GENERAL FORMAT:

- References appear at the end of your paper in continuous pagination.
- The title References is in plain text, neither bolded nor italicized, and is centered 1” from the top of the page.
- Entries are arranged alphabetically.
- APA style prefers titles of the source material to be italicized.
- The entire page is double-spaced, including the entries and the title.
- The first line of a citation is flush with the left margin; subsequent lines are indented 1/2”.
- Format for author is as follows: Last name, First initial and Middle initial.
- Abbreviations: Editor(s) = Ed. or Eds. Page Number(s) = p. (pp.) Edition = ed.
- Use the abbreviations p. or pp. when citing books and newspapers. Omit for all other publications.
- Note that titles in APA format may be in sentence case where you capitalize only the first word and proper nouns in the title, or in title case where all words except articles are capitalized.

References

Print Sources

A book with one author (7.02):
Author’s last name, initials. (Year). Title. City: Publisher.

A book with two to seven authors (7.02):
Author 1, & Author 2. (Year). Title. City: Publisher.

An article or chapter in an edited book, first edition (7.02):
Author(s). (Year). Title of work. In Editor(s) (Ed.), Book title (pp. page numbers). City: Publisher.

An article or chapter in an edited book, second or subsequent edition (7.02):
Author(s). (Year). Title of work. In Editor(s) (Ed.), Book title (edition number ed., pp. page numbers). City: Publisher.

An article in a reference book (7.02):

A book with no author (7.02):
Title (edition if provided). (Year). City: Publisher.

A journal article (7.01):
Author. (Year). Article title. Journal Title, Volume number ( Issue number), page number(s).

A newspaper article (7.01):
Author. (Year, Date). Article title. Newspaper Title, pp. page number(s).

A magazine article (7.01):
Author. (Year, Date). Article title. Magazine Title, Volume, page number(s).

A Web site with an author or authoring organization (6.31):
Author or authoring organization. (Year, Date). Title of Page. Title of site. Retrieved from URL

Note: Sometimes, the authoring organization of the Web site is the same as the title of the Web site, as in the following example:

A Web site with no author (6.31):
Title of Page. (Year, Date). Title of site. Retrieved from URL

A government document from a Web site (7.03):
Authoring agency or creator of document. (Year, Date). Title of site. Retrieved from URL

A blog post/blog comment(7.11):
Author. (Year, Date). Title of post [Web log post]. Retrieved from URL

Note: In some cases a screen name is used for the author name. The author has adopted a nickname, or screen name, to use when posting to this blog. A blog comment with an author who has used a screen name would be referenced as follows:

Author. (Year, Date). Title of comment [Web log comment]. Retrieved from URL

Note: A DOI number is an alphanumeric string assigned by a registration agency to scholarly papers to identify content and provide a persistent link to its location on the Internet, even if the original site has been moved or deleted. DOI numbers are usually located at the top of the article along with the copyright information. If a DOI number is available for a journal article, include the DOI instead of the URL (Web address) in the citation.

Note: Give the URL of the home page when the online version is available by search to avoid nonworking URLs.

Last modified 9/25/14