires that employees and their qualified dependents covered under health and dental insurance programs be given the opportunity to elect to continue their coverage under the plan if their coverage would otherwise end because of a qualifying event. Qualifying events include termination (other than for gross misconduct), death, divorce, reduction in work hours, the employee's entitlement to Medicare coverage (but not the spouse or dependents), or a dependent child ceasing to be a dependent child under the terms of the plan.

Employees are required to advise the Office of Human Resources in writing within 30 days if a qualifying event (those described above) occurs.

LIMITATIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL BENEFITS:

THE SOLE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE UNIVERSITY IS TO PAY THE PREMIUMS OR PORTIONS THEREOF AS SET FORTH FOR THE BENEFITS DESCRIBED IN THIS SECTION. ANY AND ALL CLAIMS FOR BENEFITS ELIGIBILITY AND/OR OTHER CONDITIONS SHALL BE AS SET FORTH IN THE POLICY OR POLICIES OF INSURANCE AFFORDING THE BENEFITS. THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SAID
Policy or Policies shall govern and control all questions or claims arising hereunder.

Absences Due to Illness, Temporary and Long-Term Disability

The Office of Human Resources must be notified of any absences beyond three (3) days so that the University can comply with State and Federal Regulations.

Monmouth University provides employees with Temporary Disability Insurance, through an approved private plan underwritten by the CIGNA Life Insurance Company of America. The University does not participate in the State of New Jersey's temporary disability program. Faculty members who become temporarily disabled must notify the Department Chair, School Dean, Provost, and the Office of Human Resources. Claim forms will be sent to the faculty members by the Office of Human Resources and once completed must be returned to the Office of Human Resources for processing.

Coverage begins the first day for accidents and on the eighth day for illness. The compensation of a sick or disabled faculty member who has served at least one full academic year at Monmouth University is maintained by the University up through one half of the faculty member’s base salary, payable over a six month period (or prorated if the faculty member’s salary is payable over twenty-two pay periods), at which time the sick or disabled faculty member may be eligible for coverage by the then applicable Total Disability Insurance Policy. The sick or disabled faculty member who is eligible for this compensation must apply for temporary disability benefits through the University’s private insurer and return these payments to the University during this paid leave by endorsing such payments to the University. Such faculty members must also sign an Agreement for Salary Continuation with the Office of Human Resources in order to maintain their pay during this period. Coverage of the sick or disabled faculty member’s classes and other obligations is done voluntarily by departmental colleagues, for a period of up to two weeks after which an appropriate substitute shall be arranged for unless all missed work is to be made up by the faculty member on return. This provision represents the only sick time coverage provided for sick or disabled faculty members. Before an employee returns to normal job duties, a release from the attending physician must be presented to the Office of Human Resources. An employee is expected to report to work on the date specified in the physician's release.

Regarding long-term disability, Monmouth University provides insurance for faculty at no cost to the individual after twelve (12) months of full-time continuous service. Further information regarding long-term disability may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

Adult Child up to Age 31 Continuation of Medical Coverage

Eligible children aging out of the University’s group medical plan are eligible for continuation of medical coverage through COBRA. Another alternative is election to continue medical coverage under the Chapter 375 Election – Coverage of Young Adults in NJ Up to Age 31, if conditions for eligibility are met. The NJ Chapter 375 Election – Coverage of Young Adults in NJ continuation option is only available for medical (including prescription) coverage.

BACK-UP CARE PROGRAM – BRIGHT HORIZONS FAMILY SOLUTIONS

Monmouth University offers an emergency back-up care program through Bright Horizons Family Solutions to assist employees in balancing the competing demands of work and life. The program gives employees access to a national network of high-quality child care centers that can be used for back-up care when they need to be at work and their regular child care arrangements are unavailable. Employees may utilize back-up child care for their children, step-children, adopted children, and/or foster children who are considered IRS dependents. The program also provides in-home back-up care for well and mildly ill children, elder spouses or elder parents, regardless of where they reside. This program is available to faculty immediately upon hire, for a maximum of 20 days per dependent per calendar year. A small co-pay of $15.00 per child, ($25.00 per family) per day for center based care or $4.00 per hour, minimum of 4 hours, for basic in home care applies.

Dependents must be registered with Bright Horizon Family Solutions before care can be provided. You may register online at http://backup.brighthorizons.com by entering our username (mucares) and password (hawks), or by phone at 877-BH-CARES (877-242-2737). Further information may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

BEREAVEMENT

In the event of a death in the immediate family, full-time faculty may take up to three days with pay and longer without pay, if necessary. The immediate family is defined as spouse, including civil unions, children, parents, brothers, sisters, grandparents, grandchildren, and such in-laws.

CHILD CARE SERVICES

Monmouth University has made arrangements with area child care centers to offer discounted rates to employees of the University. Employees are eligible immediately upon hire to utilize the services of a number of child care centers which offer Monmouth University employees discounted rates. If you are interested in obtaining a list of child care centers, please call the Office of Human Resources.

For emergency back-up child care, please refer to the section titled “Back-Up Care Program – Bright Horizons Family Solutions.”
DENTAL INSURANCE PROGRAM

All full-time faculty members are eligible to participate in the University’s dental program the first day of the month following the completion of ninety (90) days of full-time continuous employment. Delta Dental is the University’s dental care provider. Delta offers three plans: 1) Delta Premier, 2) Delta Preferred, and 3) Deltacare (flagship). New full-time faculty members may decline dental coverage or choose one of the three plans. Current eligible faculty members may make changes to their coverage at designated “open enrollment” periods. Faculty members electing to provide coverage to a spouse or dependent child must submit the appropriate marriage and/or birth certificate for covered members.

Employees contribute to the cost of their dental insurance through payroll deduction. Employees are eligible to contribute their dental payroll deduction on a pre-tax basis subject to IRS regulations. The election may be done only during a designated “open enrollment” period. For information on continuing dental coverage upon termination or upon reducing work hours to a part-time status, see COBRA section.

Further information regarding the Dental Program may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Monmouth University offers an Employee Assistance Program, through Barnabas OneSource, as a practical and constructive mechanism to assist employees' and/or their dependents' personal problems. Barnabas OneSource is a leading provider of employee assistance programs and administrative behavioral services. (Barnabas OneSource is a separate carrier and has no affiliation with the University’s medical insurance carrier, Horizon Blue Cross/Blue Shield of New Jersey.)

Full-time employees and their dependents are eligible to utilize the services of Barnabas OneSource*. Counselors may be contacted by calling 1-800-300-0628. Each individual utilizing Barnabas OneSource is eligible for up to eight (8) counseling sessions provided the problem can be addressed on an out-patient basis. Services performed by members of the Barnabas OneSource staff are strictly confidential, and in compliance with privacy laws, unless an individual chooses to voluntarily sign a release. Additional information is available in the Office of Human Resources.

*For the Barnabas OneSource Employee Assistance Program only, a dependent is defined as any person living within the employee's home.

An additional component of the Employee Assistance Program is the LifeCare Work/Life Services. LifeCare provides resources for those struggling with maintaining the balance of daily responsibilities of home and work. LifeCare is available 24/7 and employees can access assistance by calling 800-873-4636.
FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE

The Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 entitles eligible employees to take up to twelve (12) weeks of unpaid leave under specific circumstances. To be eligible for FMLA leave, before the commencement of a leave an employee must have been employed by the University for at least twelve (12) consecutive months, and have worked at least 1,250 hours of service during the 12-month period immediately preceding the leave. Leave under this regulation is for the following:

- The birth and care of the employee’s newborn child
- The placement and care of a child newly placed with the employee for adoption or foster care
- To care for an immediate family member with a serious health condition
- The employee's serious health condition
- Any qualified exigency arising out of the fact that the employee’s spouse, son, daughter or parent is a covered military member on covered active duty
- To care for a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness if the eligible employee is the servicemember’s spouse, son, daughter, parent or next of kin (military caregiver leave)
  - Military caregiver leave allows up to twenty-six (26) workweeks of leave in a single twelve (12) month period

While on an approved FMLA leave, employees are entitled to continue receiving health benefits as if they are still working, provided they remit their normal payroll contribution to the University, and most employees must be reinstated to the same or equivalent job with the same pay, benefits and terms and conditions of employment. Further information regarding the Family and Medical Leave Act may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

FIRST FINANCIAL FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

Employees at Monmouth University may participate in the First Financial Federal Credit Union. Necessary forms may be obtained from the Credit Union Offices.

FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNTS

All full-time employees are eligible to establish a Flexible Spending Account. A Flexible Spending Account is a mechanism by which employees can elect to set aside, on a pre-tax basis, salary dollars to help pay for services not covered under a health insurance program (Health Care Spending Account) or to pay for certain child care or elder dependent care expenses incurred while your work, (Dependent Care Spending Account). New employees are eligible to enroll on the first of the month following thirty days of their full time hire date. Full-time employees may only enroll in the Program during designated “open enrollment” periods. Employees are required to complete a Flexible Spending Account Enrollment Form for each calendar year that they wish to participate in the Program.
The Program is entirely voluntary, regulated by the Internal Revenue Service, and may be terminated at the discretion of Monmouth University. Further information regarding the Flexible Spending Account Program may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAMS

All full-time faculty members are eligible to participate in the University’s medical program following the completion of ninety (90) days of full-time continuous employment. Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield of New Jersey is the University’s medical care provider. Currently our vision plan is bundled with the medical program and administered by Davis Vision. Information on Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield of New Jersey’s Direct Access program as well as Davis Vision may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

New full-time employees are required to indicate their coverage selection at the time their employment begins, i.e. decline coverage or elect single, parent-child, employee-spouse/civil union partner, or family coverage. Current eligible employees may make changes to their coverage at designated times called “open enrollments.” Employees are notified by campus e-mail when open enrollments are being conducted.

Employees contribute to the cost of their medical insurance through payroll deduction.
Employees are eligible to contribute their medical payroll deduction on a pre-tax basis subject to IRS regulations. The election may be done only during a designated “open enrollment” period.

Monmouth University offers a Medical Voluntary Financial Incentive Program (MVFIP) to those eligible employees who wish to decline their medical coverage completely or drop their eligible dependents. In order to enroll in the MVFIP, proof is required that the employee and dependents are covered by alternate medical insurance. New employees may enroll in the MVFIP following the completion of ninety (90) days of full-time continuous employment.
Current employees may enroll only during designated “open enrollment” periods. Monmouth University reserves the right to discontinue the MVFIP at its discretion. All faculty members electing to provide coverage to a spouse or dependent child, or waive coverage for a spouse or dependent child, must submit the appropriate marriage and/or birth certificates for the covered member.

Employees must advise the Office of Human Resources of the following personal changes:
mARRIAGE; divorce; birth; adoption; death of a spouse or dependent; changes in name or address (employee or dependent); change in dependency status (i.e., child no longer an IRS dependent and therefore is no longer eligible to participate in the tuition remission or exchange programs; child reaching the age of 23 and therefore is no longer eligible to participate in the University’s dental program; child reaching the age of 26 and therefore is no longer eligible to participate in the University’s medical program). Forms to notify changes may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.
For information on continuing medical coverage upon termination or upon reducing work hours to a part-time status, see COBRA section.

For information on continuing medical coverage for eligible dependents aging out of your plan, see DEPENDENT TO 31 COVERAGE section.

JURY DUTY

Regular full-time faculty who are required to be absent from the University for jury duty, or to appear as a result of a subpoena, in a court of law (except when the employee is a primary party to the legal action), will be granted time off with pay, provided the department chair and school dean are notified in advance and copies of the subpoena or jury duty notice are forwarded to the Office of Human Resources and to the Provost’s Office. Compensation received from the court will not be deducted from regular University salary.

LIFE INSURANCE/ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT

Monmouth University offers Group Life Insurance underwritten by CIGNA Life Insurance Company of America to all full-time employees.

The University will pay 75% of the premium for Group Life Insurance and Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance for each eligible full-time faculty member teaching at the University, in an amount equal to one and one-half times the faculty member’s base salary, reduced to the next lower multiple of $1,000. The foregoing coverage is summarized in a certificate available in the office of Human Resources. The option to purchase group life and accidental death and dismemberment insurance from 1.5 times the faculty member’s base salary to 3 times shall be made available to faculty members, provided that a sufficient number of faculty members participate as required by the provider. The premium on the additional insurance will be absorbed equally by the faculty member and the administration.

LONG TERM CARE INSURANCE PLAN

Monmouth University sponsors a voluntary Group Long-Term Care Insurance Plan for eligible active employees and their eligible family members through Genworth Life Insurance Company. If employees enroll within the first 30 days of employment they will be guaranteed acceptance into the program regardless of their health status. Enrollment after the first 30 days of employment and/or applications of eligible relatives will require evidence of insurability. Benefits approved for employees and spouses/domestic partners of employees will be payable through payroll deduction. Other eligible relatives enrolling in this benefit will be directly billed, or can enroll in automatic deduction from an approved bank account. Eligible relatives include parents, parents-in-law, grandparents, grandparents-in-law, as well as step parents and step parent-in-law.

Please contact the Office of Human Resources for an information packet which includes benefit options, rates and applications for enrollment.

MATERNITY LEAVE

Please refer to the Faculty-Maternity Leave Policy issued April 2, 2008 and updated October 30, 2009 for the policies and procedures governing maternity leaves for full-time faculty members. This policy is listed in the FAMCO collective Bargaining agreement as Appendix VI.

MILITARY LEAVE

In times of peace, faculty who are called to active duty in the National Guard or a Reserve unit during a time when they would normally be teaching are allowed two (2) weeks for military service. Such faculty will be paid the difference between the base salary and the service pay for the two week period.

In times of war, full-time faculty members who are called up for military duty will be compensated @ 80% of the faculty base salary (i.e., the University will pay the difference between the military salary and 80% of base). Both Life Insurance and LTD Benefits do not continue while an employee is serving on Military Duty. This is policy requirement, not a University decision. The full-time position will be available until the faculty member completes their military service requirement.

Faculty are required to notify the department chair, school dean, and the Office of Human Resources in writing as soon as they receive government notification.

Copies of the formal notification must be forwarded to the Director of Human Resources in the Office of Human Resources and the Provost’s Office.

The University will comply with the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA).

NEW JERSEY FAMILY LEAVE INSURANCE

New Jersey Family Leave Insurance provides a monetary benefit in the form of wage replacement for up to six (6) consecutive weeks, intermittent weeks or 42 intermittent days during a twelve (12) month period beginning with the first date of the claim. This is not a leave entitlement and does not provide job-protected leave unless being used with either the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) or the New Jersey Family Leave Act (NJFLA). The benefit is paid by the State of New Jersey and is based on you average weekly wage in the eight weeks immediately preceding your claim. The current benefit rate is two-thirds of your average weekly wage capped at $595 (2014 calendar year cap).

Income Replacement may be approved for the following reasons:

- Bonding with a newborn child during the first twelve (12) months after the child’s birth
- Bonding with an adopted child during the first twelve (12) months after the child’s placement
- Care for a family member (child*, spouse, parent or domestic/civil union partner) with a serious health condition

*child means biological, adopted or foster child, stepchild, legal ward, domestic or civil union partner’s child

NEW JERSEY SAFE ACT

The New Jersey Security and Financial Empowerment Act (NJ SAFE ACT) provides that certain employees are eligible to receive an unpaid leave of absence, for a period not to exceed twenty (20) days in a twelve (12) month period, to address circumstances resulting from a domestic violence or a sexually violent offence. To be eligible the employee must have worked at least 1,000 hours during the immediately preceding twelve (12) month period. Leave may be taken by an employee who is a victim of domestic violence or a victim of a sexually violent offence. Leave may also be taken by an employee whose child, parent, spouse, domestic or civil union partner is a victim of these offenses.

Leave under the NJ SAFE ACT may be taken for the purpose of seeking medical attention, recovering from the physical or psychological injuries, obtaining services from a victim services organization, obtaining psychological counseling or participating in safety planning for the purposes of temporarily or permanently relocating.

NEW JERSEY UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Monmouth University participates in the New Jersey State Unemployment Insurance Program. Further information can be obtained from the New Jersey Unemployment Office. University employees participate in the Federal Social Security Program through payroll deductions. Any benefits accruing under this program are separate, and in addition to, those received through other benefit plans at the University.

PRESCRIPTIONS

The Prescription Drug Plan is provided through the University’s medical care provider, Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield of New Jersey. In order to utilize the Prescription Drug Plan you must be enrolled in the University’s medical program. The Prescription Drug Plan is administered by Prime Therapeutics. All prescriptions must be filled at a participating pharmacy. You also have the resources to order prescriptions through the mail at a discounted co-pay amount. There are applicable co-pays for each prescription requested. Further information regarding the Prescription Drug Plan may be obtained in the Office of Human Resources.

RETIREDMENT

In order to meet the future needs of employees, the University has established contributory retirement programs with Teacher’s Insurance and Annuity Association/College Retirement Equities Fund (TIAA/CREF).

The appropriate application and salary reductions forms must be completed by the faculty member in order to participate. Booklets and details regarding enrollment may be obtained from the Office of Human Resources.

Faculty may contribute on a voluntary basis immediately upon hire. Faculty members are eligible for the Monmouth contribution on the 1st of the month following two years of full-time service with Monmouth University. Eligible service with an institute of higher education in which the faculty member terminated in the past 12 months will be applied towards this waiting period. The faculty member must complete the appropriate form with the Office of Human Resources in order to receive such credit of waiting period and the Monmouth contribution will begin upon verification of eligible service and the faculty member’s completion of a Salary Reduction Agreement electing to contribute at least 5% of their eligible salary.

Contributions to the retirement program will be calculated on a bi-weekly basis corresponding with the University’s regular payroll cycle. In order to be eligible for the Monmouth University contribution of eight (8) percent of the faculty member’s eligible salary, the faculty member must contribute at least five (5) percent of his/her salary to the chosen retirement fund. Employees may elect to contribute more than five (5) percent of their salary, but must ensure such contributions are not in excess of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 415 or Section 402(g). Employees may also elect to contribute less than five (5) percent of their salary, but will not be eligible for the Monmouth contribution during any period in which they have elected to contribute less than five (5) percent.

The retirement plan is subject to the provisions of Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, and may be amended from time to time in accordance with these guidelines. It should be noted that the Tax Reform Act of 1986 established specific conditions regarding withdrawals from a 403(b) plan. It is suggested that you consult with your accountant regarding these conditions. The Office of Human Resources is knowledgeable of the guidelines, but cannot offer advice or counseling.
TRAVEL ACCIDENT PLAN

Employees are enrolled in the Travel Accident Plan for life insurance at the time of employment, provided they complete the appropriate application in the Office of Human Resources. This plan covers employees while traveling on authorized University business away from the premises of the institution, excluding travel between the University and home in accordance with the provisions of the policy. $200,000.00 of insurance is provided under the schedule of the plan. The entire cost of the plan is borne by the University. Further information may be obtained from the Office of Human Resources.

TUITION EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Monmouth University offers two (2) tuition exchange programs in which eligible employees may apply. The Tuition Exchange Inc., (TE) is a non-profit association of colleges and universities that participate in a reciprocal scholarship program. The Council of Independent Colleges Tuition Exchange Program (CIC-TEP) is an association of independent colleges and universities willing to accept, tuition free, students from families of full time employees of other CIC-TEP institutions.

Full-time employees who have completed seven (7) years of full-time continuous service at Monmouth University may apply to participate through the Tuition Exchange (TE) for their dependent children (as defined by the IRS). Full-time employees who have completed four (4) years of full-time continuous service at Monmouth University may apply to participate through The Council of Independent Colleges for their dependent children (as defined by the IRS). The University cannot guarantee participation in the TE program as the number of export spots available each year may be limited. However, all eligible applicants may participate in the CIC program. The choice of applicants permitted to participate in the TE program will be by lottery of all eligible applications received by September 30th of the year prior to anticipate enrollment at any hosting institution.

The TE program is based on an import/export exchange. In order for Monmouth to send our employees’ dependents to participating colleges and universities, we must maintain an equal balance of imports and exports. Each fall, the TE administration calculates each institutions’ balance, and determines if that institution is in ‘good standing’, ‘on alert’, or ‘on restriction’. Years in which Monmouth University is determined to be on alert will require the Tuition Exchange Liaison Officer (the Senior Benefits Administrator) to limit scholarship applications in this program. Years in which Monmouth University is on restriction will require the Tuition Exchange Liaison Officer to freeze all applications in the program until the balance is in good alignment. Monmouth University reserves the right each year to limit the number of applicants in the program, if the number of applications would result in a future imbalance placing the University on alert or on restricted status.
The CIC-TEP program allows participating institutions to export eligible students without limit, as long as the institution agrees to import at least three new students each year on the same admissions basis as they accept all other students.

While an employee may be eligible to apply for a Tuition Exchange scholarship award through either or both of these programs, it is up to the hosting institution to make the decision of granting a scholarship award to an applicant, therefore, there is no guarantee of any scholarships on the part of Monmouth University. All applicants are required to be admitted to the school in compliance with their normal admissions requirements. The applicants will then be subject to the scholarship determination process established by each institution to which they have applied and been accepted. Each institution has its own guidelines for determining the number of scholarship awards it provides annually, and to whom those awards will be provided. Therefore, the University cannot guarantee placement of any employee’s dependent under either program.

Specific guidelines are available in the Office of Human Resources. You may also obtain more information and/or view a listing of participating institutions by visiting the website for either program (TE program: www.tuitionexchange.org; CIC program: www.cic.edu).

TUITION REMISSION

Full-time faculty members, their spouses, and dependent children are eligible for tuition remission at Monmouth University following three (3) years of full-time employment with the University provided they meet the University admission requirement. Full-time faculty members hired prior to July 1, 2013, their spouses, and dependent children are eligible for tuition remission at Monmouth University upon employment with the University provided they meet the University admission requirement. Tuition remission applies to both undergraduate and graduate courses. Dependent children are those children reported as dependents on the most recent IRS Tax Return. Any tax resulting from utilization of this benefit is the responsibility of the employee. Proof of dependency may be required.

All employees and/or dependents enrolling for a total of six (6) credits or more are required to complete Financial Aid Forms, which are available in the Financial Aid Office. Any New Jersey State and/or Federal awards and/or scholarships obtained must be used to defray the expense to the institution.

WORKER’S COMPENSATION

Employees who are injured in the course of employment or who contract an occupational disease, as defined by law, may receive reimbursement for medical expenses incurred, and lost wages, provided they have completed all the appropriate forms in a timely fashion. Employees are required to notify their supervisor of an injury or illness as soon as possible, as well as the Health Center or the Office of Human Resources. Eligibility is determined by the worker’s compensation insurance carrier.

If fewer than eight workdays are missed as a result of a worker's compensation injury, the time missed is not compensated by the insurance carrier. The insurance will be retroactive to the day immediately after the injury occurred for absences in excess of seven days.

Employees requiring non-emergency medical treatment must contact the Office of Human Resources to obtain the name of a physician(s) to whom they may report for treatment. Employees who treat with a doctor who was not approved by the Office of Human Resources or the insurance carrier will forfeit payment of incurred expenses.

Before an employee returns to normal job duties, a release from the attending physician must be presented to the Office of Human Resources. An employee is expected to report to work on the date specified in the physician's release.
